Be Modern
In Light Demand The Best

Candles were once the best, to be superseded by other methods of lighting, which, in time, have been, to a great extent, displaced by the modern illuminant.

ELECTRICITY

Wound Clock too Tightly

The old adage that time will wait for no one was proven Wednesday when Alfred A. Agate met with a most peculiar accident while winding his parlor clock at his home, 9A Morse street.

Mr. Agate wound the family time-piece too tightly and suddenly the main spring flew out. Some 20 feet of the spring uncoiled in a fraction of a second severely cutting several fingers of Mr. Agate's right hand.

New Pastor

The council called for the installation of the Rev. H. Grant Person as pastor of Eliot Congregational church, Newton, met in the main auditorium Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. Dr. Charles H. Daniels of South Framingham opened the meeting and Rev. Edward McArthur Noyes of Newton Centre was chosen moderator. Rev. Henry E. Oxnard of Nonantum acted as scribe. The business session was carried through satisfactorily and was followed by a supper. There was a large attendance at the installation service which was held at 7 o'clock and were most impressive.

After several organ selections by Mr. Everett F. Truette and the readings of the minutes of the council by Rev. Henry E. Oxnard, Rev. Frank L. Luce gave a Scripture reading. The sermon was preached by Rev. Dr. George A. Gordon, and Rev. Dr. Hugh J. Patrick followed with the installing prayer. The charge to the pastor was made by Rev. John H. Denison, and Rev. Dr. Reuben Thomas followed with the charge to the people.

After the singing of the anthem "St. Paul," Rev. Edward M. Noyes, pastor of the First Congregational church, Newton Centre, extended to Rev. Mr. Person the right hand of fellowship. The welcome from other denominations was by Rev. Dr. George S. Butters, pastor of the Newton Methodist church. Prayer by Rev. Franklin S. Hatch and benediction closed the formal program.

Rev. Mr. Person comes to this city from the First Presbyterian church at Seneca Falls, N. Y. Since the death of Rev. William H. Davis about two years ago Eliot church has been without a regular pastor. Rev. Franklin S. Hatch has been acting pastor.

Rev. H. Grant Person was born in Saratoga county, N. Y., Sept. 17, 1866, of New England stock. He received his early education from his mother, who was a teacher in a private school for many years. He prepared for college at Poughkeepsie academy, Poughkeepsie, N. Y. He was graduated from Williams college in 1891 as class orator, and from the Auburn theological seminary at Auburn, N. Y., in 1894.

His first pastorate was of the Presbyterian church at Chittenango, N. Y., where he went immediately after leaving the Auburn theological seminary. In 1898 he accepted a call to the First Presbyterian church at Seneca Falls, where he remained up to the present time.

He will reside in the Breck house on Bellevue street.

About Town

Speaker Cole has appointed Representative Lodrop on the Metropolitan Affairs Committee, Representative Garcelon on the important Ways and Means Committee and Representative Bishop on the Judiciary Committee.

Many washouts were reported to the highway department Tuesday morning as a result of Monday's rain storm, which was the hardest one that has visited this city in several months.

The water in the Charles river rose two inches during the night. Many of the small streams in different parts of the city overflowed with considerable damage, and many cellars were flooded.

Mr. Daniel S. Emery of Waverley avenue received the felicitations of his business associates Tuesday, the occasion being the 50th anniversary of his entry into the ship brokerage business in Boston. Mr. Emery is the senior member of the firm of John S. Emery & Co. of State street, one of the largest individual owners of sailing vessels in New England. His office was crowded with friends all day and many beautiful floral tributes came from distant points, attesting his popularity throughout New England.

Mrs. Albert F. Hayward, Regent of Sarah Hull chapter, Daughters of the Revolution, gave a brilliant reception to the members of the chapter, state officers and the regents of other chapters at Highlands, Tuesday, from three to five. Mrs. Adeline F. Fitz, regent of the state, Mrs. Alexander M. Ferris, honorary regent, Mrs. Francis E. Stanley and Mrs. Frank T. Benner, former regents of the chapter, assisted Mrs. Hayward in receiving. Mrs. William T. Logan and Mrs. Geo. B. King superintended the young ladies who served in the dining room and acted as ushers. The Mendelssohn trio of Chelsea furnished music. All the rooms were beautifully decorated. The dining room was rendered particularly attractive by the exquisite table decorations. The occasion was most delightful and the New Year's reception of 1907 will be long remembered by all present.

RECENT DEATHS

Mrs. Ida E. Bangs, wife of A. W. Bangs, a member of the firm of the American Woolen Company, died early Wednesday morning at her home in Newton hospital, where she had been an inmate for some time. She was forty-nine years of age and had been an invalid for more than a year.

Miss Caroline R. Page passed away at the residence of Mr. Wesley W. Blair on Otis street, Newtonville, last Friday. She was 69 years of age and was born in Kingsbury, Maine. Funeral services were held from the house Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. Albert Hamman, pastor of the Universalist church, officiating, and the burial was in Forest Grove cemetery, Augusta, Maine, on Monday.

Samuel G. Parker, for many years resident of Newton Lower Falls, Saturday night at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Charles W. Hall, Washington street. He was 67 years old and a native of New Hampshire. Funeral services will be held at his late home at Concord, N. H., on Monday.

Newton Club.

The children's party last Saturday afternoon was a huge success if numbers and enthusiasm count for anything. Over a hundred children and nearly that number of grown up enjoyed the magic wrought by the skilful hands of Mr. Harold Osborn, followed by dancing and refreshments. The affair was in charge of Mrs. Albert P. Carter and Mrs. Hubert L. Carter.

Mr. George P. Bullard gave a dinner party to his business associates last Tuesday night.

Last evening Miss Fenno of Walnut street gave a small card party to a score of friends.

The January calendar was sent out this week and includes the following attractions:

Saturday, Jan. 5, Gentlemen's Whist.

Wednesday, Jan. 9, Ladies' Matinee Whist.

Thursday, Jan. 10, Concert, Harvard Glee, Mandoline and Banjo clubs.

Saturday, Jan. 12, Home night Bowling prizes.

Tuesday, Jan. 15, Ladies' Whist.

Saturday, Jan. 19, Home night, Bowling prizes.

Saturday, Jan. 26, Congressional Dinner.

The program which Mr. John Hermann Loud will present at his fourteenth free organ recital in First Baptist church, Newton Centre, Monday evening will be one of great beauty and brilliancy.

A presence upon the program of Widor's great Toccata from his Fifth Symphony lends the brilliant side of the recital, while Mendelssohn's Prelude in G and Rheinberger's Sonata, Opus 193, furnishes the beautiful portion.

Mr. Charles Horace Clark, bass soloist at First Universalist church, Lynn, will assist at the recital. He is the possessor of a voice of unusually clear and well-rounded tones.

I. Prelude and Fugue in G, Opus 37 Mendelssohn

II. Andante con moto in G minor Boely

III. Aria: "O God, Have Mercy" Mendelssohn

(from "St. Paul")

Mr. Charles Horace Clark.

IV. Sonata, No. 19 Rheinberger (3 movements)

V. Solo: "Where lonesome pine trees rustle" (from "Rose Maiden") Cowen

VI. Toccata from 5th Symphony Widor

Police Paragraphs

Because a complaint against Mrs. Ethel Striberg, wife of Philip Striberg, a Nonantum junk dealer, in which she was charged with illegal sale of liquor, did not give the exact date of the alleged offence, Judge Kennedy ruled in the police court Saturday morning that she could not be held.

Axel P. Larson, a blacksmith, testified that he asked for whiskey at the Striberg house about two months ago and offered to pay. He said that Mrs. Striberg refused to take any money and he left a quarter on the table.

The complainant alleged the offence occurred "on or about Nov. 1."

Brae Burn Carnival

Two fast hockey games, dinner in the magnificent clubhouse and skating on the artificial pond were features of the second ice carnival of the winter held Saturday afternoon and evening at the Brae Burn country club.

The hockey games were played during the late afternoon, Dartmouth winning from Boylston A. A., 3 to 2, and Brae Burn defeating the Crescents, 2 to 1.

From 6 to 8 dinner was served in the clubhouse to a large number of members.

To the strains of music by the Brookline band several hundred well known residents of this city, Brookline and Boston, including a large delegation from the Country club, glided over the ice on the artificial pond to the westward of the clubhouse, from 8 to 11.

Here the ice was in excellent condition despite the warm weather. During the afternoon skaters had been kept off the main portion of the pond and the surface was carefully scraped with the result that the ice was in prime condition for the evening's program.

Hundreds of colored electric lights and lanterns hung about the banks of the pond and strung in fantastic designs above the heads of the skaters made the scene strikingly picturesque.

The curling rink, one of the newest experiments of the Brae Burn country club, was inspected with much interest by many of the visitors. The rink has been pronounced by prominent curlers as one of the best in the country. The new rink is 150 feet long and 35 feet wide, being built upon a raised platform. It is the only rink of the kind in the country and was built as an experiment.

The foundation is of oak posts extending below the frozen line, with cross timbers 3x4 inches in size. The planking upon these timbers is two inches thick, and no attempt was made to dovetail them together or to make them tight. Upon these were spread 14 cords of sawdust, which covered the planks about four inches thick. This was wet down and permitted to freeze. The rink was then flooded, with the result that a perfectly level surface has been obtained with about three inches of ice over the sawdust. The rink will probably be roofed over later as a protection against the snow. The toboggan chute also came in for much favorable comment.

When the crowd was at its height a huge bonfire was lighted on the westerly bank and this was kept burning until the last skaters departed.

The first of the hockey games in the afternoon was played between Dartmouth and the Boylston A. A. The Hanover, N. H., players were scheduled to meet Technology, but as all the institute players were unable to appear a team comprising half a score of college players was organized. Dartmouth was the victor, 3 to 2. The contest was very fast, both aggregations putting up an excellent exhibition of all round team work. Gould and Foote excelled, the latter making all the goals for Dartmouth. Gould, Boylston's clever coverman, sustained an injury to his nose and was replaced by Pierce, the Newton player. An overtime period of five minutes was required the score standing 2 to 2 at the end of the second 20-minute period.

Brae Burn then defeated the Crescents in the fastest matches seen here

this winter, 2 to 1. In the first period neither team scored. With the opening of the second period Foster and A. Goodridge each scored a goal. "Pop" Foster of the Brae Burn team then carried the puck down more than half the length of the rink but unfortunately fell in the mixup which followed Percy Gilbert, the well known golf player, proved himself clever at hockey as well by caging the puck, winning the contest for the home team.

A New Year's party held at the Newton armory Monday evening by Clavin guard, Co. C, 5th regt. M. V. M., was well attended, despite the storm. The floor was in charge of Capt. George F. Guilford, assisted by 1st Lieut. George H. Daniels and 2nd Lieut. George S. Coulter. The decorations in the armory were of strikingly artistic. The committee of arrangements consisted of Sergt. William W. Love, Corp. Edward Wemmouth, private John Semmitt, private James Wallace and Thomas McPhie.

A boy sucked his thumb for 11 years and was then cured by Hand-I-Hold Babe Mints. If your child has the habit don't wait so long, for altho the Mints will cure at any age, they cannot restore the disfigured mouth, teeth and fingers. Ask your doctor about the Hand-I-Hold method of treating skin disease, and bad habits of the hands. For sale at druggists.

Crosby's Restaurant, 19 School street, Boston, is a good place to dine at.

Street Railway Notes

The Boston and Worcester St. Ry. Co. have issued the following order to go into effect January 1st, 1907.

"Dogs will not be allowed on the cars of the Boston and Worcester Street Railway Company after December 31st, 1906. In view of the increasing number of dogs affected by rabies, the Company feels that a due regard for the safety of the public requires this regulation."

It has been suggested by certain scholars, using the new scholars tickets in effect on local street railways that it would be much more convenient for them if the tickets were slightly smaller, thereby enabling them to more conveniently place them in their pocket-books and card cases.

As a result of this having been called to the attention of the Management of the Railway assurances have been given that as soon as the tickets now in stock have been used and new ones are required, an effort will be made upon the part of the management to make the tickets of such a size as to be more convenient for use by the scholars.

No trouble of this kind was anticipated at the time the tickets were printed and the management state that they are only too glad to do anything they consistently can to make the tickets more convenient for use.

There was slight popular interest in the petitions on the matter of free transfers in Newton held by the railroad commissioners at their Boston office last Monday morning. Those present included President Powers and Director Hammett of the Street Railway Company, City Solicitor Slocum of Newton, Mr. B. P. Gray, Henry Haynie, Chas. F. Avery, Samuel Tarplin and Geo. H. Adams.

President Powers on the petition of the Company for extension of the order of the commission relieving them from the necessity for issuing free transfers, stated that the Company intended to issue free transfers at Newtonville square on January first, except to cars on the Crafts street line. He therefore asked the commission to extend its order simply to cover this line and the transfer point at Commonwealth avenue and Walnut street. These two points Mr. Powers stated the Company desired further time to consider and if 30 days extension would be granted an amicable arrangement might be possible.

City Solicitor Slocum stated in behalf of the city that he would not oppose such a request.

Mr. Tarplin, however, was not satisfied, and asked the commission to order transfers to be issued at Commonwealth avenue, temporarily if thought best, but still to be issued. Chairman Jackson in reply said it was the universal custom whenever a temporary arrangement was made, to continue the former status if possible.

Mr. Gray for the Newton Centre committee said that they had met the street railway officials and it is evident that time is needed to work out a change of schedules and 30 days would be agreeable to his committee. It was possible within that time to narrow the issue down to one or two points and it might not be necessary to trouble the commission again.

Chairman Jackson said that the commission did not intend to embarrass any negotiations which might be in progress and President Powers gave notice that the Company would consider any point which citizens desired to bring before the directors. While he would not promise to make everyone happy, still, the Company would do its best to serve the entire community.

Mr. Haynie and Mr. Avery told the commission that they would take up the matter of transfers on the Crafts street line with the company before going any further.

Architect, decorator, electrician and woodworker have been industriously at work lately in adding another, a fourth office, to the suite of richly-furnished offices at Burdett College of Business and Shorthand, 18 Boylston St., Boston. The "Office Appliance Practice Room" just completed, is equipped with the modern appliances, including business firms and banking houses used to facilitate their office work. Among these furnishings are the Multigraph, Burroughs Adding Machine, Elliott-Fisher Billing Machine, Tabulating Machines, Vertical Files, Card Indexes, Protograph, Numbering Stamps, and other office devices, a knowledge of which is essential for young men and women who are preparing for business life. It is probable that no school from the Atlantic to the Pacific has such a suite of elegantly-appointed offices as Burdett College. No effort is left unmade to maintain the leadership which this institution has won among the business colleges of New England by its ceaseless efforts to be the best school possible.

THEATRES

Keith's Theatre. — Houdini, "The Handcuff King", who mystified so many thousands of people during his phenomenal engagement at Keith's last season, will return to Boston next Monday for a limited engagement. The sensation caused by some of his achievements last winter will readily be recalled. He has been living up to his reputation ever since. Only recently while in Detroit, he jumped into the river heavily shackled and when he came to the surface he had freed himself from all the handcuffs and chains that had held him. He will do a number of new feats during his stay at the Keith house in Boston. Providence the only other city in New England in which he will appear this season. Another very attractive feature will be the presentation of a sketch by George Ade, "Marse Covington" by E. J. Connelly and company. Mr. Connelly has a great reputation as a character actor and only recently resigned from the company at Weber's Music Hall, New York, to go into vaudeville. Katie Barr, the clever English comedienne; the Hazardous Globe, the most sensational of all the cycle sensations; Clifford and Burke, two very proficient blackface comedians and dancers; the Regresses, in a droll mixture of juggling and jests; Eleanor Dorel, a beautiful vocalist; Kingsley and Lewis in a breezy sketch; and Arthur Whitelaw, a witty Celtic humorist, will all be among the feature acts. Delphino and Delmora in musical drolleries; Les Larose in a fine wire act; Jack and Bertha Rich, singers and dancers; Flemen and Miller, skitists; Sousa and Sloan, in a mixture of magic and mirth, and the Kinetograph will complete the program.

Tremont Theatre.—No theatrical attraction ever seen on the road before has been so replete with novelties as is Lew Dockstader's Minstrels, which will be seen at the Tremont Theatre on Monday. The production alone cost $25,000 and the new features which have been discovered from time to time during the past season have all been worked out and are models of interesting departures from the conventional. Mr. Dockstader will be seen this season as the editor of the "Corker" in which role he has abundant opportunity to call to his aid those bits of local interest that have made him the most wonderful minstrel man extant. Neil O'Brien, one of the greatest minstrel favorites in the world, has woven together a string of original nonsense that is side-splitting, and his act is funnier than ever. He appears as the conductor in what he calls "Rapid Transit No. 2," which has for its main idea his street car act of some seasons ago. The sketch, however, has been so changed and amplified that it presents an entirely different appearance and contains twice as many laughs as it did before. Eddie Leonard, one of the best known of Southern singers and grotesque dancers, is another new acquisition of the Dockstader company. The singing contingent is headed by Manual Romain and Reese V. Prosser. Harry H. Morse is interlocutor and stage manager. Some of the other vocalists are Newton See, Gra F. Weller, Wilson Miller, Eddie Mumford, besides a large band of other harmonists. The dancing is under the able direction of Tommy Hyde, who has devised some of the most interesting steps and stage pictures that it has even been Mr. Dockstader's good fortune to present. John Dove and John King also contribute to the comedy of the show which, by the way, has been one of the chief aims.

Park Theatre.—Miss Lulu Glaser will make her first appearance in Klaw and Erlanger's production of Sydney Rosenfeld's new comedy called "The Aero Club", at the Park Theatre, Boston, on Monday evening, January 7th, for two weeks. Mr. Rosenfeld took up a timely subject in his musical play, "The Vanderbilt Cup", and in his latest work, which deals with the fad of ballooning he has kept pace with the step of popular interest in extraordinary things and has produced a play which, it is predicted, will attract a great deal of public attention. Klaw and Erlanger will give the piece their usual elaborate production and have surrounded Miss Glaser with a large company headed by such well-known players as Fritz Williams, Orme Caldera, James Bradbury, Frank E. Lamb, William Herbert, Edmund Lawrence, Sam Coit, Harry Odlin, William Sampson, John F. Ward, Olive Wyndham, Marion Abbott, Ada Gilman, Anna Johnson and Mrs. Annie Yeamans.

Whitcomb-Hubbard

Miss E. Florence Hubbard, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Hubbard of Newton was married last Monday night at the Newton Methodist church to Mr. William Henry Whitcomb, a college instructor of Oxford, O. The church, which was prettily decorated for the occasion with evergreen and holly, was filled with many friends of the bride, who is a graduate of Wheaton Seminary. The ceremony took place at 8 o'clock, with Rev. Dr. Geo. S. Butters, pastor of the church and Rev. T. W. Bishop of Auburndale, who married the bride's father and mother, officiating. The bride was gown in white messaline with Irish point lace cut empire and carried a shower bouquet of hyacinths. She was escorted to the altar by the strains of the wedding march by the Boston Philharmonic Orchestra and given away by her father. The maid of honor, Miss Elsie Whittier of Cambridge, wore white lace over pink and carried pink carnations, while the bridesmaids, Miss Ruth A. Whitcomb of Boston and Miss Alice M. Darling of Somerville, gown in pink silk mulle, carried bouquets of white carnations. A pretty feature of the wedding were the flower children, Grace and Miles Hubbard of Watertown and the ring bearers, the McManus twins of Concord, Dr. C. R. Chedel of Hanover, N. H., was the best man and Mr. Charles Field 3rd of Chestnut Hill, Mr. Charles F. Sammer of Jamaica Plain, Mr. Frederick T. Wort of Boston and Master G. Whitney Hubbard of Newton were the ushers.

A reception followed at the Hubbard residence 8 Hollis street, Mr. and Mrs. Whitcomb will reside at Oxford, O. where they will be at home after March first.

Y. M. C. A.

Forty-five young athletes of the Newton Y. M. C. A. competed in eight events held in the first annual post-Christmas meet held in the association's gymnasium Saturday.

The events included 120-yard, 150-yard, 300-yard, 600-yard, and 1-mile runs, a 100-yard potato race, running broad jump and running high jump. Principally the younger members of the association took part. The events were hotly contested and good time was made in all the races.

One of the most interesting events was the 1-mile run, won by W. Cady, who had a handicap of 30 yards, in 5m 40s. H. Moore, handicapped 75 yards was second, and Nate, with a handicap of 50 yards finished third. The summaries of the other events were as follows:

20-yard dash—Won by Walter Moore; John Hines second, W. Dunn third; time 2 4-5s.

150-yard dash—Won by W. Moore. W. Barrows second, C. Black third; time 1m 4-5s.

300-yard dash—Won by H. Turner. W. Dunn second, W. Cady third; time 42s.

600-yard run—Won by H. Turner, D. Mahoney second, M. Cobb third; time 1m 35s.

100-yard potato race—Won by W. Barrows, R. Reid second, E. Smith third; time 27s.

Running broad jump—Won by John Hines, C. Black second, W. Barrows third; distance, 18 ft 1-4 in.

Running high jump—Won by C. Black, H. Turner second, W. Dunn third; distance, 5 ft 2 in.

C. W. Hamilton, the boy evangelist of Andover academy, was the referee. "Rip" Porter and John Burrage of the Newton high school were timers. H. Decker clerk of the course and L. F. LaRose, physical director, starter. The judges were J. Sutherland, L. Smith, G. Bowden, M. Ward and R. Keefe.

It is planned to hold similar meets for the younger members immediately after Christmas each year hereafter.

Died Alone

Found in his barber shop where he lived alone with life slowly ebbing away was the fate of David E. Belleau, aged about 40 years, of Newton Upper Falls Saturday. While a doctor was hurrying to his aid Belleau died.

For several days Belleau had complained of having a bad cold and had telephoned to Boston for another barber to come out and run his shop until he recovered.

When the barber arrived Saturday noon he found the door of the shop locked. He became suspicious and notified patrolman John H. Shaughnessy, whose home is 966 Chestnut street in the same village.

Patrolman Shaughnessy secured a bunch of keys and among them was one which opened the door of the little shop. Lying on his cot in the back room was Belleau, barely alive.

Everything possible was done to restore the man after a hurry call had been sent for a doctor. All efforts were unavailing and before the physician arrived the man expired. Medical Examiner West viewed the body and pronounced the death due to natural causes.

Belleau came to Newton Upper Falls two years ago last October from Canada and opened a barber shop at 342 Elliot street in the heart of the business district of the Upper Falls. For a time he made his home at the Echo bridge hotel, but a number of months ago he fitted up a bed room in the rear of his shop. Since that time he had lived alone in the place.

High School Notes

The young women of the Newton high school alumnae association won from the Newton high girls' basket-ball team, 22 to 9, in the high school drill ball last Saturday. While the young women of the alumnae association showed superior individual work the girls' team put up an admirable exhibition of team work.

CAMBRIDGE AND WALTHAM

Coleman--Cunningham

The wedding of Miss Margaret L. Cunningham of Waltham and Mr. William Coleman of Emerson street, Newton, took place Sunday at St. Mary's church, Waltham. In the presence of immediate friends and relatives the ceremony was performed by Rev. Fr. Bresnahan. Because of a recent death in the bride's family the wedding was a very quiet affair.

The bride was attended by Miss Annie O'Neil of Cambridge as maid of honor. The best man was Mr. John Fay of Newton.

After a wedding trip which will include a visit to Montreal Mr. and Mrs. Coleman will make their home at 15 Emerson street, Newton.

Free Transfers

The new administration of the Newton Street Railway Company has hardly been in power a month before it shows
in a practical way its desire to placate
the public upon whom it must depend for its business. The granting of free transfers on all east and west bound cars in Newtonville square began on New Year's day and is in full operation except on the Crafts street line. The Company also has temporary permission from the railroad Commission to refrain from issuing transfers at Commonwealth avenue and Walnut streets,
but this and the Crafts street matter
will be considered by the management with citizens who are interested at those points.

On the Lake street line running thro' Newton Centre a novel method of issuing transfers was adopted. The conductors on this line are supplied with clock like affairs attached to their coats.
To secure a transfer it is necessary to drop a nickel in to the "clock," turn an indicator and then a miniature transfer drops out. These "clocks" excited much curiosity. They are being tried as an experiment and will not be adopted on all lines here at present.

Old Resident Dead

Mr. Elijah W. Wood, one of the oldest and best known residents of West Newton, died last Monday morning after a long period of failing health, aged 80 years. Mr. Wood was born in Upton, Mass., in 1826 and was educated in that town. He entered the wholesale millinery business in Boston as a young man and a few years later removed to West Newton where he engaged in business as a florist. He retired some years ago,
the business being continued by his sons.

Mr. Wood was an authority on agricultural matters and a prominent member of the Massachusetts Horticultural Society, serving as chairman of the fruit committee for many years. He was the first delegate from this Society to the State Board of Agriculture, serving for fourteen years from 1885 to 1899
and was a most valuable member of that body. He served as second vice president, chairman of its executive committee and as chairman of the gypsy moth committee. In 1887 he was appointed by the Governor as a trustee of the State Agricultural College at Amherst
and served for 17 years, retiring in 1904,
having a prominent place in the horticultural department of the college.

In politics a generation ago, Mr. Wood was well known. He served as alderman
from ward 3 in 1877, 1878 and in 1883;
as a member of the school committee in 1874, 1875, 1876 and 1877 holding office
in both the aldermen and school board during the war. He was re-elected to the school board in 1879 and served until he resigned Jan. 3, 1883. In 1885 1886 and 1887 he was a representative to the General Court and was an unsuccessful candidate for Mayor against the Hon. J. Wesley Kimball.

He is survived by one daughter, Miss Calista S. Wood, and three sons, Elijah
A. Wood, Harvey C. Wood and William K. Wood.

Funeral services were held from his late residence, Highland street, West Newton yesterday afternoon and were attended by many friends and associates.
Rev. T. W. Bishop officiated and the floral tributes were profuse as well as beautiful. The interment was at Newton Cemetery.

Woman's World

Conducted by Miss GRACE M. BURT.

At the meeting of the Social Science
Club next week Mrs. Cora C. Stuart
Jones will speak on "Practical Nature Study the Key to the Forest Problems."
Guests may be invited.

The West Newton Women's Educational Club will observe its "Gentlemen's Night" on Friday evening, January 11.
The entertainment will consist of music
by Marden's orchestra, readings by Mr.
Fred E. Kendall, impersonator, refreshments, reception and dancing. Tickets should be secured from Mrs. Burrison or from Mrs. Booth.

The Review Club with numerous guests met at the Congregational chapel on December 31, and listened to Miss Porter's lecture on Great Names of Venice. Miss Porter discussed especially, Giorgione, Titian, Tintoretto, and Veronese, making clear the peculiar beauties of their pictures and distinguishing characteristics of the artists.
The next meeting of the club will be with Miss Haskell on January 8th, 1907.

Owing to the illness of Rev. J. T.
Stocking the program arranged for the meeting of the Newtonville Woman's Guild on New Year's Day could not be carried out. Instead Mrs. Charles Matlack gave a paper entitled "Notes on Provençal." The next meeting will take place on Jan. 8, at 8 P. M. at the usual place. It is in charge of the Industrial Committee and will be the annual subscription party for the benefit of the charitable work of the club. A play,
"The Elopement of Ellen," will be presented.

The Monday Club of Newton Highlands met on Dec. 31 with Mrs. Salmon.
The program included selections of Indian music rendered by Miss Rees, Mrs.
Shumway and Miss Pope, and readings
from "The Newcomes." On the Face of the Waters and from Kipling. Mrs.
Nickerson will entertain the club next week at Mrs. Whitney's on Lincoln street.

The Social Science Club held its regular monthly business meeting at the Hunnewell Club on Wednesday morning. Notice was given of a travelling library which is to be prepared by the Newton Federation to be sent to the South. Books for young people and children are desired and should be sent to Mrs. F. H. Tucker's, 206 Church street, as soon as possible. The presidents of the other clubs will attend to collecting from the respective clubs and the whole number packed and sent together in a box especially prepared for them.

The Mid-Winter Meeting of the Newton Federation will occur on Tuesday, Jan. 22, at 2:30, at the Central Congregational church, Newtonville. Mrs. B.
Benjamin Buck will give a paper on "The Wit of Six Nations." There will be music and a reception.

The Waban Woman's Club met at the home of Mrs. J. H. Pillsbury, Beacon street, Monday afternoon, December 31.
Owing to the inclemency of the weather
few were present. Mr. George H. Wor-they lectured on Argentina. The lecture was illustrated with stereoscopic views.
Mr. Thurber, teacher of literature in Newton High school will lecture on Colonial Literature on Monday, January 28th, instead of January 14th. The next meeting will be January 14th at the home of Mrs. Wm. H. Gould, Beacon street.

At a meeting of the Woman's Association of Eliot church Tuesday afternoon the following were elected officers for the year 1907: President, Mrs. Wm.

ORIGINAL JACK HORNER.

He Really Existed and Got a "Plum,"
but Was Not a Good Boy.

Jack Horner of the Christmas tale really existed, though whether he deserved the title of "good boy" is exceedingly doubtful. He was, however,
a fortunate rogue.

When Henry VIII. suppressed the monasteries and drove the monks from their nests the title deeds of the Abbey of Mells were demanded by the commissioners. The abbot of Glastonbury determined that he would send them to London, and as the documents were very valuable and the road infested with thieves it was difficult to get them to the metropolis safely.

To accomplish this end he devised a very ingenious plan. He ordered a sawyer to be made, and inside he put the documents, the finest filling a pie ever had, and entrusted this dainty to a lad named Horner to carry up to London to deliver safely into the hands
for whom it was intended.

But the journey was long and the day cold, and the boy was hungry, and the pie was tempting, and the chance of detection was small.

So the boy broke off a piece of the pie and beheld a parchment within. He pulled it forth, innocent enough, wondering how it could have found its way
there tied up in pastry, and arrived in town.

The parcel was delivered, but the title deeds of Mells abbey were missing.

The fact was that Jack had them in his pocket. These were the juiciest plums in the pie. Great was the rage of the commissioners and heavy the vengeance they dealt out to the monks.

But Master Jack Horner kept his secret, and when peaceable times were restored he claimed the estates and received them.

MATERIALS OF THE BODY.

Elements That Go to Make Up the Ordinary Human Being.

A person weighing about 160 pounds
is made up of the following elements:

Pounds.	Pounds.
Oxygen 83.00	Carbon 44.00
Hydrogen 14.00	Calcium 3.50
Nitrogen 3.50	Phosphorus 1.50
Chlorine 1.50	Sulphur50
Fluorine20	Potassium16
Gases 107.3	Sodium14
	Magnesium10
	Iron09
	Solids 49.70

The gaseous elements exist in our body in a state of very great condensation, since under ordinary conditions of temperature and pressure eighty-eight pounds of oxygen would occupy
a volume of more than 1,000 cubic feet
and fourteen pounds of hydrogen one of 2,000 cubic feet. The above mentioned elements forming an infinite variety of compounds and constantly undergoing chemical transformation go to make up the human body, which is in a constant state of decay and renovation. This, however, is not apparent to the eye, and one of the great enigmas of animal life is the permanence of form maintained despite the continual change of substance. This change is so rapid that, according to the calculations of Liebig, Moleschott and other eminent physiologists, the greater part of the material of the body is renewed every twenty or thirty days
and not, as generally assumed, only once in seven years.

Nervous Folks and Diet.

As a rule, salt meat is not adapted to the requirements of nervous people, as nutritious juices go into the brine to a great extent. Fish of all kinds is good for them. Raw eggs, contrary to the common opinion, are not as digestible as those that have been well cooked.
Good bread, sweet butter and lean meat are the best food for the nerves.
People troubled with insomnia and nervous starting from sleep and sensations of falling can often be cured by limiting themselves to a diet of milk alone for a time. An adult should take a pint at a meal and take four meals
a day. People with weakened nerves require frequently a larger quantity of water than those whose nerves and brains are strong. It aids the digestion of these by making it soluble and seems to have a direct tonic effect.

Sulphur Baths For Rheumatism.

Sulphur baths are of value in rheumatism. Take one tablespoonful of burnt lime. Mix into a paste with one winglassful of cold water, and let it remain for ten minutes. Then stir into one gallon of water. To this add one ounce of milk of sulphur. Raise to the boiling point in a suitable vessel and keep boiling for ten minutes. Now transfer to the bath, and add two gallons of hot water. Use when pleasantly warm. Keep from the face, as the particles of sulphur, etc., are intensely irritating to the eyes.

Made a Sale.

The said faced man, with the small,
square valise, inspected the woman of the house a moment and then turned away from the kitchen door.
"It ain't no use arskin' you if you've got any corns that need curin', mum,"
he said. "I can see as you're wearin'
shoes three sizes too large."
"Come in," replied the matron.

The Case With Him.

Mrs. Henpeck—They can't punish bigamy too severely. No one should have any sympathy for the man who takes one wife too many. Mr. Hen-peck—The idea, Maria! Do you think I should be sent to jail?—Philadelphia Press.

Fitting.

She (on the Atlantic liner)—Did you observe the great appetite of that stout man at dinner? He—Yes; he must be what they call a stowaway.

The man who stands in his own light
must expect to be thrown in the shade.

Dr. Prudden Resigns

After a pastorate of nearly 13 years
in the Second Congregational church
West Newton, Rev. Dr. Theodore P.
Prudden Sunday announced that he had sent his resignation to the society. He will probably retire from active clerical duties the last Sunday of January.

Rev. Dr. Prudden was installed pastor of the Second Congregational church
April 17, 1894, succeeding Rev. H. J.
Patrick who had served 33 years as pastor of the church. Rev. Dr. Prudden came here from the Leavitt Street Congregational church, Chicago, where he had been pastor for 8 1/2 years. Previously he had for 10 years been pastor of Plymouth church, Lansing, Mich.

At the meeting of the 2d Congregational Church, West Newton, called to take action on the resignation of Rev.
T. P. Prudden, D. D., Wednesday evening, it was voted that his resignation be accepted to take effect at the close of this month, as requested by him, and that the following letter, expressing the deep regret of the Church, be placed upon the records and a copy sent to Dr. Prudden.

West Newton, Jan. 2, 1907.
Rev. T. P. Prudden, D. D.

Dear Pastor and Friend:—
It is with the deepest feelings of regret that we accept your resignation of the office of Pastor of this Church.

During the thirteen years you have ministered unto us you have worked unceasingly and indefatigably for our welfare, for our spiritual good and our temporal happiness.

You began your work among us at a most difficult period but with admirable judgment and kindly spirit succeeded in upbuilding and unifying this church and community.

Your words have found lodgment in our deepest hearts and will be a permanent help and inspiration to us in our lives.

Your heart has been full of sympathy
when we have been in trouble, and those of us who have passed through great sorrows will always remember how you have wept with us and comforted us.

You have been most thoughtful and kind to the poor and untrusting in your efforts to fill out the needy ones and bring them comfort and help.

We esteem ourselves most fortunate to have had the education, spiritual uplift and enlightenment which has come to us from your preaching.

We believe few congregations have listened to as uniformly strong sermons
as you have given us, and we feel that you have given us the best of your life, without stint or reserve.

Under your wise and careful methods
our benevolences have wonderfully increased during your pastorate.

In all these good works you and we have been greatly helped and inspired by Mrs. Prudden, who has given of herself freely and without reserve in all good works and helpful deeds.

And finally, all best of all, you and Mrs. Prudden have been our good friends, coming into our homes with the good cheer and heartiness of Christian people, not only as our Pastor and his wife, but as our good neighbors and dear friends.

It is our earnest wish that the Lord
may abundantly bless you both and your dear children and keep you in all your ways.

The Second Congregational Church of Newton.

The moderator, Deacon Henry B. Day appointed the following committee to act with the pastor and Parish in calling an Ecclesiastical Council to dissolve the relations between the pastor and church:
Deacons Edw. A. Marsh, Wm. G. Bell
and S. Edw. Howard.

Police Paragraphs

Two new patrolmen were appointed last Tuesday by Chief Mitchell. The new officers are Albert H. Adams, Jr., and John J. Monaghan. Adams has served as an officer before, resigning after a few days in uniform. Monaghan has been employed on the street railway.

—Lieut. Commander Marcus M. Miller will have the sympathy of his many friends in the death of his father, Gen. Marcus T. Miller, U. S. A., retired, which took place at Fort Barrancas, Florida, last Saturday. The cause of death was heart trouble and deceased was 71 years of age. Gen. Miller was a graduate of West Point, served with the Army of the Potomac in the Fourth Artillery during the Civil war, later in the Indian Campaigns and in 1898 as Brig.-General of Volunteers in the Philippines.

—Notwithstanding the extremely stormy evening the chapel of the Lincoln Park Baptist church was well filled last Monday, at the illustrated lecture on Jamaica, by Mr. G. E. B. Putnam under the auspices of the Men's Club. Mr. Putnam is a resident of Newton Centre and a journalist by profession, being connected with the Boston and Globe Record of Boston. The great abundance and variety of views would have satisfied the most critical, and his mode of delivery was conversational rather than oratorical, which gave the whole the semblance of a friend having returned from the travels and imparting what he had saw and heard while away, to his friends. Occasionally his style of delivery rounded one of the easy manner of John L. Stoddard, the lecturer of a generation ago. The audience felt fully repaid for coming through the down-pouring rain to hear him.

PROBATE COURT.

MIDDLESEX, SS.
 To all persons who are or may become interested in the estate hereinafter mentioned, held in trust under the will of George Hyde late of Newton in the County of Middlesex, and to all persons whose issue not now in being may become so interested:

WHEREAS Edward L. Horsford trustee under said will having presented to said Court his petition praying that he may be authorized to sell, either at public sale, or private sale, certain real estate held by him as such trustee, situated in Newton in the County of Middlesex, and particularly described in said petition, for the reasons therein set forth.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Cambridge, in said County of Middlesex, on the twenty-second day of January A. D. 1907, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is ordered to serve this citation by delivering a copy thereof to each person interested in the estate fourteen days, at least, before said Court, or by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Newton Graphic a newspaper published in Newton the last publication to be one day, at least, before said Court.

Witness, CHARLES J. McINTIRE, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, this third day of January in the year one thousand nine hundred and seven.

W. E. ROGERS, Register.

City Collector's Notice

City of Newton, January 4, 1907.

The owners and occupants of the following described parcels of real estate situated in the City of Newton, in the County of Middlesex and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and the public are hereby notified that the taxes thereon severally assessed for the year 1905, unless otherwise specified, according to the list committed to me as collector of taxes for said Newton by the Assessors of Taxes, remain unpaid and that the smallest undivided part of said land sufficient to satisfy said taxes, with interest and all legal costs and charges or the whole of said land if no person offers to take an undivided part thereof, will be offered for sale by public auction at the City Hall, in said Newton, on for payment of said taxes with interest, costs and charges thereon, unless the same shall be previously discharged.

Monday, January 28th, 1907,
AT 3 P.M.

DO NOT the burglaries which are happening all the time suggest anything to you? Burglary theft and larceny insurance is the only protection. HICKLEY & WOODS, Insurance of all kinds, 32 Kirby street, Boston. Telephone Main 1167 and 409.

You Don't Have To
Sometimes when sickness is in the family and a physician has been called to and a prescription written, you have noticed the name of some particular drug printed on the paper on which the doctor writes the prescription.

This does not mean that you are compelled to take your prescription to the druggist whose name appears on the paper.

It is recognized the world over that a patient has the privilege of taking the prescription to any drug store that he prefers.

The prescription department in our store is always watched over by a registered pharmacist; a doctor's prescriptions are always filled exactly according to the way he intended they should be filled.

—The annual series of entertainments under the auspices of the Lower Falls Methodist church came to a successful close in Freeman hall, Wednesday evening, when a number of inmates of the Perkins home for the blind, South Boston, gave an interesting entertainment. There was a large and appreciative audience. These entertainments have been well attended this season, and a substantial amount of money has been raised in aid of the church work.

The Committee appointed by the Newton Centre Improvement Association to investigate the conditions on the steam railroad issued the following statement last Friday night.

Boston, December 28, 1906.

The citizens' committee appointed to assist in securing better railroad service upon the Boston & Albany division of the New York Central railroad went before the railroad commissioners today by appointment, for the purpose of having an informal hearing. This hearing developed into a thorough discussion of the whole subject. We learned that the commissioners for two months past have been conducting an elaborate and thorough investigation, not only by procuring records and other sorts of information from the railroads, but also by sending out their own investigators.

We are satisfied that they have in this way gathered together a body of information to which nothing of importance could be added by a public hearing. We are also satisfied that by means of a great number of letters received from various sources, supplemented by their own observation and particularly by the appointment of committees like our own in numerous communities, the commissioners have been already so strongly impressed with the conditions of public sentiment concerning the matter in hand, that a public hearing would add nothing in that respect.

Furthermore, the commissioners are at work upon a statement covering their work which they desire to issue without delay.

For these reasons we deem it best not to press for a formal public hearing at this time.

Street Railway Notes

Because of the recent mad dog scare in the city Center, Supt. E. P. Shaw, Jr., of the Boston & Worcester road has issued an order that hereafter no dogs will be allowed on the cars of that road.

Smoking should be prohibited in the new waiting station at Newtonville square.

Mr. Flanders Dead

Mr. Alvan R. Flanders, a well known resident of Newton Centre for the past twenty-five years, died last Tuesday night at his home on Norwood avenue, after a short illness of diabetes. Altho in poor health for some time he was attending to business on Thursday of last week.

He was born in Stanstead, Canada, 59 years ago, coming to the States when a boy, and secured a position in Boston. Practically his entire business life was spent in the sugar trade, which he entered about thirty-five years ago. Demonstrating marked capacity for business, he was made selling agent of the Adams Sugar Refining Company, then of the Standard Sugar Refining Company, its successor, and finally of the American Sugar Refining Company when that company absorbed the Standard. His territory included all of New England and some of the territory west. His business acquaintance was widely extended, and among all who knew or had dealings with him he was very much liked and highly respected. He belonged to the old school of business men, and while a shrewd judge of the market he was also uniformly considerate and courteous in all his dealings.

He was a member of the Boston Wholesale Grocers' Association and of the Confectioners' Club.

In local affairs Mr. Flanders was highly esteemed. He was a member and trustee of the Newton Centre Methodist church and in an unobtrusive way was a power in that village. He is survived by a widow, one son, Alvan R. Flanders, Jr., and two daughters, Alice G. and Charlotte Flanders.

Funeral services were held from his late residence yesterday afternoon at 1.45 o'clock in charge of Rev. L. J. Birney and Rev. W. E. Huntington, D. D., of Boston University. Mrs. Lewis R. Speare sang several favorite hymns and the entire service was in harmony with Mr. Flanders' modest character. The burial was in the family lot at Newton Cemetery.

Celebrate 10th Anniversary

To fittingly celebrate the 10th anniversary of Rev. Clifford G. Twombly as pastor of St. Paul's Episcopal church at Newton Highlands the Men's club last evening held a reception to Rev. and Mrs. Twombly. The affair took place in the parish house, Walnut street, and was attended by about 150.

President Wallace M. Leonard and Mrs. Leonard assisted in receiving. During the reception an orchestra comprising club members gave an enjoyable program. Mrs. H. J. Whittaker rendered a vocal solo.

The informal gathering was then called to order by President Leonard. A surprise was in store, for Mr. Arthur S. Williams, senior warden, after giving a 10-years' sketch of Rev. Mr. Twombly's work as rector of St. Paul's, read a letter from the church vestry authorizing a raise in salary beginning with the new year. President Leonard then presented Mr. Twombly with a purse from the members of the Men's club.

A fitting response was made by Rev. Mr. Twombly. Remarks were also made by Rev. Richard T. Loring, rector of St. John's church, Newtonville, and Rev. Edward T. Sullivan, rector of Trinity church, Newton Centre. The latter paid a warm tribute to the work of Rev. Mr. Twombly, and added that in the present days of keen commercial and even professional competition it is surprising that a man may be found studying to give his entire time toward studying to do good. He humorously described the troubles of a clergyman in preaching a sermon intended for women on a day when the rear pews happen to be filled with men.

After the speeches light refreshments were served. The affair was one of the most enjoyable in the history of the club.

During Mr. Twombly's rectorship at St. Paul's the church edifice has been moved across Walnut street to its present site, enlarged about a third, a parish house built and a pipe organ installed. The parish is now a very flourishing one.

City Hall Notes.

Public Accountant Amos H. Albee is at work verifying the books of the City Treasurer.

City Treasurer Newhall has been confined to his home this week with a severe cold.

A civil service examination for sanitary inspector in the health department will be held at City Hall, Tuesday, Jan. 22. The examination will cover letter writing, hand writing, spelling, arithmetic, experience and knowledge of sanitation, ventilation and health rules.

REMOVAL

I have removed our curling and dyeing plant also our offices to two doors nearer Washington street from our old place. There I will be equipped for the hairdressing of any amount of business you may favor me with, and with an added force of competent and experienced help I can assure you the best workmanship and quick service in the curling and dyeing of Ostrich Feathers.

Be Modern

In Light Demand The Best

Candles were once the best, to be superseded by other methods of lighting, which, in time, have been, to a great extent, displaced by the modern illuminant.

ELECTRICITY

Costs more than candles but then who wants to burn candles? For quality of light the electric lamp is as much superior to any form of illumination as other methods are to candles.

Hunnewell Hall Entertainment

The recital at Hunnewell hall, Thursday evening, Jan. 24th, will be of especial note as Mr. Whitney Tew, basso, and Miss Lillian Woodward, reader, are artists of great fame and ability, and both have enjoyed the patronage of royalty. Mr. Tew, although an American by birth, has passed the years of his musical career in London with the exception of brief tours in America and other countries. Besides being a great singer he is an author of recognized ability and wrote "The Three Musketeers" in which he takes the role of Cardinal Richelieu and at the production of which in London he had for patrons, H. R. H. the Prince of Wales, Mr. Whitelaw Reid, the American Ambassador, the Duchess of Wellington and the Duchess of Sutherland.

Mr. Tew includes in his repertory about thirty-five oratorios, ten operas and a large number of songs, Italian, French, German and English—classical and popular, also songs in English dialect and Irish airs all of which are memorized. He has a magnificent voice, perfectly trained, a splendid personality and an artistic temperament. He has one of the deepest bass voices heard on the stage today, while his high tones have the vibratory resonance of the baritone. The Westminster Mail truly says of him, "This is a voice once heard never to be forgotten."

Miss Woodward is also an American, who has likewise spent much of her time abroad. With her wonderful art she combines great magnetism and a remarkable versatility giving with equal excellence the most tragic as well as light or comic works, while her interpretation of the cake walk is absolutely irresistible. All her numbers are given as musical melodrama—recitations with piano accompaniment and many of the selections were written especially for her. The musical melodrama is in great vogue in London and Paris and in both places Miss Woodward has created a great furor in the leading drawing rooms. She is giving it for a short season in America with marked favor. The London Mail speaks of her as "An artist of rare ability."

Mr. Byron E. Hughes, who will be the accompanist for both artists will add much to the excellence of the program by his altogether artistic work.

Pastor's Reception

The parlors of the Eliot church were filled with members of the congregation last evening the occasion being a reception given to the new pastor, Rev. H. Grant Person and Mrs. Person. The rooms were attractively decorated with tall palms, potted plants and numerous rugs. From 8 to 10 Rev. and Mrs. Person received, assisted by Senior Deacon and Mrs. Frank A. Day and Mr. Charles H. Buswell, chairman of the parish committee, and Mrs. Buswell. Members of the William H. Davis Club officiated as ushers and a number of ladies of the church poured. A musical program was provided by an orchestra under the direction of Mr. Henry T. Wade.

A Woman's Exchange will be opened on March 18 by Mrs. W. D. Lowell at her residence 40 Lenox street, West Newton. Anyone wishing to enter articles or food please communicate at the above address. 2t holds its Fourth Regular Meeting in

CENTENARY M. E. CHURCH

WEDNESDAY EVENING, JANUARY TWENTY-THIRD

The occasion will be observed as Ladies' Night.

Speaker, Mr. J. E. SEARING, of Newtonville.

"THE POWER WITHIN YOU; or SIDE LIGHTS ON MENTAL HEALING."

The lecture will commence at 7.30, sharp, and will be followed by a collation served in the church parlors, and a social hour. No admission charge will be made. All who are interested in the subject are cordially invited to be present. The collation and social feature will be entirely informal. The presence of ladies is especially requested.

This Invitation is to the Public.

Mr. Searing has had extended and successful experience in the subject which he will present, and a very large attendance is desired.

NONANTUM SCHOOL

$100,000.00 Appropriated for Modern School Building

Ripley & Russell Architects for New Twelve Room School House on Crescent Street

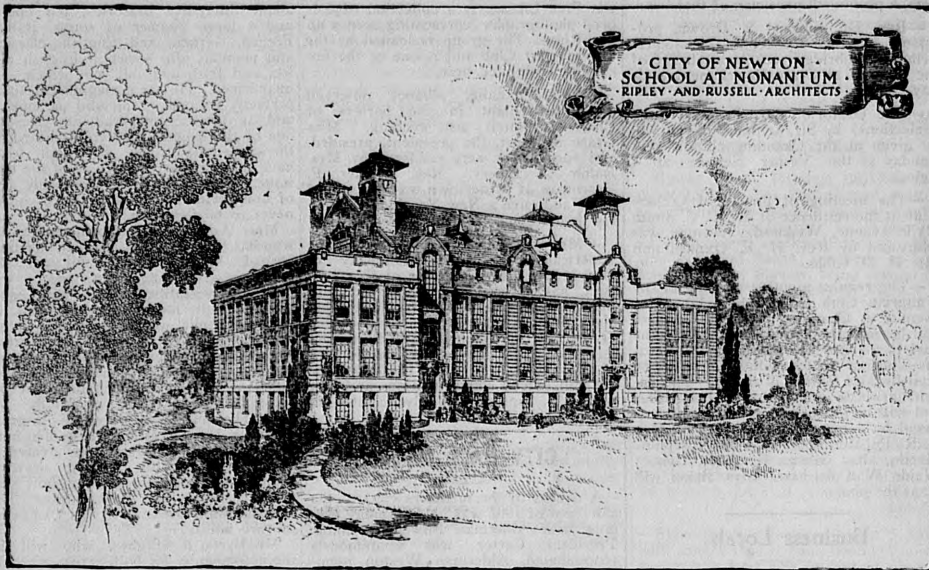

The new school building for Nonantum differs both in arrangement and in appearance from other school buildings in the city of Newton.

The rooms, twelve in number, have been so placed as to require the least amount of corridor, and the building is therefore compact and economical. There are two wardrobes for each classroom, close to the ceilings. Even in the basement playrooms and toilet rooms the windows are 8 ft. high.

Special provisions have been made everywhere to have the building clean and sanitary. All the classrooms, corridors and wardrobes, have hospital base and coved ceiling, so that there are few corners to catch and retain the

ing. The wings, which have no rooms above the second floor, have flat roofs. This does away with expensive slate roofs, and at the same time allows the Hall to be lighted at the sides through the large windows in the gables. This light is preferable, of course, to light in the eyes of either the audience or the speakers.

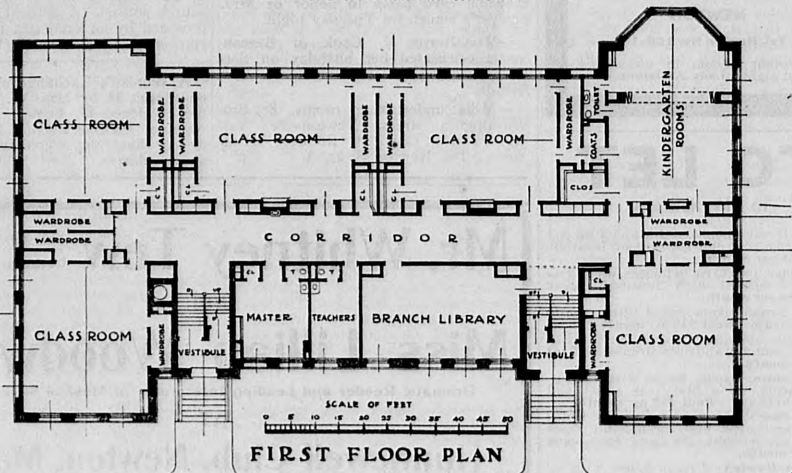

which are placed not in the corridors, as is usual in Newton, but on the outside wall. This is advantageous for three reasons: first, because each wardrobe now has its entrances from the classrooms, and is therefore under perfect control of the teacher; second, because each wardrobe has outside air and light; and, third, because the corridors are kept dust. In the matter of construction, too, this building offers an innovation. All the main supports and bearing surfaces are steel. Every floor joist rests on either masonry or steel beams, instead of wooden girders or partitions, as is usual in Newton schools. This reduces the shrinkage to a minimum, and the plas-

In appearance the building is simple and expressive of its uses. The walls are red brick, laid with wide white joints, and the trimmings are granite up to the belt course at the first floor level, and limestone above.

The architects, Messrs. Ripley and Russell, while having had experience in offices of prominent architects, have been free and clear. Although it would seem as if this arrangement would increase the size of the building, there are less square feet per classroom in this building than in any twelve-room schoolhouse in Newton. The classrooms are of standard size, 26 ft. x 32 ft. and 12 ft. high. There is a great amount of glass area per room, and the windows are tered walls have little chance to crack. The stairways are inclosed in brick walls in the basement and first story and the stairs are iron throughout. The whole building has indeed been made as fire proof as a second class building may be.

The Assembly Hall is in the third story, over the main portion of the buildin partnership but a year. Mr. Ripley has been a resident of Newtonville for about eight years and is well known in that village. That their plan was selected from the dozen or more sent in from prominent architects, including those who were invited to compete, is highly creditable to them.

Veteran Firemen

The annual meeting of the Newton Veteran Firemen's Association was held Wednesday evening, January 2d at the Engine house, Watertown street, West Newton. These officers were chosen for the coming year: president, Albert J. Grover; vice president, A. Nutting; secretary, O. S. W. Bailey; financial secretary, Maurice B. Coleman; treasurer, Fred T. Burgess; foreman, John Hargadon; steward, R. M. Lindley; trustees, James R. Condrin, F. T. Burgess, Henry W. Crafts. The Woman's Auxiliary gave a supper and entertainment for the members last Monday evening. A series of whists are being given every other Thursday evening which are proving popular and are well attended.

The midyear term at Burdett College of Business and Shorthand, 18 Boylston Street, Boston, will begin on Monday, February 4. It is certainly an inspiring sight to watch the hundreds of young men and women earnestly at work in this school learning those things which will help them to solve the bread and butter problem of life.

NEW SCHOOL

Newton Highlands to Have a Twelve Room Building

Plans of Coolidge & Carlson Call for $85,000.00 Structure on Lincoln Street

On July 20th., 1906, the City of Newton ordered a competition for a new schoolhouse in Newton Highlands fronting on Erie and Lincoln Streets and adjoining the present Hyde School. This competition was won by Coolidge & Carlson of Boston, and their design shows a building whose exterior will harmonize in style with the adjacent Congregational Church.

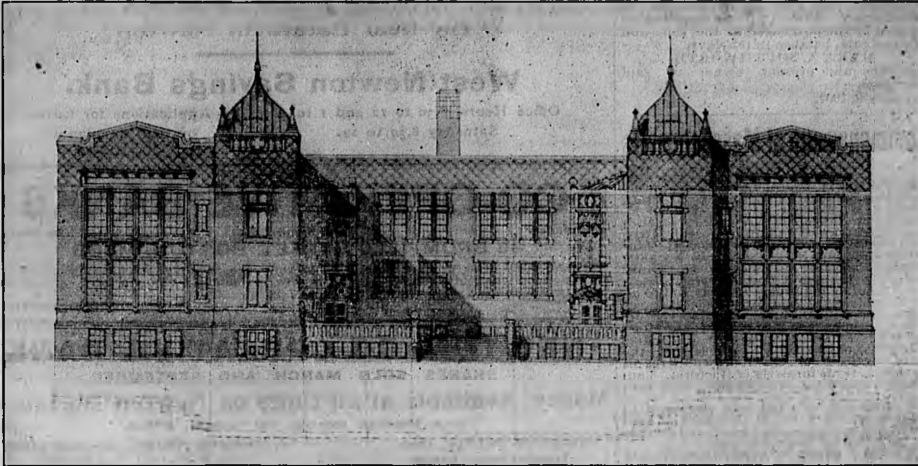

essary, and the library moved into the basement. The heating and structural arrangements are put in to take care of this future classroom.

Classrooms are the standard size, 26 x 32, where possible are lighted on two sides and in all cases have two wardrobes—one for the boys and one for the girls. In these two respects the typical classrooms differ from those of the City

The plumbing is the very best obtainable, with slate partitions between closets, asphalt floors and hot and cold water.

The heating is by the very best system of fan ventilation giving a positive result at any time of the year.

A tunnel will connect this building with the old Hyde School so that Engineer and students can go between the

FRONT ELEVATION

The materials will be water-struck brick and limestone.

The building will contain nine classrooms, two kindergarten rooms, a branch library of the public library, a recreation room same size as classrooms, so that in reality it corresponds to a regular 12-room schoolhouse having in addition to the twelve rooms, teachers' and masters' rooms, store and of Boston which believes in single wardrobes and unilateral lighting.

The walls of classrooms are covered with painted burlap to height of top of blackboard and walls and ceilings above this are painted in oil on plaster.

The finish throughout the rooms and corridors is ash; floors the very best grade of rift heart Georgia pine. Each room will have a teachers' clo-

two buildings without going out of doors.

In general the plan is arranged for the entrance on the Erie avenue side of building and all classrooms are arranged on the South side so as to get the full benefit of the sunlight.

The architects, Coolidge and Carlson are well known in this vicinity, having had charge of all work done at book rooms, besides a laboratory in the basement and the usual playrooms, toilets, boiler room, etc., except that the boiler room is of size and capacity to take care of the old Hyde School as well as this new building.

The building is so arranged that the branch public library on the first floor can be turned into a schoolroom, if necessary.

The building is equipped with an electric clock system and telephones. It will be piped for gas.

The main stairs from basement to second floor are of iron throughout and have safety treads.

The ceilings are lathed with wire lath.

Dreamworld, Mr. Lawson's beautiful place at Egypt, and have built many large office buildings in Boston, several dormitories at Cambridge and are associate architects for the Normal School group in the Back Bay Fens. Mr. Carlson is a resident of Newton Centre, living on Bishopsgate road.

ber of persons in this city by recommending a reduction in the amount now paid for water. The meter rent tax of $1.50 annually can be abolished by executive order and the financial condition of the water department is such that it should be done simply as a matter of justice.We have rarely heard so much criticism of new school buildings as during the past few weeks. The complaints relate to all sorts of matters from the specifications to the selection of bidders. The results, however, seem to prove that the city will get its money's worth in the buildings to be erected.The city loses the services of two of its best aldermen in the retirement next Monday of Aldermen Hunt and Ellis, both of Ward 3. Mr. Hunt has been a particularly valuable man as chairman of the Public Works committee and his all round knowledge has been freely given to the city. Mr. Ellis, too, is one of the strongest members of the present board, one whose advice and influence were eagerly sought and highly valued.President Van Etten's recent characterization of complainants of the execrable conditions on the B. & A. Railroad, as "muck rakers" and "cranks" has not served to allay the public indignation against the management of this road.
Hard names do not throw anyone off
the track, when the facts are as well known as they are in the matter of railroad and suburban transportation. The railroad commissioners in the excellent report on this matter given out this week fairly and squarely place the blame for the difficulties on the management of the B. & A. and President Van Etten must take his share. The truth is that the management of the B. & A. did not have the foresight to prepare for the enormous increase of business which has come to it even while negotiating for a portion of that business with another road. The facts seem to point to Mr.
Van Etten himself as the person responsible, and his attempt to discount his responsibility by calling names is not at all creditable to one in his position. We do not think there will be many tears shed among the "muck rakers" and "cranks" when Mr. Van Etten's connection with the road shall cease.Tribute to the late Dr. HornbrookeAt the last meeting of the South Middlesex Conference held in Cambridge, in a paper entitled, Reminiscences of the South Middlesex Conference Rev. H. C. DeLong spoke of the late Francis B. Hornbrooke D. D. for over twenty years minister of Channing church, Newton, as follows:"Francis B. Hornbrooke was one of the strong men of our conference, of amplified mind won from wide reading and study, with much personal power and oratorical gift, now plain and practical, now wise and recondite, with a play of humor and felicitous illustration, able in argument and in persuasion. Some of us used to say that it was a pity he was held back by his strong church in Newton from being the successor to Dr. Bellow's pulpit to which he was invited. He needed rousing to his best. The usual with him was of a high kind, but the best was so much better that it should have been drawn out of him by occasions he could not put aside for the still air of delightful studies. All too soon his life was broken off."

Burglars

The house of John K. Taylor, 310
Waverley avenue was entered last week
and while little of value was stolen the interior was left in the greatest disorder.
Apparently the intruder had spent hours in doing all the mischief he could conceive.A considerable quantity of valuable silverware escaped the detection of the thief. In the second story nearly every room was ransacked. Clothing was thrown about the floor and scattered over the furniture after being turned inside out. Practically everything movable was strewn about in the greatest disorder.Mr. Taylor discovered the break upon returning home Monday after an absence of several days. An inventory of the contents of the residence made by him revealed very little of value missing.
Like most of the other burglaries which have occurred in this city in the past few months entrance was gained by forcing a rear door. The break occurred just after a large squad of plain clothes officers had been called in after having been on duty daily for several weeks.The break makes the seventh which has occurred in the last few months in this city, but Chief Mitchell is confident
it was not committed by persons responsible for the previous burglaries. The theory of the police is that it was committed by some crank.

As a result of this latest break a squad

of 18 plain clothes men were detailed for duty on the streets daily and will be kept up until the burglar mystery is cleared up. In the past few months
six other burglaries have occurred, mostly in Newton proper and in Newtonville. Practically nothing but watches, rings, stickpins and necklaces were stolen in these houses, the largest haul amounting to $600 worth of jewelry.
Up to the present time effort to trace the stolen jewelry has been unsuccessful.All the burglaries have occurred about the hour of 5 p. m., when strange persons would not excite suspicions on the streets leading to the homes of some of the wealthiest residents. The police believe the thieves are experienced ones,
for none of the stolen property has been disposed of in Boston or any other place in this section of the state.A burglary which occurred two weeks ago became known Monday night, when it was reported that the house of Mrs.
Isabella F. McFarlane, 168 Mt. Vernon street, West Newton, had been entered and about $100 worth of property stolen.
Entrance was gained by means of false keys, and among the articles recovered stolen were a gold watch and chain, bracelets and several rings.

William R. Dresser

Mr. William R. Dresser, president of the Puritan Trust Company, died Tuesday morning at a private hospital after an illness extending over the past six weeks. Mr. Dresser was a native of Malden, where he was born fifty years ago, his father being Robert W. Dresser.
For more than twenty-five years he has been associated with banking interests
and his first connection with this character was with the Home Savings Bank. Later
he was connected with the Broadway National Bank, of which he was cashier
until 1895, when he with others organized the Puritan Trust of which he first was treasurer and later president. He was a member of the Boston Bank Presidents' Association, and the Bank Officers' Association. He is survived by a wife, a son Robert, and two daughters, Eleanor and Maola Dresser.

Miss Wood

Miss Emma B. Wood, a well known resident of Newtonville, died at the home of Miss Henrietta F. Greenwood on Page road last Monday after a several months' illness. Deceased was for a number of years in the office of the Newton Street Railroad until failing health compelled her to relinquish her duties. A service of prayer was conducted by Rev. J. T. Stocking, pastor of Central church, at the house Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock and the remains were taken to Camden, Me., her native
place, for the funeral and burial.

Among Women

The Review Club met on January 8th
with Miss Haskell and, after the business session, spent a pleasant morning
under the guidance of Mrs. Knowlton, Miss Rider, Mrs. Haddock and Mrs.
Hildreth who read carefully prepared papers on Giorgione and the field He Covered, The Hundred Years of Titian, Titian's Religious Works: Legendary Subjects; Landscapes; and Portraits.The winter business meeting of the Club for the discussion of plans of work for next year will be with Mrs. Davidson on January the fifteenth.Mrs. Cora C. Stuart Jones of Boston gave an able presentation of the Forestry Problem at the meeting of the Social Science Club on Wednesday morning.
The forests which the first settlers
found here were the richest on earth and there is no reason why they cannot be made so once more if properly treated and reforested. She urged the celebration of Arbor Day. Other holidays commemorate the past, Arbor Day is the only one that looks forward to the future. Mrs. Jones emphasized the necessity of the passage of the Forest Reserve Bills now before Congress. The one in the White Mountains is especially necessary since here is the source of the large rivers that furnish the water power for all the New England states with the exception of Rhode Island. Mrs.
Jones brought with her many books and pamphlets upon the subject and much interest was shown in the subject.At the meeting of the Monday Club of Newton Highlands on Monday afternoon Rev. John Chandler, who has spent much time in India gave a paper upon "Ruined Cities in India." At the close of his paper he spoke interestingly of modern conditions, especially of the present relations between India and Great Britain.
The remainder of the afternoon was devoted to a paper upon "Bombay." The club meets next week with Mrs. S. L.
Katon of Lake avenue.The Newtonville Woman's Guild departed from its usual custom and held its annual Subscription Party on the evening of January 8, presenting the play, "The Elopement of Ellen." The meeting was in charge of Mrs. Alfred E. Vose by and was a great success, both in being largely attended and the substantial sum realized for the club's charitable work. The cast was as follows:
Misses Constance Richardson, Lydia Dennison, and Ethel Hale Freeman and Messrs. Maynard Hutchinson, Frederick
W. Freeman, Philip Spaulding and F.
Rogers Thomas. A Mystery Dance under the direction of Miss Dorothy Ellingwood was given by seven young ladies from Radcliffe College. Violin solos were rendered by Mr. Charles B.
Tupper. Light refreshments were served at the close of the program and a social hour enjoyed.

Auto Accident

While running westward on Beacon street, Newton Center, the steering gear of an automobile occupied by a man giving the name of J. S. Stoddard of Worcester broke Wednesday afternoon near Hancock avenue. The touring car crashed into a new chestnut pole breaking it short off and throwing out four occupants of the machine.The occupants were Mr. and Mrs.
Stoddard and their small child and a chauffeur. Mrs. Stoddard and the child were considerably bruised. After receiving attendance they returned to Boston together with Mr. Stoddard. The machine, which was badly damaged, was hailed off for repairs to a garage.

Y. M. C. A.

The first team defeated Somerville Y.
M. C. A. in the association gymnasium Wednesday night, 37 to 17. Wilson and Zeigler were the star players for the home team. Crane, the former Harvard high jumper, did excellent work in stopping throws for the basket for the visitors.The second team defeated the Somerville second team, 30 to 13, the same evening. Hanson for the local team proved the star player of the contest, throwing seven baskets.On Tuesday evening Jan. 15, Mr.
George Bartlett Cutler will give an entertainment before the members and their gentlemen friends at the Association Rooms. King's Trio will play before the entertainment and during the intermission. An invitation is extended through the GRAPHIC to any young men who would like to attend.

TELEPHONE COMPETITION IN THE MIDDLE WEST ITS LESSONS FOR NEW ENGLAND

Report of George W. Anderson, Esq., of Boston, made for the New England Telephone and Telegraph Co.

Feeling certain that the competitive telephone conditions in the Middle West were such that no real and permanent benefit was accruing to the public or to investors, and being desirous of placing before the public the actual facts as seen by a non-partisan observer, the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company requested Mr. George W. Anderson, one of the leading members of the Boston Bar, to investigate those conditions in his own way, and to report the facts as he found them, together with his conclusions and opinions.

From his study and his experience in these matters, the company felt that Mr. Anderson was exceptionally well qualified to examine into competitive telephone conditions, and to report the facts, their relation to the public interests, and their bearing upon the situation in other parts of the country.

The summary of Mr. Anderson's conclusions as stated in the report submitted, appears below. Copies of the report in full may be obtained by addressing the company, No. 101 Milk Street, Room 809, or by calling Main No. 6504.

General Conclusions

The conclusions, of interest to New England cities and to prospective investors in securities of independent telephone companies, may be recapitulated and summarized as follows:

1. The very strongest claim that can be made in favor of competition is that it has caused a development of telephony, much more rapid and extensive than would have taken place under monopoly. That such development has taken place, in certain parts of the Middle West where the old Bell companies failed to furnish service reasonably adequate for the public needs and desires, is undeniable.

2. It may also be conceded to competition that it has demonstrated an ability in the public to take, use and pay for telephones, beyond what telephone managers believed possible a few years ago.

3. But this lesson taught by competition in the Middle West has been taken to heart by telephone managers in other parts of the country, and it therefore does not at all follow that further demonstration of the possible extent of the public use of the telephone needs to be made.

4. Competition, on the other hand, has resulted in dividing into disconnected camps the telephone-using public of each city in which competitive companies exist.

5. Even if competition be conceded to be an effective and economic method of extending the use and regulating the rates of other public utilities, such as gas, electric lights, railroads and railways, (as it is not) it is utterly inconsistent with the proper development of telephony; for telephony is interconnection of all the customers of the company.

6. It follows that the number of telephone stations in any city where competition exists, is no proper or real test of the extent of the service furnished. 50,000 telephones, in two systems, give nothing like the service to the community as a whole that 50,000 telephones, in one system, give.

7. Even if telephone competition results in rate-cutting in any given community, this in the long run is no advantage to the telephone-using public. Excessively low losing rates are almost certain to be followed by combinations and arrangements for excessively high rates. So that in the long run the public is taxed not only on the basis of capital used in furnishing telephone service, but for the capital wasted in telephone competition.

8. The competitive movement in telephony has been mainly throughout its entire history and is now entirely a speculative and not a sound business movement. Its foundation is now found not in a public need of new or more telephone service, but in the desire of speculators to find and avail themselves of an excuse to sell to the investing public securities which must in the long run prove losing investments.

9. The common stock of practically all of these competitive companies is water, representing no cash investment whatsoever. The bonds which represent the entire cash contribution are generally sold at 80 to 87 1-2.

10. The plants of these companies are built by construction companies owned and operated by the same persons that promote the telephone companies. The construction company makes an additional profit of from 15 per cent. to 30 per cent.

11. It results from this stock-watering-and-construction-company-manipulation that the independent companies have a capitalization, per telephone, of from two to three times as great as that of the Bell companies. These independent companies are, therefore, seeking to impose upon the telephone-using public a capital charge two or three times as great as that of the Bell companies.

12. But these promoters gain their foothold largely by attacking the Bell rates as exorbitant, and promising to furnish to the telephone-using community better service at a less rate than that furnished by the Bell companies. Obviously, these representations are founded in fraud or in gross error; they cannot collect less from the public and at the same time pay more to their stockholders.

13. As practically all the telephone business of the Middle West is upon the flat rate, the economic principal that in telephony the ratio of expense increases as the number of subscribers increases, is fully operative. This makes a bad situation very much worse. Competing telephone companies are in the desperate situation of having to push for new business in order to keep it away from their rivals, although each additional subscriber obtained causes an increasing loss to the company obtaining him. In other public service corporations losing rates tend to become sufficient; in telephony losing rates tend to become worse as they produce more business.

14. One of the methods by which the movement has been kept alive and new capital obtained, has been by charging nothing to depreciation; whereas, as was clearly shown in the Indianapolis case, the best telephone plants depreciate on an average of at least 5 per cent each year. There is also adequate ground to believe that many, if not most, of the independent companies are really charging a part of operating expense to capital account. The financial condition and practical failure of the Indianapolis company, may be regarded as in most respects a typical case.

15. The competitive movement in the Middle West has now reached the stage of combination,—the holding company, generally a short "long-distance" company, is the favorite present form of organization and reorganization.

16. But these holding companies are, on analysis, doing little more than issuing new bonds and stocks on the faith of the alleged earning capacity of constituent companies, most of which are losing and not making money. They are as unsound as Mrs. Howe's bank. The large losses made in Cleveland by investors in Federal Telephone stock is symptomatic of the general conditions.

17. The concealment of the real facts as to the condition of these companies is made more easy by the device of selling negotiable voting trust certificates, thus leaving the voting power, with its consequent control of the Board of Directors and bookkeeping of the company, in the hands of the persons who are engaged in the speculative manipulations. Given a "good" auditor, almost any telephone company can make a show of earnings for a few years. With the voting trust-certificate device, the selection of the auditor is left entirely in the hands of the persons who are making money out of the speculative manipulations, based upon bookkeeping, misleading if not absolutely fraudulent.

18. The independent companies in Ohio have been guilty of gross breach of public faith, in raising their rates contrary to the express stipulations of their franchises, on the faith of which the cities have permitted them to go under, and over their heads which have submitted to the nuisance and expenses of competitive telephone service under the delusion that thus permanently low rates were to be secured.

19. Whatever may be said as to the effect of competition six or eight years ago in educating the public into an increased use of the telephone and showing the Bell companies, in a clear light, the capabilities of their industry and the function of a public service corporation, it may be safely concluded that the competitive movement as it is today, and as it would be if inaugurated in New England, is utterly unsound, unwholesome, uneconomic, certain to result in the near future in great loss to innocent investors, to increase the cost of telephony in the country as a whole, and to postpone the day when the whole telephone-using population of the nation shall be inter-connected in one general system.

20. Under Chapter 433 of the Acts of 1906, the Commonwealth of Massachusetts has already asserted, with the assent of the New England Telephone & Telegraph Company, its authority to supervise telephone corporations as public-service corporations. The policy of regulating public-service corporations as monopolies, logically—and in the case of gas and electric light companies legally—involves the exclusion of competition. Whatever the reasons which caused the last Legislature to refrain from giving to the regulating commission authority to exclude competitive telephone companies, it is certain that such exclusion is a necessary logical concomitant to the theory of regulation by state commission.

21. It is therefore the plain duty of all sound-thinking and public-spirited citizens to oppose by every legitimate means the admission of competitive telephone companies to our New England cities.

22. Equally plain is the correlative duty of the New England Telephone Company to extend its service as far and as fast as it may without undue financial risk; to make that service as efficient as possible; to require at all times courteous and considerate treatment of the public; and to render this efficient, progressive and extending service, at indiscriminating rates, which shall conserve and make a fair return upon the capital invested,—and no more.

The last meeting of the Pierian Club was held with Mrs. W. C. Willard, Jan. 2. The papers for the afternoon were as follows: Sea Birds, Mrs. Scoville; Fish, Mrs. Sweet; Fossils, Antediluvian Monsters, Mrs. Titus. The Club was especially favored with a duet by the Misses Randall of Eliot street.

The Newton Federation of Women's Clubs will entertain the presidents and secretaries of the various federated clubs in the vicinity at its Mid-Winter Meeting at the Central Congregational Church, Newtonville, on the afternoon of Tuesday, January 22, at 2:30. The program includes music and a lecture by Mrs. B. Benjamin Buck of Newton Centre on "The Wit of Six Nations." A reception and tea will follow. It is hoped that this will be one of the brilliant occasions in the club life of Newton this season.

The Mid-Winter Meeting of the Massachusetts Federation will be held in February at Attleboro, being the guest of the Attleboro Federation. Notice of the date will be given later.

At the meeting of the Social Science Club on Jan. 16, Miss Mary L. Spear will give a paper upon "The Power of Individuality." Guests may be invited.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN

The last regular meeting of the board of aldermen of 1906 was held Monday evening and some important orders were passed.

New schools were authorized at Newton Highlands and Nonantum, $85,000 being appropriated for the former and $100,000 for the latter. These orders were passed with but a single question being asked.

Other business included granting attachments to the Telephone Co. on Camden road, Erie ave., Pine Ridge road, Woodward street, Dabry street, West street, pole locations on Lowell avenue, attachments to the Gas Light Co. on Chase street, Ripley street, Stearns street, Warren street, Oakleigh road and Woodcliff road, attachments to the Western Union Tel. Co. on Walnut street, licenses to Fred M. Lowe to keep gasoline on Washington street, Hans L. Tange to locate a gasoline engine on Waltham street, and to Frank A. Childs, Edward F. Barnes and H. H. Read, as auctioneers.

Leave to withdraw was granted Thomas Casey to move a building from Washington street to Walnut street, city officials failing to approve of it. Similar action was taken on the petition of the Telephone Co. to place poles on Glenwood avenue.

Notice of vacancy in the school committee caused by resignation of Albert A. Tilney of Ward 1 was referred to the next city government. Letter from the West Newton W. C. T. U. by Mrs. W. H. Rand relative to sixth class liquor licenses, and correspondence relative to additional street cars in Nonantum square were received from the Mayor and referred to the Public Franchises committee. A complimentary letter was also received from ex mayor Weed relative to balance remaining of $1500 gift after completing work of covering brook off Crescent street.

The resignation of John J. Kenney as constable was received. The petition of the Newton & Boston St. Rwy Co. and of the Gas Light Co. to replace present poles on Walnut street with round chestnut poles was received and subsequently granted. William Hansen's claim for $10 reward for killing a dog was referred to the Claims committee and petition of Jackson et al for change of name of Dudley street to Dudley road to the Public Works committee.

Reports were received from the committee which perambulated the Boston boundary line, and from the Public Works Committee on the matter of new school houses.

On report of the Committee on Rules, the Mayor was authorized to petition the General Court to change the boundary line between Newton & Brookline. On report of the Finance committee, the annual appropriation order was amended to correct a clerical error, $335. transferred to the Health dept to cover extra cost of ashes removal, and $2000 granted for removal of ashes. On report of the Claims committee $75 was appropriated for settlement of claim of James F. Hughes. On report of the Public Works committee, $1600 was charged to the tax levy for a boiler to heat the present Hyde school, and to be located in the new building, declaration made as to the street lines of Langley road, and sewers ordered in Shawmut park and Ossipee road. On report of the License committee, leave to withdraw was given H. Spillman for a junk license and T. F. Fahey for 2 carriage licenses. Orders were also adopted accepting Hyde st and Rogers st as public ways and authorizing issue of serial bonds for the two schools above mentioned.

Alderman White introduced an order authorizing the Mayor to petition the General Court to amend the city charter, reducing the number of aldermen to 14, the number of school committee to 7 and providing for biennial elections. Alderman White urged the immediate passage of the order, saying everyone was familiar with the subject and that to delay would mean its failure to go before the present legislature for action. Alderman Weston opposed action at that time saying that the matter could be presented to the Legislature on private petition and, it thought, endorsed by the aldermen before being heard at the State House. The order was defeated and the board adjourned at 9:45 until 2 P. M. Monday Jan. 14.

High School Notes

In the drill hall Saturday the sophomore girls defeated the freshmen girls at basketball, 15 to 14. The game occupied three 10-minute periods and was a battle royal between the classes, which were very evenly matched. The baskets for the winning team were thrown by Miss Copeland and Miss Farrington, and those for the freshmen were made by Miss Whiddon, Miss Harris and Miss Jamison. The contest was witnessed by about 100 spectators.

Y. M. C. A.

In the senior athletic meet held in the Newton Y. M. C. A. gymnasium Saturday Harold F. Barber of Summit street made a new association record in the running high jump, clearing the bar at 5 feet, 7 inches. The previous association record was three inches lower than this.

Seven events were hotly contested, including a 20-yard dash, 220-yard dash, standing high jump, 440-yard run, putting the shot, running high jump and a one-mile run. There were many entries in each event and they were witnessed by a large gathering of spectators.

20-yard dash—Won by W. Chase, T. Morton second, W. Moore third. Time 2:3.5.

220-yard dash—Won by H. F. Barber, W. Dunn second, H. Decker third. Time 28.

Standing high jump—Won by W. Moore, F. Maguire second, H. Decker third. Distance 4ft. 7in.

440-yard run—Won by J. Barrage, S. Craig second, F. Maguire third. Time 1 m. 5.

Putting 12 pound shot—Won by S. Craig, Allen second, J. Barrage third. Distance 37ft. 10 1/2 in.

Running high jump—Won by H. Barber, J. Barrage second, Allen third. Height 5ft. 7in.

THEATRES

Keith's Theatre—Houdini is amply fulfilling all the predictions made that the limited engagement he is now playing at Keith's would be even more phenomenal than the one he played last season. He is certainly the greatest single drawing card the vaudeville world has ever known. The new tests that he is presenting are all of them wonderfully well executed and are as marvellous as his previous stunts. A number of special feats are to be attempted at various performances, due notice of which will be given. Besides Houdini a number of other acts of the exclusive class, known as "head-liners" will be in the bill. Among them may be mentioned Simon and Gardner in that uproariously hilarious skit, "The New Coachman"; Frank Bush, the greatest of all tellers of district tales; Dan Burke and his School Girls, a very pleasing "girl act"; the Sutherland troupe of Scottish pipers, dancers and acrobats, imported especially for the Keith Circuit; Louise Raffin's trained monkeys, another foreign act and a very good one too; Treloar, the ex-Harvard oarsman, assisted by Miss Tempest, in a most attractive athletic exhibition; McCue and Cahill, known as "The Irishmen with the Italian Voices"; and the Musical Johnsons, the peerless xylophone players. The program will also include the Holdsworths, who sing, dance and play banjos; Nora Kelley, pretty Celtic vocalist; Brazil and Brazil, in an acrobatic comedy skit; the Alpha Trio, hoopologists; the La Tour sisters, two bright soubrettes, and the Kinetograph.

Tremont Theatre—The good ship Dockstader, loaded to the gunwales with minstrel novelties, has reached the Tremont Theatre, where one more week of joy and fun will reign. Mr. Dockstader this year has fairly outdone himself in the matter of novelties. Lew Dockstader's name has always been the synonym for a performance full of surprises, but this season he provides an entertainment so refreshing in its newness as to call forth the praise of critics everywhere. Lew Dockstader, by reason of his national gifts and the years of careful study which he has devoted to the art of minstrelsy, has placed himself in a class by himself as an interpreter of minstrel humor. This is not only recognized by the great value placed on his services by managers, particularly in a financial sense, but is specially manifested by the fact that his minstrel company is the only one in this country or in any other for that matter, which plays the first-class theatres. In forming his company this season he has shown his keenness as a manager and an artist. He encourages rivalry, and his desire is to shine through the superiority of his associates—not as so many stars do by the inferior quality of their company. In the performance which he presents at the Tremont, Mr. Dockstader believes he has reached the highest form of minstrelsy in the magnificence of the stage equipment, in the ability of his comedians and singers, and also in the number of people employed in his unparalleled minstrel entertainment.

Hollis Street Theatre—One of the most interesting attractions of the year in New England opens Monday at the Hollis Street Theatre for two weeks when the eminent English actor, Mr. Forbes-Robinson, and the charming American actress, Miss Gertrude Elliott, in a notable repertoire of classic and modern plays. The first week will be devoted to the presentation of George Bernard Shaw's "Caesar and Cleopatra." This, the latest of the Shaw plays to be produced in America, was given for the first time in English on any stage at the New Amsterdam Theatre, New York, where it has just concluded a long, auspicious and successful run, and from which it comes direct and intact to Boston. With his characteristic daring, Mr. Shaw has treated his Caesar and his Cleopatra in a human, whimsical and delightfully entertaining manner. Caesar has entered his fifties—Cleopatra is but sixteen years of age. On the one hand Mr. Shaw has shown us the Roman citizen and soldier—his conquest of the world nearly complete—and on the other a Cleopatra in a human, whimsical and delightfully entertaining manner. glish-speaking interpreter of the role. His Shylock in "The Merchant of Venice" is practically an unknown quantity in this country. Miss Elliott has proved to be a very capable Ophelia, and her Portia will probably be as wholly pleasing as the other roles in which she appears. It was in "Mice and Men" that Miss Elliott made her great impression in England. The second week's repertoire will be as follows: Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday nights and Saturday matinee, "Hamlet," with Mr. Forbes-Robinson in the title role and Miss Elliott as "Ophelia." Friday night, "The Merchant of Venice" with Mr. Forbes-Robinson as "Shylock" and Miss Elliott as "Portia." Wednesday matinee and Saturday night the comedy delight "Mice and Men" with Miss Elliott in her originally charming role of "Peggy Brittain." Mr. Forbes-Robinson and Miss Elliott have the support of their London company and complete productions.

Majestic Theatre—Next Monday evening the Massachusetts Press Association will attend in body the performance of James T. Powers in "The Blue Moon" which enters upon the second and last week of its stay in Boston. During this last week the new policy of the Majestic of giving the mid-week matinee on Thursday in place of Wednesday as heretofore will be continued. "The Blue Moon" has been playing to packed houses for the past weeks, houses which it has won merely on its merits as an entertainment. There is no comedian on our stage today so well equipped to give a performance that will catch the amusement loving public as James T. Powers. In "The Blue Moon" he has a role which gives full freedom to all his abilities for legitimate fun-making. The secret of Powers' success does not lie in buffoonery or low comedy antics, but in clear, concise and logical comedy. He wins his audience every time and always manages to make them see every joke and every ludicrous situation without apparent effort. The Messrs. Shubert have spared no expense in giving their star a company which ably seconds him in his efforts to amuse. Numbered among the large company are many old favorites and fill others who, until their appearance in the new piece had still to win their place with the Boston public. That they have done so is beyond question. Among the cast will be found Clara Palmer, an old favorite here, who ably seconds Mr. Powers in his good work and makes him hustle to keep up with her in winning the approval of audiences. Ethel Jackson, Coralie Blythe, Marjorie Nevin, Faxon and Sinclair, the vaudeville favorites, Frank Rushworth, Phil H. Ryley, Dick Temple, Arthur Donaldson, Le Petite Adelaide, and the well remembered original English Pony Ballet with a chorus which will equal in every respect the famous aggregations for which these managers have been responsible. There are some twenty-five musical numbers on the program and every one of them is individual in its own attractiveness while several are sure to be whistled by the small boy on the street for months to come. The scenes of the play are laid in Burnah, British India, which affords great opportunity in scenic and costume effects and the Messrs. Shubert have provided two settings that are most impressive in their beauty. This is positively the last week that Mr. Powers will be seen in Boston in "The Blue Moon" and no one who enjoys a rattling good performance can afford to miss it.

To Cancel Lease

Senator James H. Vahey of this district has filed a petition and bill in the Senate to cancel the lease of the B. & A. R. R. to the New York Central Company.

The petition recites that the interests of citizens of Massachusetts have suffered from the character of the service rendered by the lessees of this road; that its management has not been in sympathy with the ideals of our people, and that discrimination against Massachusetts in freight and passenger traffic has become intolerable. "It is apparent," says the petitioner, "that the present lessee is not giving our citizens the service they are entitled to, and that their petitions have not been met in the proper spirit; that a foreign corporation in control of one of our largest railroad systems is hostile to our interests and is making no serious attempt to remedy the grave injury inflicted upon our people. The lease must first be cancelled before the Commonwealth can take advantage of the provision in the original charter of the Boston & Albany Railroad Company enabling the State to purchase its stock."

Senator Vahey has also presented a bill to abolish capital punishment. The bill provides for a referendum.

Kidder-Butler

Miss Elizabeth Butler the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip H. Butler of Newton Centre was married to Mr. Edwin Hills Kidder of New York city last Wednesday evening. The ceremony took place at the Butler residence on Summer street at 7:30 o'clock. Rev. Dr. W. E. Huntington officiating. The bride, gowned in imported hand embroidered Valenciennes lace cut Directoire, trimmed with lace from the wedding gown of her grandmother, her veil caught with orange blossoms, was led to the groom and clergyman, on the arm of her father, thru an aisle of white ribbons held by her bridesmaids, Miss Alice West and Miss Margaret Merrill, and preceded by the bridesmaids and maid of honor. Music was furnished by the Harvard Union Orchestral Club. The maid of honor, Miss Laura P. Hammond and the bridesmaids Miss Alice T. Smith and Miss Belle C. Parker all of Newton Centre wore white net over pale green silk, trimmed with lace and carried maiden hair ferns. The best man was Mr. Winthrop L. Carter of West Newton and the ushers were Messrs Thornton L. Gilmer of New York city, Robert Rand of Newton Centre, William S. Carleton, Harvard '05, Henry Green of Worcester, Morton C. Tuttle of Boston and Merrill P. Butler of Newton Centre.

A reception followed the ceremony, the party standing under a canopy of southern smilax with white pinks and the house being tastefully decorated with smilax, roses and palms.

Mr. and Mrs. Kidder will reside at 210 West 72nd st New York city where they will be at home after Feb. 1st.

Hunnell Club

The program provided for last Tuesday evening which was the third of the popular Neighborhood Nights, was right up to the high standard set by the Hunnells Club. Edith Pooler appeared in place of Miss Hogan who was unable to be present. Miss Pooler has not appeared in Newton and her first reading "A Typewritten Letter" was excellently received and insistently enjoyed, as were all of her offerings. One of the best numbers of her evening's selections was the "Piece of Cake". Ernest W. Harrison, the pianist, hardly needs an introduction to Hunnells Club audiences. He opened the evening's program with two dainty English works for piano, "In the Cornfield" and "Harvest Home." His second number was a Romance with a sweet melody for the left hand and a running appoggio accompaniment for the right hand. His last number was of a heavier style and proved a fitting close for a pleasing program in every manner.

After the entertainment in the parlors, refreshments were served by Miss Emery, assisted by Mrs. Ralph C. Emery, Mrs. Hayward, Mrs. Pearson, Mrs. Stubbs, Mrs. Cummings, Mrs. Foster, Mrs. Short and the Misses Howard, after which, informal dancing was enjoyed until 11:30.

Newton Club

A most enjoyable concert was given Thursday evening by 130 members of the Harvard Glee, Mandolin and Banjo clubs. It was preceded by a table d'hôte dinner.

Hon. J. Sloat Fassett of New York, and Representative Frank Clark of Florida have accepted invitations to speak at the Congressional dinner Jan. 26.

Mrs. Nickerson

Mrs. Anna C. B. Nickerson, wife of the late Joshua G. Nickerson, passed away Thursday morning, after a lingering illness. Mrs. Nickerson was a native of Nantucket. For a number of years she resided in Boston and was quite prominent in city mission work connected with the Church of the Disciples, James Freeman Clarke's church, where she held the position of Almoner and later Almoner Emeritus. She leaves one daughter, Mrs. Henry C. Little, 112 Webster street, West Newton, from whose house the funeral services will be held on Saturday.

Mr. Crowdle Dead

Mr. James Crowdle, a resident of Newton for over 60 years, passed away at his home on Gardner street last Saturday of troubles incident to old age. He was a native of Ireland, where he was born 80 years ago, and he came across in a sailing vessel as steamships were not in use at that early date. Mr. Crowdle followed the occupation of gardener, being employed by many of the old families, and his unfailing courtesy and willingness to accommodate made him respected and beloved by all. Deceased was one of the founders of the Church of Our Lady and was always one of its most loyal supporters. A widow, one son and three daughters survive him. Solemn requiem mass was celebrated at the Church of Our Lady Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock. There was a large attendance and numerous floral tributes. Rev. Father Kelley officiated as celebrant. Rev. Father Grimes as deacon and Rev. Father Malone as sub-deacon. The bearers were, Mr. J. Nolan, Mr. P. Hartford, J. A. Grace, James Mulcahey, James McDonald and W. F. Grace. The burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

At the annual meetings of the various Newton banks this week the following Newton men were elected directors: Atlantic, William B. Demmon; Commercial, Arthur H. Soden; Eliot, H. L. Burrage; First, Daniel G. Wing; J. W. Weeks; Fourth, George D. Harvey; Freeman, James R. Carter; Edward P. Hatch; Metropolitan, C. H. Brock; New England, Edwin S. Webster, Stephen W. Holmes; Republic, J. M. W. Hall; Security, Frank M. Ferrin; C. R. Batt; Shawmut, E. Hayward Ferry; State, Frank W. Stearns.

Lower Falls.

—Mr. James H. Monaghan of River Ridge, while doing carpenter work in the hosiery mill here Wednesday afternoon, fell a distance of seven feet and broke his wrist.

—An automobile owned by Dr. Otho L. Schofield of Washington street exploded when being "sparked" Wednesday night, blowing the machine to pieces, burning the garage and singeing Dr. Schofield's face, hands and legs. The automobile was in a small garage near Dr. Schofield's home at the time. An alarm from box 34 brought the Wellesley fire department quickly to the scene, but the automobile and building were destroyed before the firemen arrived.

—At the annual meeting of St. Mary's parish held in the church Monday evening the former officers were reelected, and Mr. Frank Barron was added to the list of vestrymen. The reports of the various officers for the year just closed showed the church to be in a sound financial condition. Thanks were extended to the Ladies' Parish Aid society for raising funds for extensive improvement to the parish hall.

BELGRADE RUG COMPANY.

Worn-out and cast-off carpets are not useless, after all. The Belgrade Rug Company, at 32 Hollis street, Boston, Mass., have a way of re-making them in such a way that they not only make a beautiful appearance but that they prove durable in the use of them. Don't throw away your old carpets when they seem hopeless. See what the Belgrade Rug Company can do with them, no matter how torn and unattractive. They issue a circular which states briefly what goods make the handsomest rugs, etc., as well as price list and shipping directions.

FRANCIS NEWHALL,
Treasurer and Collector of Taxes
for the City of Newton

Judge John C. Kennedy took a decided stand in the police court Saturday morning regarding dog muzzles, ruling that the use of strap muzzles is not effective and does not comply with the recent muzzling ordinance passed by the aldermen of this city.

Judge Kennedy suggested that the police notify dog owners that strap muzzles are not effective or legal. He stated that after such notices have been issued, there will be no excuse for owners evading the ordinance by using such muzzles.

Two West Newton men charged with not properly muzzling their dogs were discharged, Judge Kennedy finding that they acted through ignorance of the ineffectiveness of strap muzzles and did not intentionally evade the muzzling ordinance.

Through the office of Alvyrd Bros., Wm. H. Lincoln has sold to L. G. Neville, the 4 story brick and stone apartment house known as the "Marion," 457 Washington street, corner of Jewett street. The building contains 12 suites and is modern in construction and arrangement through out. The total assessed valuation is $43,500, of which $35,000 is on the building and $8500 on the 11.230 feet of land.

Recital at Hunnewell Club

The musical melodrama which will be given by Miss Lillian Woodward at the Hunnewell Club on Thursday evening next is sure to delight the audience for it is a new and wholly fascinating form of entertainment and in its production Miss Woodward reigns supreme. She has had for patrons very many of the nobility of Europe and had the honor of appearing at the Duchess of Marlborough's and later before Mme. Melba and the Duchess of Manchester.

Miss Woodward is a handsome woman with a splendid stage presence and has been favored with the finest opportunities for displaying her art. The Paris edition of the American Register says: "In Paris the most gorgeous salons of the American colony have been the background for her entertainment, as, with an exquisitely modulated voice and extraordinary personal magnetism, she holds her audience spellbound, and is greeted with quite an ovation at each appearance."

Her selections Thursday evening will include the "Ballad of Hell," a strong and emotional piece in which the music is most effective, a fairy piece and some bright selections made especially dainty and catchy by the piano accompaniment. By request Miss Woodward will give "Angelina Johnson" and interpretation of the cake walk in which she made such a hit last season at a reception given by Ambassador McCormick in Paris.

A special feature of the program will be the rendering by Mr. Tew of English County songs including the attractive Somerset dialect and of the arrangements of old Irish airs with the rich brogue, all of which Mr. Tew sings most charmingly. "Myself When Young" (Persian Garden) by Liza Lehmann will also be given and shows to best advantage the deep bass voice of such unusual compass. "La Belle Marguerite", that exquisite song by Vincent Thomas, author of the opero Gwenevere, recently produced in London and the leading role was taken by Mr. Tew, will be one of the gems of the evening. Mr. Tew's mastery of the different languages, as well as the many dialects is most remarkable, while his sympathetic temperament places him at once in the mood of each song and his wonderful memory is a powerful aid in enabling him to carry out the correct interpretation. His striking appearance predisposes his audience in his favor at the start.

Mr. Tew is returning to England after a brief season here. Miss Woodward is in this country for a few months only, spending nearly all her time in New York and the west, and this is therefore an unusual opportunity for hearing two of the great artists of the day.

City Hall Notes.

Representative Bishop missed the last meeting of the board of aldermen of 1906 of which he is a member, thru an attack of tonsillitis.

A civil service examination will be held next Tuesday to fill the vacancy in the position of sanitary inspector of the health department.

SCHOOL BOARD

The School board organized Monday evening with the choice of Robert S. Gorham as Chairman and Mrs. Mary E. Sherwood as secretary. The Chairman then appointed the usual sub-committees the more important being as follows: High School—Gorham, Howard and Tucker.

Evening Schools—Cobb, Wells and Knowlton.
Finance—Bothfeld, Carter and Morton.
The rules and regulations for 1906 were adopted until otherwise ordered. The steel engraving presented to the High School by the Yale Club of Boston was accepted.

The Republican committee of Ward Six sent a communication suggesting the name of Mr. William H. Rice for the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. Tilney.

Telephone Rentals

In his remarks before the Highway Commission at the recent hearing on the matter of rates charged for telephone service Mr. Edward K. Hall spoke in part as follows:

The telephone business started right here in Massachusetts. The money that developed it in this state, and so far as the long distance organization is concerned, throughout the United States, was furnished pretty largely by Massachusetts people. Believing that the telephone business had a future in the development of the state and of New England, those people have put their money right into the streets in Massachusetts, have buried it there, and have made a large investment in Massachusetts and in other parts of New England. They are here to stay. Our only revenue comes from the public, from our subscribers. The officers of the company are proud, and I think they are justly proud, of the development that they have made of the telephone business up to the present time in New England. They have very likely made mistakes. If they have not, they are different from all the rest of us. They probably will make mistakes in the future; but they have learned a good many things and they are learning some things every day.

Our subscribers' interests are our interests, absolutely. The more we know about and appreciate their needs and their desires, the better we can serve them; and the more they know about our problems that we are encountering in their service, the more they will appreciate the service we give. Consequently, the attitude of the New England Telephone & Telegraph Company is one of cooperation with any legitimate bona fide inquiry into either the quality of our service, the extent of our service, the rates that we charge for it, or the manner in which we undertake to equalize and properly apportion those rates between the large and the small consumer, the business house and the residence, the city and the suburbs.

Just compare the railroad problem with the problem of the Telephone Company, for instance, when it comes to the question of equalizing rates and figuring out what the cost of any particular rate should be. The Boston and Suburban Division contains approximately 87,000 subscribers' stations. Where does the traffic start? We don't know where. It starts from any one of 87,000 stations that a subscriber happens to think of. When does it start? We do not know when it is going to start. We do not know when you are going to your telephone and saying you want to get a message across to one of those other 87,000 stations. Where is our traffic going to be delivered? We don't know where it is going to be delivered. We know that it is going to start from one of 87,000 different stations and we know it is going to be delivered to some other one of those 87,000 stations but we don't know which one until we are told, just at the last minute, just as the receiver comes off the hook. We cannot send several of those messages along on the same track. We have to have a special track set up and all ready for use the minute our traffic starts. It is a question of our being ready to furnish a special track for any one of 87,000 people who want it, to any other one of 87,000 people; and about the only thing we do know about it is that when we are called upon to furnish the track and furnish the connection it is wanted instantaneously. That is the only schedule we have got— instantaneously, on demand, we are supposed to deliver a connection, and we don't know where it is coming from or where it is going until just at the second when it comes to us.

Y. M. C. A.

By superior all round team work Newton Y. M. C. A. defeated Gloucester Y. M. C. A., 33 to 10, in the association gymnasium here Wednesday night. The blocking of the Newton players, especially Porter, was admirable. Wilson put up a good exhibition of basket shooting, making eight baskets from the floor.

Newton Y. M. C. A. second team defeated Boston Y. M. C. A. second team, 37 to 14, in the second game Wednesday night. Newton played loosely in the first half but in the second period put up an excellent contest. Connors, Hanson and Ward were the star players for Newton, while Houghton put up the best game for the visitors.

High School Notes

The Harvard freshmen had little difficulty in defeating Newton high, 10 to 0, in an ice hockey game played Wednesday afternoon on the Brae Burn Country club rink. Harvard played Hicks, the former Arlington high star, as one of its forwards.

Women

The Civic Committee of the Massachusetts State Federation invite all club members interested in civic improvement to attend a Conference of Civic Committees of the Federated Clubs at Perkins Hall, 264 Boylston St., Boston, Friday, January 25, 1907, at 10.30. The following lines of work will be presented and an opportunity for discussion will be given: Health, Mrs. Rufus P. Williams; Travelling Health Library, Miss Sue W. Child; Medical Inspection in Schools, Dr. Augusta G. Williams; Juvenile Court, Mrs. Esther M. Andrews; Local History, Mrs. Jennie A. Raymond; Stamp Savings, Mrs. Susan A. Weeks.

On Wednesday morning the members of the Social Science Club had the pleasure of listening to a delightful paper by Miss Mary L. Spear on "The Power of Individuality." The essayist gave a high tribute to the individuality of President Roosevelt and to all that he accomplished both in public and private life. He has time, she said, amidst all his cares to serve humanity and time to worship God. Miss Spear discussed the various sorts of temperament, the sanguine, the melancholic, the choleric and the phlegmatic, that the psychologists tell us about. While she cited instances of examples of these, she said that they exist in endless blends and shadings. Anxiety, surroundings, instinct, and habits are responsible for this mixture. Among examples of strong individuality which she mentioned were, Whitier, Alice Freeman Palmer, Murillo, Dr. Samuel Johnson, Beethoven. As a type of the sadness of bad individuality, she cited Aaron Burr and read a description of him given by Mrs. Stowe in "The Minister's Wooing," while as one who represents the glory of the good Mark Fagan of Jersey City was presented. The paper was full of suggestion, of quiet, subtle humor and of inspiring thoughts.

At the next meeting of the Social Science Club the Civic Committee will present a discussion of Medical Inspection in the Public Schools and Civil Service Reform.

Address, STEVENS BUILDING, Newton Corner, Newton

To The Honorable Board Of Aldermen Of The City of Newton.

The Board of Directors of the Newton Street Railway Company, a corporation duly organized under the laws of the Commonwealth and operating a street railway in the City of Newton, respectfully represents that public convenience and necessity require a re-location of its tracks upon Washington Street in said City of Newton, at Nonantum Square.

WHEREFORE your petitioner respectfully petitions for the right to re-locate its tracks as shown on plan filed herewith date June 20th, 1906, (10758).

And your petitioner further requests the privilege to make such underground, surface and overhead alterations as may be necessary to properly construct said tracks.

Your petitioner also requests permission to erect such necessary poles and overhead wires as may be necessary for the operation of its railway upon said location by the Overhead Single Trolley System.

Respectfully submitted,
The Board of Directors of the Newton Street Railway Company,
By Samuel L. Powers, President.

In BOARD OF ALDERMEN, January 14, 1907.

Upon the foregoing petition it is ordered by the Board of Aldermen of the City of Newton that a hearing be had thereon on Monday, the 4th day of February, 1907, at 7.45 o'clock p.m., before said Board in the City Hall, in that part of said Newton called West Newton, and that notice of the time and place of such hearing be given by publication of the foregoing petition and this order thereon fourteen days at least before the day of said hearing in the following newspaper published in said City of Newton: Newton Graphic.

By order of the Board,
I. F. KINGSBURY, Clerk.

CITY OF NEWTON.

To The Honorable Board Of Aldermen Of The City of Newton:

The Board of Directors of the Newton Street Railway Company, a corporation duly organized under the laws of this State, and operating a street railway in the City of Newton, respectfully represents that public convenience and necessity require an extension of its location upon Washington Street in said City of Newton between Auburn Street westerly to a point near Atherton Place in said City of Newton.

Therefore, your petitioner, respectfully requests that an extension of location be granted to it for an additional track between the points above mentioned in such a manner as to form with its present track a double-track location, all as shown on plan filed, (10622)

Your petitioner further requests the right to make such underground, surface and overhead alterations as may be necessary to properly construct said additional track and to connect its present track with such additional track in such a manner as to form a proper system of double tracks between the above points.

Your petitioner also requests permission to erect such necessary poles and overhead wires as may be necessary for the operation of this railway upon said location.

Respectfully submitted,
Board of Directors of the Newton Street Railway Company

In BOARD OF ALDERMEN, January 14, 1907.

Upon the foregoing petition it is ordered by the Board of Aldermen of the City of Newton that a hearing be had thereon on Monday, the 4th day of February, 1907, at 7.45 o'clock p.m., before said Board in the City Hall, in that part of said Newton called West Newton, and that notice of the time and place of such hearing be given by publication of the foregoing petition and this order thereon fourteen days at least before the day of said hearing in the following newspaper published in said City of Newton: Newton Graphic.

—At the session of the Sunday School of Channing church last Sunday Rev. Adelbert L. Hudson, on behalf of the members of the school presented Mr. Edward Moll, who retires as superintendent with a handsome silver pitcher. Mr. Moll replied briefly, in acknowledging the gift, and Mr. Henry C. Hardon spoke of Mr. Moll's valuable work in the school and the regret of all at his removal from the city.

—A large audience was present at Channing church Sunday afternoon when the monthly vesper service was held. The musical program consisted of a fine rendering of selections from Sir Arthur Sullivan's oratorio, "The Prodigal Son," by the choir, assisted by a mixed chorus, under the direction of Mr. Henry T. Wade, the organist. At the next vesper service on Sunday, Feb. 10th, selections will be given from "The Creation" by Haydn.

Mrs. Knapp

Mrs. Abbie B. Knapp, widow of the late Charles L. Knapp, died at the residence of Mrs. Frank J. Wetherell on Walnut street, Newtonville, last Tuesday. She formerly made her home in Auburndale but had resided here for many years. Funeral services were held from the chapel at Forest Hills Cemetery Thursday at 2.30. Rev. Richard T. Loring, rector of St. John's church, officiating and a number of relatives and friends were present.

BELGRADE RUG COMPANY.

Worn-out and cast-off carpets are not useless, after all. The Belgrade Rug Company, at 32 Hollis street, Boston, Mass., have a way of re-making them in such a way that they not only make a beautiful appearance but that they prove durable in the use of them. Don't throw away your old carpets when they seem hopeless. See what the Belgrade Rug Company can do with them, no matter how torn and unattractive. They issue a circular which states briefly how goods make the handiwork rugs, etc., as well as price list and shipping directions.

LEGENDS OF OLD MINES.

The Value of the Records of Past Production.

American mining engineers are familiar with speculative schemes, based upon the real or supposed former productiveness of the mines upon which they are started. To any nothing of such enterprises as that of Richard Burton, who thought he had rediscovered in Egypt the sources of Solomon's treasure (itself somewhat mythical), there are more recent instances in abundance. The books of Humboldt and Ward on Mexico gave rise in the first half of the nineteenth century to an immense and disastrous investment of English capital in the unwatering of old Mexican gold and silver mines on the strength of reports from "government archives," showing their immense production and sundry legends, accounting for their temporary abandonment. In the prospectuses of such schemes, references to pestilence, war, quarrels among owners, etc., as the causes of the interruption of an almost incredibly profitable business are well known features.

No doubt all ancient evidence, whether historical or legendary, has its value for mining enterprises, but it is well to bear in mind that Mexican miners did not usually leave rich ore when they stopped working a mine, and there is another proposition, applicable to many mines outside of Mexico, yet too often overlooked—namely, the record of past production is a measure not of what is left, but of what is not left. In the ore deposit of a mine.—Engineering and Mining News.

GOOD CHEER AT MEALS

The Value of Laughter as an Aid to Digestion.

Nothing else will take the place of good cheer and laughter at meals or any other time in the home. There is a vital connection between amiability and digestion—between good cheer and assimilation. Laughter is the best friend the liver has and depression or melancholia its worst enemy. Numerous experiments have shown that mirth and cheerfulness stimulate the secretion of the gastric juices and are powerful aids to digestion. Yet, knowing this, many of us sit as gloomy and absorbed at the table as at a funeral. In many homes scarcely a word is spoken at meals outside of requests for an article of food.

The meal hour ought to mean something besides supplying a mere animal function. The bell which calls the family to the table ought to be the signal for a good time generally, when all cares should be thrown off and everybody appear at his best. It ought to signalize the time for mirth and laughter. It ought to be looked forward to by the members of the family as the recess or nooning is looked forward to by pupils in school as a let-up from the strenuous life.—Orison Swett Marden in Success Magazine.

Mushrooms.

An enthusiast on the subject of mushrooms says there is to more reason to mistake a good mushroom for a poisonous toadstool than to confound nightshade with huckleberries. The distinctions are clear and simple and easily learned. Real mushrooms are known by their beautiful pink gills, not reaching the stem, which stem carries a well marked white woolly ring; by the very fleshy down covered top, the delicious and enticing fragrance, the firm, white flesh, sometimes inclined to pink when cut or broken. One or two rules in regard to gathering mushrooms, we are told, will remove all the peril from the pursuit of them. Examine carefully every specimen you gather. If at all doubtful, throw it away. Show it to somebody that knows. Never cook mushrooms unless you know they are gathered by somebody that knows.

How Legged Men.

Do not revile the bow legged man, for he plays an important part in the world. It is estimated that 40 per cent of mankind are bow legged, so numerically this class is entitled to great respect. Bow legs invariably accompany a robust physique. We find them one of the conspicuous features of athletes. Comedians are almost always bow legged. Of the bow legged geniuses to which humanity points with pride the most illustrious examples are Caesar, Horace, Napoleon, Wellington, Schopenhauer and Cavour, the celebrated Italian statesman.—London Answers.

The Bright Side.

Words of cheer are words of help: words of gloom are words of harm. There is a bright side and a dark side to every phase of life and to every hour of time. If we speak of the bright side, we bring the brightness into prominence; if we speak of the dark side, we deepen its shadows. It is in our power to help or to hinder by a word any and every person with whom we come in contact.

In the Hall of Fame.

"His father is in the hall of fame." "Why, I didn't know the old gentleman was dead." "Have to be dead to be in there?" "Sure." "Well, he is only in there dusting the busts."

The Limit.

The height of superiority was voiced the other day by a commuter who said that he regarded a certain man, then under discussion, as the fourth ball to a pawnbroker's sign.—Puck.

Pursue not a victory too far. He hath conquered well that has made his enemy fly. Then wayest least him to a desperate resistance, which may ruin thee.—George Herbert.

WANTED A RAISE.

A Story of Marshall Field and One of His Pensioners.

Among the charities of Marshall Field was a pension list of persons to whom a stated sum was sent regularly each month. With these he was generous, but he disliked being imposed upon. One man, who had in some way impressed Mr. Field with his deserts, had a check each thirty days for $25. He had gone far from Mr. Field's memory, but remained on the list. His pension made him quite "an eligible party" in the circle in which he lived, and at last he yielded to the blandishments of his landlady, an elderly, prosperous widow, and married her.

"Now, Henry," she said to him next day, "we'll just be having your pay raised. You can't keep two as easily as you can one. Mr. Field is a rich man, and he will understand that. You go down and tell him you need $50 a month now."

Away went Henry, and after much argument and persuasion obtained access to the inner office of the great merchant, where he stated his case. Mr. Field became interested at once. "A widow, eh?" he inquired, smiling. "Did she ask you or you her?" "Well, sir," stammered Henry, "I guess she did tend up to it." "How old is she?" "About forty, sir." "Did she support herself?" "Yes, sir. She has a big boarding house. I boarded with her. I do yet, in fact."

"Ah, yes," said Mr. Field. "So you want a raise, do you? Let me see. How much was your pension? Twenty-five dollars? Well, you won't have to pay any board now, so suppose we make it twelve and a half? That will keep you in spending money."—Youth's Companion.

SENTENCE RHYTHM.

Idiosyncrasies of Writers and Speakers in This Respect.

All experienced writers and speakers manifest a personal peculiarity in the rhythm of their sentences. The writer indicates this by the recurrent lengths of his sentences and the speaker by his interpretation. Most of us are unaware of the fact that we have a normal length of sentences and that we retain this length when possible. Recent investigations have discovered this fact, and the evidence is indisputable. The successive sentences admit of variations, but the average length of sentences of any ordinary author is claimed to be ascertainable from the reading of any 500 lines of his typical works.

In English prose and poetry the thought is of the most importance and the form of expression is but secondary. In chanting and in music the thought is subordinated to the form, and in these forms of expression the rhythm is much more prominent than in prose or poetry. It is aesthetically displeasing to have too much made of rhythm in reading prose and poetry, but the highest manifestations of art are present when the rhythmic form is used to express the thought. We do not like to have that which is most important subordinated to the less important, but our aesthetic natures crave rhythm, and when the best expression of thought coincides with the production of rhythm we respond at once with enthusiastic approval.—Walter Dill Scott in Talent.

Trading in Your Own Town.

A right that belongs to every citizen is the privilege of spending his earnings in whatever manner and where he wishes as long as he keeps within the law. No one will dispute the farmer's claim that he can send his money to any place that he wishes and buy goods he needs wherever he wants to. But there is an economic side of the question that should not be overlooked, says D. M. Carr in Home Trade Advocate. The resident of a community should be active in furthering the interests of the place he calls home. He is working contrarily to his own good when he sends his money to the distant city for supplies he knows can be secured in his home town. The dollar sent away goes out of circulation and ceases to be a factor in the building up of the community from which it is sent.

How Snakes Move and Climb.

The vertebrae of a snake are fitted together by a kind of ball and socket articulation, which, however, is capable of only lateral or side to side motion. A snake moves by propelling himself on the points of his scales, which, to him, answer the purpose of ribs. A snake does not climb a tree or a bush by coiling around it, as most people who have not investigated the matter believe, but by balancing himself very evenly and holding on with the points and edges of his scales. A snake on a pane of glass or other polished surface where the scales cannot take hold is almost perfectly helpless.

True in Both Cases.

"There are many stars that are never seen," said the astronomer reflectively. "Yes, and there are a lot that never ought to be seen, too," returned the theatrical manager, with some emphasis.

It was two days later before the astronomer finally got it through his head that the theatrical manager was not a plain, everyday idiot.

A Distinction.

"I suppose," said the timid young man, "when you recall what a handsome man your first husband was you wouldn't consider me for a minute?" "Oh, yes, I would," replied the widow instantly. "But I wouldn't consider you for a second."

Courtesy goes a long way, but flattery farther.—Schoolmaster.

Recent speeches before the Economic Club of Boston on the government of cities has stirred up quite a discussion from the suggestion of President Eliot of Harvard that Boston would be better governed by seven selectmen. Any suggestion from Dr. Eliot is worthy of serious attention regardless of its subject, and yet, we fear that Dr. Eliot has missed the key stone of all efficient municipal government. In our humble opinion, backed by over twenty years of intimate and careful association with that subject, the only prime factor is plain, ordinary honesty. Honest men can administer any city government, regardless of its form. Dishonest men can corrupt a system designed by angels. We greatly fear that a scheme to govern Boston on the lines laid down by Dr. Eliot who fare the fate heretofore meted out to the various methods devised to elect its board of aldermen. So long as city politics divides up the best people between two political parties, just so long will the better element be without adequate representation.

Another statement to which we take exceptions was made at the same meeting, when Mr. Turner said, "never since it has been adopted has city government been successful in the United States." Mr. Turner was referring to the dual, or two board city government similar to what Newton had before the present charter. We have yet to learn that our former method of government was unsuccessful in this city. We abandoned it simply to place more power in the hands of the mayor, but the government for 25 years was successful, measured by whatever standard one may select.

In its relations to the metropolitan district, however Newton has an interest which it should not neglect. If Dr. Eliot's plan could be adapted to a governing board for the metropolitan district, with members so apportioned that each section would have adequate representation, it might be worth a trial. This is also a subject which might be discussed with profit to all.

The rumors of possible removal of the B. & A. trams to the old Providence station on Park Square, Boston, have raised many questions among suburbanites. We believe the business men would oppose the change, as the station is so far from the business district that a trip would be necessary on an electric car. The ladies, on the contrary, would be delighted with the change, the train leaving them in the heart of the shopping district. The project will probably be given careful consideration as it would involve a considerable enlargement of the present station in order to accommodate the trackage now required by the B. & A. In the South terminal, this company now uses seven tracks and requires ten. We understand that the old Providence station only has room for six tracks, so a material enlargement would be necessary. We believe the company, instead of expending large sums of money to acquire and enlarge this property, and to connect with it, should proceed to utilize the subway facilities now lying dormant in the South terminal, and electrify its circuit business. We are aware that this means a depression of the Albany tracks under those of the New Haven road in the Terminal yard, at a considerable cost, but believe the results would be far more satisfactory to the travelling public than a return to independent stations.

The campaign for reduced water rates which the GRAPHIC has been waging for the past year and a half, received partial vindication in Mayor Warren's address to the new board of aldermen this week. The mayor favors a slight reduction in three classes of rates—one dollar on single faucets, one dollar on the minimum charge and fifty cents on the meter rental, and a change in the basis of measurement from gallons to cubic feet. The last recommendation will reduce the price of water from 35 to 33 cents per 1000 gallons. While the mayor has not, in our opinion, gone as far as he should in this reduction, still, it is satisfactory in the main, as the principle for which the GRAPHIC has contended—that a self supporting department should render some return to the people—is admitted. We are truly sorry that the Mayor did not abolish the unnecessary meter rent tax, instead of reducing it a trifle. This charge is nothing but a bookkeeping account at the best and its abolition would be appreciated by many citizens.

The plan to reduce the number of members of the board of aldermen and school committee which has been presented to the city government is worthy of careful consideration. While our present board is working admirably, it is too small to be influenced by debate, and too large for actual work by all. We should favor a reduction in numbers in both the aldermen and school committee. The matter of biennial elections, however, which has been coupled with the project is a different proposition. We do not believe that the present system of biennial election of a mayor would be favored by the voters of today. Every effort should be made to induce an interest in political affairs rather than to discourage it. Tax payers should be given ample opportunity to express their views and to influence the men who handle the city's purse strings. Once in a twelve month is none too soon for such expression and we earnestly hope that the agitation of biennial elections will cease.

A meeting of more than ordinary interest was held at Potter Hall, Boston, on Saturday, January 12, under the auspices of the Boston Section of the Council of Jewish Women and the Civics Committee of the State Federation, when the "Present Condition of Juvenile Courts" was presented by eminent speakers. Invitations had been sent to all clubs in and around Boston and a large number were present in spite of the inclement weather. Dr. Warren F. Spaulding of the Massachusetts Prison Commission told of the new methods of dealing with the children who are arrested for crime in contrast with the old methods. Now instead of considering them as criminals and treating them as such, they are regarded as delinquents and are placed upon probation under the charge of probation officers who follow up the children, investigate the home surroundings and in every way possible help them to become better. They are rather watched over than watched. The new way is proving a better one even in the short time that it has been in force. There is great need of volunteer workers who shall take charge of these children and to whom they may report at stated intervals, for the probation officers cannot possibly do justice to the large number that come regularly under their care. Indianapolis which has had this system for some time, has from 100 to 150 volunteer workers. Dr. Spaulding pointed out one defect that exists at present, that if the boy has passed the age of fifteen he cannot be sent to the Lyman School but must go to the Reformatory where are confined men as well. Their influence is often very bad upon these boys. If there were an intermediate industrial school this might be averted. It has as yet been impossible to convince the legislature that this is necessary and as a result we are losing the boys and the dollars as well, when the additional cost to the state of caring for these criminals later on is taken into consideration.

Among the other speakers were: Mr. Joseph Lee of the Massachusetts Civic League, Judge Baker of the Juvenile Court, the Superintendent of the Children's Aid Society, Miss Mary W. Dewson, superintendent of probationers from the State Industrial School for Girls. All urged the necessity of friendly visiting from volunteers and of arousing the interest of the public in the whole matter. At the close of the discussion the guests were invited to Howe Hall where the ample hospitality of the Council of Jewish Women was enjoyed.

High School Notes

In the first league game of the season Newton defeated Cambridge Latin by the score of 2 to 0, last Friday. The puck was in Cambridge's territory most of the game. Mellen shot the two goals. The candidates for the track team have been practising daily in the drill hall under the supervision of Mr. Thompson. Some very fast men were reported.

The "N" for foot-ball has been awarded fourteen men, and N 2nd's to three others by the athletic committee.

The hockey team was badly beaten by the Harvard '10 team on Tuesday. The score, 11 to 0, tells the story. The Harvard men were much heavier and faster.

Newton and Brookline play the last league game at Brae-Burn today.

Final Meeting

The final session of the aldermen of 1906 was held Monday afternoon at two o'clock with President Carter in the chair, and Aldermen Bosson, Burr, Cabot, Clarke, Day, Doherty, Ellis, Hunt, Stone, Underwood, Weston and White being present.

The report of Amos D. Albee, expert accountant on his recent examination of the books of the city treasurer was received. The select committee on early records made its annual report recommending that an appropriation be made for the preparation of copy, and it was referred to the Committee on Finance.

An order referring all unfinished business to the board of 1907 was adopted and the board at 2.16 P. M. adjourned.

Judge Kennedy on Muzzles

"A muzzle should be so constructed of such material to render it impossible for a dog to bite anyone. A strap which makes it possible for a dog to take a bone in its mouth is not a muzzle within the meaning of the law," declared Judge John C. Kennedy in the police court Monday morning.

In rendering a decision in the case of Clarence H. Lingham, a Boston business man living at 309 Lake avenue, Newton Highlands, who was charged with not properly muzzling his collie dog, Judge Kennedy said: "It is not the purpose of this court to make a record of guilty against a person who has not wilfully violated the law."

"I have not the slightest doubt but that this contrivance which the defendant called a muzzle was not within the meaning of the law. It is only a question, however, whether the defendant intended to violate the law. In view of the fact that he was not personally notified by a patrolman that his dog was not properly muzzled and that other dog owners were so notified I find the defendant not guilty."

This decision caused much surprise to the police, as notices regarding the muzzling ordinance recently passed by the aldermen had been sent to every house in the city. It was brought out in the testimony that in a number of instances persons using strap muzzles not properly adjusted had been notified by patrolmen that they were not obeying the ordinance. Mr. Lingham, it was asserted, had not so been notified.

Asst. City Clerk Frank M. Grant testified to licensing the dog. Patrolman Rufus Moulton testified that in December he left a copy of the muzzling ordinance at Mr. Lingham's house. On Jan. 9 he saw the dog not properly muzzled, and on Jan. 11 Mr. Lingham, he testified, said the dog was wearing the same kind of muzzle which he had worn since the ordinance had been passed and which he would continue to wear.

"The dog opened its mouth wide enough for me to put part of my hand into his mouth," testified patrolman Moulton. "Mr. Lingham told me it was his intention to live up to the law," he added.

A strap muzzle such as the dog had worn was exhibited. "I would like to have it settled when a dog is properly muzzled," said patrolman Moulton to the court. "I have asked a good many persons and none of them agree."

Judge Kennedy then said that strap muzzles are not legal unless adjusted so that the dogs cannot bite or eat. After finding Mr. Lingham not guilty, he told the defendant that he must see that the dog is properly muzzled hereafter.

Mr. Spaulding's Water Colors At Hunnewell Club

Beginning on Tuesday of next week, Jan. 22, Henry Plympton Spaulding (formerly of Newton) will exhibit some of his recent European paintings in water color in the rooms of the Hunnewell Club. The subjects are mostly Italian—Capri, Ravenna, Rapallo (near Geneva), and Venice. A few studies in quaint French towns on the Normandy coast and some of Mr. Spaulding's well known Gloucester, Mass., marines will also be shown. Admission by ticket which may be obtained free at Hubbard's drug store of from members of the club. The exhibition will open on Tuesday, Jan. 22 and continue through Thursday, Jan. 24, from 10 A. M. to 9 P. M.

Lincoln Park Baptist Church

The annual meeting, roll call and supper of the church was held on Wednesday, Jan. 16th in the chapel. There was a goodly number attended notwithstanding the severe cold weather. The social hour from 6 to 7 o'clock was one of the pleasant features of the evening, reunion of old friends and non resident members. Pastor Snell was delightful in his cordial greetings aided by the members of the executive and prudential committees and their wives.

At 7 o'clock supper was announced and after the Pastor had asked blessing on the food all sat down to the bountifully supplied tables, loaded with good things. The young gentlemen and young ladies of the Chelmsford Endeavor Society acted as waiters, under the direction of Leslie Gammons and wife. There were about 200 served and they expressed their appreciation of the good things by the manner in which they relieved the tables of their load.

After supper the roll call showed 149 members present and responding to their names 6 by letter and with husbands and wives of members 48 more present.

Dea. H. A. Inman was re-elected moderator and Alfred L. Barbour, clerk; Herbert A. Pike, treasurer; James McKissock, ass't. treas.; The executive committee and prudential committees were elected with the same members as last year. The treasurer's report showed a deficit of about $500, but members had subscribed to wipe it out $253 and the offerings brought in at the meeting $29 made up the amount of the deficit. The occasion was one enjoyed by all.

Mrs. Fowle Dead

Mrs. Elizabeth A. Fowle, widow of the late Charles A. Fowle, passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. George A. Blaney on Valentine street, last Saturday. She was a native of Swampscott and was 76 years of age. A daughter and son survive her. Funeral services were held from the house Tuesday morning, Rev. Mr. Young of Dedham officiating, and the remains were taken to Forest Hills Cemetery for burial.

Claffin Guard Notes

Next Monday evening the Claffin Guard will hold their 36th annual Prize Drill and Dance. Extensive preparations have been made for the affair and a most pleasant time is anticipated.

Last Monday ended the Competition for all around efficiency for the year 1906, this competition is open to the privates of the Company only and resulted in the following men coming out as winners. Lance Corp. Young 1st prize $5.00, Priv. Davis 2nd, $3.00, Priv. Reynolds 3rd, Prize $2.00. This competition was made possible through the generosity of Lieut. Daniels and has been the means of increasing the interest in Company work to a great extent.

The monthly drill reports for the month of November has been returned by the Regimental Adjt. and shows the Claffin Guard leading the Regiment by a good margin, but then they are in their right place and will most likely continue there.

BOSTON'S LACK OF HUMOR.

An English View of the Landmarks of the "Hub."

I have said that Boston loves relics. The relic which it loves best are the relics of England's discomfiture. The stately portraits of Copley are of small account compared to the memorials of what was nothing else than a civil war. Faneuil hall, the Covent Garden of Boston, presented to the city by Peter Faneuil some thirty years before the birth of "Liberty," is now but an emblem of revolt. The Old South meeting place is endeared to the citizens of Boston as "the sanctuary of freedom." A vast monument, erected a mere quarter of a century ago, commemorates the "Boston massacre." And wherever you turn you are reminded of an episode which might easily be forgotten. To an Englishman these historical landmarks are inoffensive. The dispute which they recall aroused far less emotion on our side of the ocean than on the other, and long ago we saw the events of the Revolution in a fair perspective. In truth, this insistence on the past is not wholly creditable to Boston's sense of humor. The passionate paens which Otis and his friends sang to liberty were irrelevant. Liberty was never for a moment in danger, if liberty, indeed, be a thing of fact and not of words. The leaders of the Revolution wrote and spoke as though it was their duty to throw off the yoke of the foreigner—a yoke as heavy as that which Catholic Spain cast upon Protestant Holland. But there was no yoke to be thrown off, because no yoke was ever imposed, and Boston might have celebrated greater events in her history than that which an American statesman has wisely called "the glittering and sounding generalities of natural right."—Charles Whitley in Blackwood's Magazine.

IMITATIVE WOMAN.

A Cynical English View of Feminine Human Nature.

Decidedly women are an imitative class. From her earliest age the small girl apes the doings of her elders and, had she her own way, would be a miniature epitome of fashion. Such entertainments as she is permitted to witness in her mother's drawing room she imitates, with dolls and nurses for company. In the nursery. In her school days she invariably "forgets" herself on some special friend whom she elects as a model of feminine perfection. And at a certain stage of her lives girls are as much alike as pens in a pod. As they mature and develop they may perhaps show some signs of individuality, but in all the main issues of life they continue to be more imitative than original.

Fashions, housekeeping and entertaining are all more or less conducted on the same lines, and the only true sign of friendship that is shown to the young married woman is to beg her to order her life and her home on her friend's principles. Any departure from those principles or any symptom of individual taste or strength of mind will sound the first challenge of unpopularity for the budding matron. Her mother and her mother's friends will alike desire imitation of their methods as the "sincerest form of flattery," and every decline from the original system will be pronounced wrong or injudicious.—Rita in London Mail.

Too Rapid Growth.

The minister's six-year-old son is of a very critical, literal turn of mind, and his father's sermons sometimes puzzle him sorely. He regards his father as the embodiment of truth and wisdom, but he has difficulty in harmonizing the dominion's pulpit utterances with the world as it really is. His parents encourage him to express his opinions and clear up his doubts as much as possible. So one Sunday at dinner, after a long period of thought, they were not surprised when he said gravely, "Papa, you said one thing in your sermon today that I don't think is so at all."

"Well, what's that, my boy?" asked the clergyman.

"Why, papa, you said 'The boy of today is the man of tomorrow.' That's too good."

Charles G. Ames, pastor of the Church of the Disciples, Boston, was in charge of the service and the burial followed later in the family lot in Mount Auburn Cemetery.

No more practical demonstration of the accumulative effect of doing business by modern methods can be seen than that at Burdett College of Business and Shorthand, 18 Boylston St., Boston. Less than thirty years ago this school, now the leading business college of New England, was small and comparatively unknown. Today its name is a household word, and its diploma a passport to business success. The College owes its marvellous growth to the determination on the part of President Burdett and his associates to make the standard for each year's work a little higher than that of the preceding year. The latest addition to the working equipment of this school is the "Office Appliance Practice Room" which is fitted up with modern office devices for the practical education of students. The mid-year term at Burdett College will begin on Monday, February 4.

Bowling

Northgate continued on its victorious career in the Newton league this week with a three straight win over Newton Road, Saunders getting the fine total of 500 while Carter was close behind with 582. Riverdale did the same trick with Allston Golf, Sabin being high man with 592. Strange to relate Hunnewell succeeded in beating Maugus by the same score, although it must be said that Maugus was somewhat crippled.

QUEER EASTER CUSTOM.

The Way Filipino Penitents Torture Themselves.

One of the many curious customs practiced by some persons in the Philippine Islands is the way in which they observe the week before Easter. For the Thursday, Friday and Saturday before Easter the streets or roads on the outskirts of some villages and sometimes the principal streets of the town itself are filled with crowds, who have come to see the natives inflict self torture.

The willing victims are stripped to the waist, their faces are covered with a thick cloth and around one hand is a heavy hemp rope, with a cluster of from fifteen to twenty smaller hempen cords. To each of these is fastened a small piece of hard wood. The whole thing is just long enough so that when swung over the shoulder it will not quite reach to the waist.

When the penitents are ready to start out a Filipino, who has been appointed as a sort of overseer, takes the flesh of the back between his thumb and first finger and cuts the skin with a long bolo. This is done all over the back. He then cries, "Alla, sigle" ("Go ahead"). Then the penitent begins to beat his back by lashing his cluster of little pieces of wood and cords first over one shoulder, then over the other, until the back is so lacerated that it somewhat resembles raw beef. All the while the onlookers and victims also are singing, or, rather, chanting, a most dismal, unearthly funeral chant.—New York Tribune.

QUICKSILVER MINING.

An Occupation That Quickly Dooms the Workers.

The chief quicksilver mines in Europe are in the Spanish town Almaden, which is an Arabic word, meaning "the mine of quicksilver." These mines were formerly worked by the Iberians and after them by the ancient Romans. Between 1045 and 1843 the Spanish government employed galley slaves in them, an occupation that soon ended in death. The fumes of the mercury produce constant salivation, and the system becomes permeated with the metal.

At first the victim is seized with tremblings and then the teeth drop out; palms in the bones follow and then death. The annual yield of mercury is 1,600,000 pounds, to produce which 4,000 men are engaged in this unhealthy employment.

After Almaden, so far as yield of quicksilver is concerned, comes Idria, an Austrian town, twenty-eight miles from Trieste. These mines also were once worked by criminals, who, owing to the terrible qualities of the mineral, expired after about two years' service. There are now nearly 500 miners engaged in the work at Idria. They are induced to enter the mines by high pay. A pension is allowed when they are disabled, and provision is made for their widows and children.—Penny's.

Gunpowder.

The explosive nature of gunpowder, which is made of charcoal, sulphur and saltpeter, is due to the fact that when fired the charcoal and sulphur are burned at the expense of the oxygen in the saltpeter, much heat is developed and large quantities of gas are produced. This gas exerts great pressure on the sides of the gun; hence its disruptive or propulsive effects. When gunpowder is fired in a gun the explosion is not instantaneous. The expansive force of the gases produced acts on the shot all the time it is moving along the barrel and gradually increases its velocity. If the explosion were so sudden as to be practically instantaneous the greater part of the force would be exerted mainly on the sides of the chamber containing the powder and not, as is actually the case, on the shot.

The Oldest Prescription.

The oldest medical prescription in existence bears date of 4000 B. C. It was discovered in an Egyptian tomb, written on papyrus, and has been deciphered by an English professor. It bears evidence that it was intended for some baldheaded Egyptian and reads as follows:

Parts.
Dog's paw (calloused part).....1
Dates1
Donkey hoofs1

Boll the whole in oil and rub the scalp actively with the mixture.

Egyptian history does not say whether or not the patient regained his lost hair.

Hasheesh.

Hasheesh, or the Indian hemp, is a resinous substance produced from the tops of the plant in India. Some authorities state that it is gathered by men who dress themselves in leather clothing and run to and fro in the hemp fields, afterward scraping off the resin from their garments, while other authorities say that it is gathered by rubbing the tops in the hands and afterward scraping the hands. Its narcotic properties are well known.

Old Ships in Norway.

Norwegians have a primitive way of breaking up old, worn-out wooden ships. They take them to exposed rocky parts of the coast and, after anchoring them, leave the breakers of the next storm to smash them to pieces. After the storm the floating fragments are picked up and sold for firewood.

Anxious to Repeat It.

Beck (despondently)—I said something my wife didn't like, and she hasn't spoken to me for two days. Peck (eagerly)—Can you remember what it was you said?

Success is like a generous wine which begins by exciting the intellectual faculties and ends by plunging us into a stupid intoxication.—Bougeart.

Mr. Benjamin F. Good

Mr. Benjamin F. Good passed away at the residence of Mr. Alexander Montgomery on Warren street, Newton Centre, Thursday of last week, aged 38 years. He is survived by his mother and a brother. Mr. Good was connected with the American Steam Packing Company of Boston and was a prominent mason. Funeral services were held from the house Saturday afternoon, Rev. L. J. Birney officiating, and the burial was in the Cambridge cemetery.

Dr. Walter A. Lecompte

Dr. Walter A. Lecompte, son of the late Edwin A. Lecompte and a former well known resident of Chase street, died at a private hospital on Newbury street, Boston, Sunday, following an operation for appendicitis. He was 36 years old and unmarried. Dr. Lecompte was a native of Syracuse, N. Y., and was a graduate of Harvard, class of 1893, and of the Harvard Medical school, class of 1897. He was surgical house officer at the Massachusetts General Hospital for a year and after a year's study abroad was appointed on the staff of the Eye and Ear Infirmary. His office since 1901 has been at 28 Newbury St., where he was in private practice. The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon from the chapel at Forest Hills cemetery, Rev. Richard T. Loring being the officiating clergyman.

Organ Recital

At the Eliot church last evening the third in the series of organ recitals was given before a representative audience by Prof. Herbert John Krumpel of the Central church, Jamaica Plain. Miss Josephine Knight, soprano soloist of the Eliot church quartette was the assisting artist. The program was from the compositions of Wagner, Beethoven, Haydn, Krumpel, Battiste, Gounod, Costa and Rossini. Prof. Krumpel, who became blind at an early age, is a native of London, was formerly a student at the Royal blind school at Edinburgh, and has a degree from the Royal Academy in London. Previous to his coming to the United States he was choirmaster and organist of the North Berwick Parish church in Edinburgh.

The fourth recital will be given Thursday evening, February 14th, by Mr. John Hermann Loud, assisted by Miss Adelaide Griggs, contralto soloist.

Another Carnival

Five hundred merry skaters gliding over the smooth surface of the artificial pond of the Brae Burn country club, West Newton, last Friday evening participated in the third ice carnival of the winter of that well known club.

The night was an ideal one for the merry makers and the ice was in prime condition. Decorations of hundreds of electric lights and Japanese lanterns hung about the sides of the pond and strung in festoons high in the air, with a huge bonfire blazing on the wooded bank, enhanced the beauty of the scene.

A band stationed among the trees on the westerly bank furnished a program of popular airs. In a picturesque cabin at the edge of the pond a fire blazed in the huge fireplace and here the skaters prepared for skating. The curling course and the hockey rink attracted many of the visitors, among whom was a delegation from the Country club, Brookline.

Previous to the carnival dinner was served to a large number of guests in the clubhouse.

Mr. Trowbridge Dead

Mr. Stephen W. Trowbridge passed away at his home on Bradford road, Newton Highlands, last Saturday after a lingering illness. He was a native of Newton and was 72 years of age. As a boy the deceased attended the public schools and as a young man made his home on Park street. He was a lawyer by profession and at one time was president of the Citizens' Mutual Insurance Company of Brighton. A widow and one daughter survive him. Funeral services were held from the house Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Rev. Dr. Smart officiated and a male quartet sang several selections. The interment was at Newton Cemetery.

Charles E. Lauriat Co. are offering some very tempting inducements in the way of a genuine markdown in price on some standard sets of books in handsome binding that were delivered from their binderies too late for the Christmas trade. This is but an incident, though an important one, of their annual sale of remainder lots, etc., in preparation for the inventory which takes place Feb. 1.

Unitarian Club

The monthly meeting of the Unitarian Club of Newton was held last evening at Channing church. In the parlors there was a social reception until 6.30 when dinner was served to about 125 members and guests.

President George Hutchinson presided and several new members were admitted. The entertainment, which came at 7.45 in the parlors, was most unique and was enjoyed by all.

Mrs. David E. Baker of Newtonville read a paper, which she had prepared, entitled, "American Music at the time of the Revolution" and the illustrations were by a quartette consisting of Mrs. George R. Pulsifer, soprano; Miss Josephine Martin, contralto; Mr. George F. Root, tenor and Mr. Waldo W. Cole, bass.

Among the many songs rendered were "Majesty," "David's Lamentation," "Chester," sometimes called the Battle Hymn of the Revolution, all by William Billings; "My Days Have been so Wondrous Free," and "My Love has gone to Sleep," by Francis Hopkinson. "The Patriot's Appeal" or "The Liberty Song" by James Dickinson and "The Song" ode to the Christ Church bells by Dr. Aldrich, dean of Christ Church, Oxford. Possibly the more familiar songs were the ones which closed the program, "Strike the Cymbal," "Columbia" and "Rise Columbia." The audience sang "America" as a fitting conclusion to so patriotic an evening's entertainment.

President Hutchinson made the interesting announcement that at the next meeting, February 21st, Dr. Charles E. Tenney, employed by the Chinese government to look after a group of Chinese young men, who are students in various American institutions of learning, would speak on "The Awakening of China." It is expected that a number of the young Chinamen will be present with Dr. Tenney as guests of the club.

NVL

—There was a large attendance at the annual meeting of the Central Church, held in the Central Church parlors on Wednesday. An enjoyable basket lunch was served and at 2 P. M. the business meeting was held, and the following officers for the year were elected: Mrs. A. P. Felton, Pres.; Mrs. H. R. Gibbs, Vice Pres.; Mrs. L. E. Binney, Sec. and Treas.; Directors, Mrs. C. L. Wilkins, Mrs. N. H. Chadwick, Mrs. D. P. Jewett, Mrs. Walter Kelley, Mrs. C. L. Pierce, Mrs. T. C. Nickerson. Following the business meeting Mrs. H. A. Thorndike in a delightful and graphic manner, gave some reminiscences of her recent trip abroad and showed some fine photographs and interesting curios from the places which she visited.

MAYOR'S ADDRESS

Delivered Before the Board of Aldermen January 14th

Following the example of my immediate predecessor at the beginning of his second year's administration, I beg to submit this, my second annual message, dealing with the condition and affairs of the several departments of the City and suggesting the consideration of several measures which seem to me expedient.

To the Aldermen of 1906 I desire to express my appreciation of their hearty cooperation in conducting the affairs of the City. The record of a more conservative yet harmonious board can hardly be found in our municipal history. The work of the departments has been very satisfactory to me, the assistance and support of the several heads being all that could be desired. It has been a pleasure to be associated with them.

For the next few years we must face the fact of heavier expenses than usual on account of needed new school buildings, but all demands beyond these, to warrant the suggestion of new appropriations, I assume, will be subjected to the closest scrutiny and most exhaustive consideration. To the conservatism of the Boards of Aldermen during the past few years it is largely due that the reduction in our tax rate has been accomplished, and for the welfare of our City it is wise to keep from again increasing this rate.

The financial condition of the City Treasury December 31, 1906, was as follows, viz:—

	GROSS DEBT.	SINKING FUNDS.
Sewer Debt	$1,393,000 00	$652,841 09
Water Debt	1,387,000 00	444,911 56
Washington Street Debt	1,028,000 00	135,069 99
School Debt	861,800 00	253,067 00
Boulevard Debt	523,000 00	249,406 81
Highway Widening Debt	90,000 00	18,445 14
Public Park Debt	28,000 00	26,067 14
City Debt:
Drainage	$ 36,500
Fire	16,000
Highway	77,000
Miscellaneous ..	184,400
	313,900 00	146,452 98
	5,624,700 00	$1,926,261 71
Less Sinking Funds ...	1,926,261 71
Net Debt	$3,698,438 29

The following serial 3½ per cent bonds have been issued during the year 1906, viz:—

Sewer, $15,000 due July 1, 1916 to July 1, 1930.

Water, $30,000 due Feb. 1, 1907 to Feb. 1, 1936.

The following items of debt have matured and been paid during the year 1906, viz:—

April 1, Park Serial Bond	$ 1,000
May 1, Wade School (Serial)	5,000
June 1, Water (Serial)	2,000
June 1, Sewer (Serial)	2,000
June 1, High School (Serial)	2,000
July 1, Sewer (Serial)	3,000
July 1, Water (Serial)	250,000
July 1, Boulevard (Serial)	1,000
July 1, Engine House No. 3 note	10,500
Nov. 1, Water (Serial)	1,000
	$277,500

The following items of debt will become due and payable during the year 1907, viz:—

Feb. 1, Water (Serial)	$1,000
April 1, Park (Serial)	1,000
May 1, Wade School (Serial)	4,000
June 1, Water (Serial)	2,000
June 1, Sewer (Serial)	2,000

June 1, High School (Serial)	2,000
July 1, Sewer (Serial)	3,000
July 1, Boulevard (Serial)	1,000
Nov. 1, Water (Serial)	1,000
Dec. 1, City Hall and Court House bonds ..	30,000
	$47,000

There will become due the following bonds against which there are sinking funds to meet them at maturity during the year 1908, viz:—

April 1, Public Park	$25,000
June 1, City Hall and Court House	10,000
Sept. 1, Bullough's Pond	5,000
	$40,000

In 1909 no bonds with sinking funds will mature but commencing with 1910 there will be very material amounts due each year with the exception of 1913 when the only serial bonds become due.

During the past year the following sums were paid to the Commonwealth of Massachusetts to meet Newton's assessments for its proportion of sinking funds, interest and maintenance charges, viz:—

Metropolitan Parks	$16,503 27
" Sewers	58,372 99
" Water	6,234 22
State Highway	6 63
Abolition Grade Crossings (So. Side) ...	8,576 51
Wellington Bridge	628 86
	$90,322 48

Contributions for sinking funds commencing with 1907, and for some years thereafter will be increased by the necessity of appropriations towards the Washington Street debt and the Highway widening debt; premiums on bonds sold for these purposes having been sufficient for such sinking fund requirements up to the present time. The amount required is practically $16,500 per annum. It is also expected that the taxes in 1907 for Metropolitan Parks will be at least $16,000 more than in 1906.

The City Collector has used extra efforts to collect personal and poll taxes which have been outstanding for a number of years. Changes in methods of collecting have resulted in gratifying success. Overdue taxes in much larger amount, than for many years have been collected, the methods adopted apparently effecting a more ready compliance with the law for payment of taxes, than previously was the case.

In compliance with Chapter 502 Acts of 1906 the medical inspection of Schools was inaugurated last September by the Board of Health, six physicians being appointed to do the work. The inspectors have been of great value in keeping the Board informed at the earliest moment, of cases of infectious diseases, and it is believed the work will be most effective in controlling the spread of contagious diseases.

The financial showing of this department is not so favorable. The original appropriation was $21,793 but extra appropriations and transfers brought the total up to $34,536.03. This increase was due to several causes: first, the increase in the contract price for the collection of garbage, ashes and combustible waste, beginning May 1st, amounting to $2,763.86. This increase was met by a transfer of the necessary amount from the fund of the Executive Department.

The greatest deficiency was in the item of care of contagious sick in the Newton Hospital. Here the original amount asked for was $3,000 but $11,202.15 was needed before the end of the year. This appropriation is used for the care of persons with contagious diseases sent to the Newton Hospital by order of the Board of Health. As the weekly rate paid for these cases is subject to a contract between the City and the Hospital, based each year on the actual cost to the Hospital for the year preceding, the Board of Health has absolutely no control over it; in fact when the estimates for expenses are made up this rate is not known. It is also impossible to know the number of sick persons who may be sent to the Hospital under this contract, and where the Board of Health is confronted with increases in the number of cases and the duration of illness, and a high weekly rate per patient, it naturally follows that a deficiency occurs which must be met by a request for an extra appropriation.

The same may be said in regard to the deficit in the item of care of contagious diseases. This includes everything pertaining to the care of such diseases outside of the hospital, viz: transportation, disinfection, maintenance of the laboratory, and last but by no means least the payment of bills for the care of Newton citizens who are taken ill in other cities and towns. These bills are valid liens against the City which must be paid when due, and there is of course no method of estimating their amount. These bills in 1906 amounted to several hundred dollars more than was expected.

To sum up, in these two items the total increase of the actual over the estimated expenditure was $9,111.50. Of this amount $909.35 was for care of contagious diseases and was met by an extra appropriation. Of the balance $8202.15 which was to pay the bills of the Newton Hospital, $6,850 was from extra appropriations and $1,352.15 was income paid by other cities for care of their citizens by Newton. The remainder of the deficiency, amounting to $797.67, was mainly made up of small amounts added to other items to cover transfers made earlier in the year.

The Fire Department has answered three hundred and ten calls during the year. The following will show the value of buildings and contents at risk, with the estimated insurance and loss on the same:

The property at risk was valued at	$925,630 00
Estimated loss	36,914 97
Insurance	$69,133 00
Insurance paid	36,811 22

The grade crossing construction which was begun in November 1904 has been pushed along the lines outlined in my address of last year. The Boylston Street trestle has been discontinued, and removed. A bridge has been thrown across at that point, and all of the Newton Highlands section has been completed. It was expected that the work through Newton Centre would be finished during the summer of 1906; but it has been impossible to accomplish it. All the side walls and abutments are completed, but the Railroad Company has not finished the excavation in the cut, the work being continued through the winter. The City forces have changed most of the street grades, but there still remains the surfacing of the streets and completion of the bridges. The entire work ought to be completed by July first, 1907. There has been expended up to December 1, 1906, the date of the last auditing, as follows:

Boston & Albany Railroad Company	$389,348 56
Boston & Worcester Street Railway Co.	2,158 85
City of Newton	287,934 51
Total	$679,441 92

The cost to the city for the next ten years for the abolition of grade crossings on the south side will be approximately eight thousand dollars per annum plus the interest, this amount to be paid to the State each year out of the tax levy.

The engineering force has been employed in general routine and the extra work in the building of Concord Street bridge over Charles River, the culvert over the east branch of the Charles River and the abolition of grade crossings. The culvert above mentioned, is part of the general undertaking of the dam and bridge across the River at Boylston Street, Newton Upper Falls, authorized by an Act of the Legislature several years ago and the work was completed up to the building of the culvert. The Metropolitan Park Commission reported last year that it was impossible to make a contract for the completion of the work within the funds granted them by the Legislature, but an agreement was made between the Park Commission and the City that the work should be finished by the City, the cost to be repaid by the Commission, our City Engineer believing this could be done within the amount available to the Commission. The work has been completed by the City to the satisfaction, I believe, of both parties at an expense of $9,574.38, which amount has been met by the Metropolitan Park Commission.

Work on the surface drainage has been rather larger than usual, taking into consideration the amount that has been done directly by the City and under the Grade Crossing Decree. It seems to me advisable that considerable in the way of surface drainage should be done each year, following a definite policy, as recommended by me in the consideration of the last budget.

The Laundry Brook proposition, which is of a great deal of importance to the City, should be taken up in sections, a portion being completed each year. This is one of the largest undertakings for surface drainage which we have before us. I have already indicated my purpose to begin upon it the coming year. By Chapter 63, Acts of 1898, authority was given to the City to improve brooks, take the necessary easements and assess betterments not exceeding one half the adjudged benefits, but it seems a better policy for the City to improve the channels by cooperation with the owners, they giving necessary releases and agreeing to pay a reasonable amount of the cost of improvement. This method has been followed on two water courses treated during the past year, and is recommended for Laundry Brook.

A beginning has been made within the past few weeks to extend the main sewer to relieve the district that has not already been touched, south of the Circuit Road. Quite urgent appeals have been made for such extension and one section where it seems to be required cannot be reached before 1913, even with a fair amount of work each year. It seems to me that the policy of the City on the extension of main sewers should be to do enough work annually, following an outlined policy, to cover this territory within six or eight years. Doing a certain amount each season will keep the necessary skilled force, which seems advisable, rather than doing a large amount one year and then dropping the workmen who are accustomed to such work. I suggest that in the early summer an order be passed for the continuation of the work during the season of 1907 in Boylston Street and Cook Street, at an expense not to exceed ten to twelve thousand dollars.

Lateral sewers have been petitioned for in the Eliot district east of Woodward Street, where the streets are unacceptable. It seems to be the purpose of the people in this section to have the streets put in proper condition for acceptance. If this is done it would seem advisable that these lateral sewers should be built for them at the same time the streets are reconstructed, thus saving considerable expense.

The work of exterminating the gypsy and brown tail moths has been carried on with an appropriation of $12,500. Many of the property owners cooperated in this work by having their own trees cleared but it was found necessary to do work on some fourteen hundred estates during the spring, and the assessments amounted to $3547.04. The regular fall work on the city trees was started early in November. Notices were sent to every property owner in the city and after January first, 1907, any private property infested will receive attention.

We find ourselves at the beginning of the new year, with reference to the brown tail moths, apparently in much better position than a year ago. The open winter of 1906 had the tendency to kill them off and they have been more than held in restraint during the past year.

The condition of the gypsy moths is very much worse although during the early part of 1906 all the nests that could be found by the City employees, were painted almost without regard to expense, still we find ourselves confronted with more of this work to be done than at any time during the history of Newton. It is a very serious condition of affairs and the work must be continued not alone by the City but by the citizens as well unless we are to lose our beautiful trees. It is imperative that the citizens cooperate with the City by destroying all worthless trees, cleaning up wild land and burning it over, as these are breeding places for the gypsy moths.

A new spraying apparatus complete with engine has been added to the equipment. It may be of interest to know that a letter has just been received from Mr. A. H. Kirkland, State superintendent for suppressing the gypsy and brown tail moths, stating that Newton is the first city to make provision for next year's work.

During the past year the City has received two very liberal gifts of land from public spirited citizens, being quite a large tract near the Newton High School and a parcel adjacent to the Crescent School lot. Plans are being prepared by the engineering department for the development of both of these tracts as play grounds. We have had also several gifts of small lots of land in the heart of the City, to be planted with shrubs and to remain the property of the City for park purposes.

Under the new contract for street lighting taking effect Nov. 1st, 1906, a considerable sum will be saved for the coming five years. It is my purpose to go over the street lighting as carefully as possible, with the intention of locating quite a large number of additional lights already petitioned for, which will make the service much better than under the old contract.

In former years a number of contracts have been made where it was deemed advisable to have the work done in that way rather than by the city employees. Since the passage of Chap. 517 Acts 1906, the difference in the cost of doing work by cities and by individuals is not so great as it has been, and it appears to be advisable for us to consider doing more of our own work. The contract for removing ashes and combustible waste, entered into in the early part of 1906, has been abandoned by the contractor and the work is being done by the Street Department the cost charged against the contract which is protected by a suitable bond. I recommend the purchase of whatever is needed for the City to carry on this work after May first, 1907.

There have been many complaints in regard to the service given by the contractors for watering streets. I recommend that the street watering be done by the City and that the necessary funds for equipment be provided for that purpose. The cost will probably be but little more than under present conditions and I believe the result will be more satisfactory to the citizens.

The water supply of the City is so near its limit that I suggest construction work begin during the coming year towards extending the collecting system. The expense to the City would be so materially increased if we are forced to take water from the Metropolitan Board that the time for such taking should be deferred to the last possible moment. If compelled to take such supply, under the existing statute we should be allowed but twelve dollars for each million gallons of water furnished from our own system towards this supply. This amount is not commensurate by any means with the value of the water and I recommend that the Board of Aldermen authorize a petition to the General Court for legislation to fix the amount of payment for water furnished to the Metropolitan supply by cities and towns in the district more nearly equal to the value of the water so furnished, as determined by the average cost to the district. This seems to be of interest not alone to the city of Newton but to other municipalities in the Metropolitan District and the petition should be for legislation for the whole Metropolitan District.

Recently, as already communicated to the Board of Aldermen, the sum of eleven thousand dollars was received from the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company, being damages for taking about ten and one-half acres of land, for building the new line from Roxbury to Needham. This amount has been credited to the Water Construction Account by vote of the Board of Aldermen of 1906. This settlement will help the department in its work the coming year.

The water receipts have reached such proportions that it seems advisable for me to recommend a change in the water rates, to take effect on and after March 1st, 1907. A change in the schedule should reach, as far as possible, every consumer both large and small, and I recommend the following schedule for adoption, and that the Water Ordinance be amended to meet these figures:

Schedule of Rates—Dwelling Houses.

If occupied by one family, one faucet, $5.00.
Each additional faucet, not exceeding two, $2.00.
One faucet used by two or more families, each family using, $4.00.
For all other fixtures, the water to be supplied through meters at the following rates:
For Consumption Averaging Daily for Six Months.
Under 500 cu. ft. per day, per 100 cu. ft. 25 cts.
Over 500 cu. ft. per day and under 2000 cu. ft. 20 cts.
Over 2000 cu. ft. per day and under 4000 cu. ft. 15 cts.
Over 4000 cu. ft. per day 10 cts.

Each meter to be subject to a minimum charge of $9 per annum.

The price charged for the water meter rent has never been fixed by ordinance. It is subject only to the Water Commissioner with the approval of the Executive. On and after March first, 1907 the price for rent of meters of ordinary size will be one dollar per annum.

I have only attempted to give a general sketch of the city's affairs, a more detailed account of which will be found in the reports of the several departments. I congratulate you on the honored positions to which you have been elected; the new members I welcome heartily to City Hall. We are entering upon the work of the coming year with every confidence of mutual cooperation in carrying out the measures which come before us, always with a view to advancing the interests of the whole City.

Railroad Commissioners Report

The Railroad Commissioners issued the following interesting report this week:

Many weeks ago the frequency of delays in the movement of Boston & Albany trains led the Board to take up the matter with the management and to request a report of delays from all railroads for the month ending Dec. 25. It must be admitted that the period selected is always a trying one on account of the uncertainties of holiday traffic and the sudden changes of weather.

The situation upon the Boston & Albany has been exasperating. Eliminating unreasonable complaints and dismissing the chronic faultfinder and the reckless critic, the official record and the personal experience of passengers justify indignation which has been expressed. Time tables have in a large degree been worthless; inquiries of officials as to what train and as to when any train would next arrive or move out have been much of the time to no purpose. In the days of the stage coach such uncertainties were discounted, but in these days they are disastrous to personal comfort and convenience and to the transaction of important private and public business.

It is only just to say that the regime of the New York Central has added many trains, increased facilities for through travel, export and general traffic, and made an outlay in excess of that required under the lease in improvements at East Boston. Nor has it, as often alleged, stripped this road of equipment or enriched itself from the receipts of the line. An inventory taken by the board when the lease went into effect affords us the opportunity for disproving the first charge, and figures furnished in response to our request for information seem to clearly disprove the last charge.

That weather conditions affect train movements; that safeguards against accident interrupt them; that overdue through trains disturb local service have all been noted, but neither singly nor together do these causes fully account for conditions which have existed upon the Boston & Albany Railroad. The company contends that all serious interruptions in its service not explained in the causes above named are due to the unexpected volume of business and excusable lack of equipment and facilities.

Without a shadow of doubt, the immediate management of the Boston & Albany Railroad has been facing a great increase in business under an unfortunate combination of circumstances, including insufficient coal and poor coal, lack of engines, track and terminal facilities, as well as difficulties in securing trainmen; but the question is, has the New York Central, as the lessee of this road, upon whose resources the public had a right to rely, really been caught at an untoward time without fault of its own as an unwilling victim of a great flood of business?

About three months ago the New York Central after long negotiation entered into an agreement with the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company by which large quantities of freight formerly handled by that company would thereafter be daily turned over to the Boston & Albany road. The arrangement was one mutually profitable, and one which would in every way have been desirable had the New York Central possessed or had it provided adequate facilities for carrying it out. As it neither had them nor provided them, the arrangement was one that jeopardized the interests of the travelling public that is dependent upon the Boston & Albany Railroad. In the light of that traffic agreement, it is idle for the company to point to the extraordinary increase in business as an excuse for its failure to furnish proper accommodation.

Fuel is the factor of all others with which a steam railroad cannot afford to take chances. In contracting for the year's supply the New York Central dealt with companies along its lines and in part with companies in which it had a proprietary interest and purchased large quantities of coal that had in the market a reputation for inferior quality. The coal companies, presumably not for the first time in the experience of the contracting parties, hurried deliveries to other purchasers, who paid higher prices and postponed railroad deliveries. In consequence the supply of coal on the Boston & Albany at one time was not more than enough to last three or four days. Such a policy, if deliberate, in purchasing coal wantonly trifles with the public interests.

It is true that manufacturers have been unable to fill orders for equipment; true that the demand for labor has been greater than the supply, and true that abnormal shipments have helped to congest tracks; but these excuses have been given too often. Patrons have heard too much about cars and engines which have been ordered, but not delivered, and are looking for cars and engines in use; they are weary of listening to vague plans for future improvements. The root of the matter is that in too great zeal for economy the administration has been content to risk the comfort and convenience of the travelling public and has been too slow to appreciate the fact that the maintenance of service and not the maintenance of dividends is to be given the place of first importance and that if a risk is to be taken it must be the risk of a temporary failure of returns upon capital rather than a failure of reasonable accommodations.

With conditions and causes known the question is, one of remedy. Two paths are open, one pointing to legal proceedings to terminate the lease; the other to an improved service under the lease. In the belief that the latter may well be deemed at this time the better course, we recommend that the New York Central & Hudson River Railroad Company in dealing with the Boston & Albany division abandon hand-to-mouth methods, and adopt a policy of making the expenditures necessary to establish a high standard of train service and to provide the tracks and terminal facilities requisite for the demands of business.

THEATRES

Majestic Theatre—The Majestic Theatre, Boston, which has had the cream of the dramatic offerings in that city this season, is to have another attraction of prime importance for the two weeks beginning Monday, January 21, when Mrs. Fiske and the Manhattan Company will appear in Langdon Mitchell's brilliant play, "The New York Idea" which they have been presenting to crowded houses for three months at the Lyric Theatre, New York. Boston is the first city in Mrs. Fiske's tour and the engagement at the Majestic may truly be classed as the most important of the season. There are three reasons why this is so. The first is Mrs. Fiske's undisputed position as the foremost American actress; the second is that the Manhattan Company's rank as the best group of players on the American stage, and the third is the brilliancy of "The New York Idea" which has been declared repeatedly the cleverest and wittiest modern play that an American author has written. It is distinctly a play of today, novel and amusing in its story and satirizing in a good-natured way the exclusive circles of New York society. In particular Mr. Mitchell makes a telling exposition of the results of our lax and confused divorce laws.

Keith's Theatre—Houdini is outdoing all of his previous efforts during his present engagement at Keith's. His acts are more sensational and mystifying than ever before and he is attracting record crowds. Next week is the last of his stay and special features will be given at practically every performance, as he has received and accepted a sufficient number of challenges to fill all of the afternoons and evenings. Due announcements of these special features will be made in the daily papers. The surrounding bill will be fully up to very high standard set at Keith's. Maggie Cline, "The Irish Queen", unrivaled singer of Celtic character songs; Clayton White and Marie Stuart, those famous farceurs, in their snappy skit "Paris"; Mosher, Houghton and Mosher, the best of the comedy cyclists; Catherine Hayes and Sabel Johnson, in a very novel sketch; Lew Hawkins, "The Chatterbox of Minstrelsy"; Ferry Corcoran, the clever musical clown; Ziska and King, in burlesque magic, and Cook and Sylvia, remarkable dancers, will be the leading features. The program will also include the Meech International Trio, in athletic novelties; Kenny and Reeves, conversational comedians; Lillian Maynard, a pleasing vocalist; Reilly and Morgan in a sketch, and the Kinetograph. Volta, the electrical wizard, who has been creating a sensation in New York, will make his first appearance in Boston on Monday, Jan. 28th.

Park Theatre—The Boston engagements of May Irwin have long been looked upon as an annual occurrence of more than ordinary interest, therefore, it is not at all surprising to note with what concern her re-appearance here at the Park Theatre for a limited engagement beginning next Monday night, the 21st inst., is cherished. This is made especially manifest with regard to her forthcoming visitation on account of the splendid reports which have reached her regarding the merits of her latest New York success, "Mrs. Wilson-Andrews," written for her by George V. Hobart, who was responsible for "Mrs. Black is Back," and other May Irwin triumphs. In "Mrs. Wilson-Andrews" a play built upon unctious farce comedy lines, and in a style altogether removed from the conventional kind, May Irwin finds just the proper opportunities to display those fun-making talents which have afforded such unspokeable pleasures to countless theatre patrons. May Irwin will sing all of her newest and greatest hits, in which she is assisted by a chorus consisting mainly of show girls, whose voices have been taken quite as much into consideration as their fine appearances.

Interesting Relic

At the last meeting of the Dalhousie Lodge of Masons, Past Master Lewis E. Binney presented the lodge with an interesting relic of its first Master, with these words:—

Worshipful Master:—At the last visitation of Dalhousie Lodge, the Senior Grand Warden when examining the charter, called the attention of the lodge to its date, June 24th, 1861; a time when the stirring events incident to the opening of the Civil War were occurring, and he expressed a curiosity to know if there was anything significant connected therewith.

A research of the early records, shows that military and masonic titles were frequently combined, as for instance, "Brother-General A. B. Underwood" (afterwards first High Priest of Newton Royal-Arch Chapter) "at home on a furlough, addressed the Lodge recounting his experience in the South," etc. but a record of special interest is that of Worshipful Brother Albert A. Kendall, M. D., whose name appears first on the list of charter members and who was installed first Worshipful Master June 24th, 1861, when the Lodge was instituted.

The records show that during the latter part of the year his place was vacant and at the following annual election, June 18th, 1862, his acceptance was received by letter and he was installed by proxy, showing that he was at the seat of war at the time; perhaps like many others, expecting that the war would soon end and that he would return to his home and lodge; but the record of the next communication of the lodge, September 24th, 1862, contains this item:—

"Brother Cephas Brigham announced 'the death of Wor. Bro. A. A. Kendall, M. D., who was killed at Sharpsburg while attending wounded soldiers. A committee was appointed to "receive the body and make arrangements in case the body should be found. Most Worshipful Grand Master Wm. D. Coolidge having 'gone to Maryland for the remains.'"

Most Worshipful Brother Coolidge was Wor. Master of the lodge while under disposition, being obliged to resign, however, before the close of the year, on account of his election as Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Mass. His signature appears on the charter; he was an honorary member, constant in his attendance, presented the jewels and Bible, and took a warm and active interest in all the affairs of this lodge up to the time of his death.

The next record is that of September 30th, 1862, as follows:—

"A special communication was held at 'Wales' Hall, Newton Lower Falls, 'for the purpose of burying the remains of our late Worshipful Master, Brother A. A. Kendall. Opened at 3.40 P. M., with prayer ceremony. A procession was formed and the lodge repaired to the house of R. B. 'Blaisdell, where it received the body and carried it to St. Mary's Church, 'where the funeral service of the Episcopal Church was performed, after which the body was buried in the 'churchyard under masonic honors. M. W. Grand Master Coolidge officiating. There was a large attendance of brethren of the Lodge and Masons of the vicinity."

When Most Wor. Grd. Master Coolidge went to Maryland in search of the body, he found at the head of the grave, to designate the spot, a rough board upon which was rudely inscribed with a lead pencil,

Dr. A. A. Kendall
12th Regt. Mass. Vols.
Killed 17th Sept. 1862

This relic he presented to the lodge and it was framed and hung upon the walls of the apartments, and in 1868, at the time of receiving my masonic degrees it was an object of much interest to me, but after the removal of the masonic quarters to Central Block in 1874 it disappeared, and has been lost to sight and almost to memory, when the remarks of the Grand Senior Warden recalled it to mind; a search among the rubbish of the Temple has discovered and brought it to light. I have had a new frame placed around it, copied the original inscription, adding other data of interest, and now present it to the lodge, trusting that it may be accorded a place of honor upon the walls of our apartments; for though it may not be an object of beauty from a decorative view, nor of any intrinsic value, yet I feel that it should be preserved as a memento of the past, "Lest we forget," and treasured for the associations connected with it. And as we display the stars and stripes in our lodge room, the knowledge that our first Worshipful Master, while in office, served his country on the field of battle and gave his life for that flag, should stir the patriotic pride and be an inspiration to the brethren.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN

The inauguration of a new board of aldermen, lacking the advent of a new mayor, failed to attract popular attention, and the aldermanic chamber was not more than half filled with spectators last Monday afternoon. Aldermen elect Condrin was the recipient of a beautiful basket of roses and two baskets of pinks, while Alderman elect Lyons had a floral horse shoe of roses on his desk.

City Clerk Kingsbury called the members elect to order at 3 o'clock and Alderman elect Frank A. Day was chosen temporary chairman. These members responded when their names were called. —Aldermen Bacon, Bosson, Burr, Cabot, Clarke, Condrin, Day, Doherty, Holmes, Jones, Lyons, Stone, Underwood, Webster, Weston, White and Carter.

Aldermen Stone and Bosson were appointed a committee to notify Mayor Warren that the board was ready to be qualified. Mayor Warren, under escort of City Messenger Wellington, and accompanied by Rev. George T. Smart, O. D., and ex mayors Bothfield, Cobb and Weed then appeared and took the chair. The City Clerk announced that Joseph L. Caverly, Ward 1, Abbot Bassett, Ward 2, Adeline A. Davidson, Ward 4, Cora S. Cobb, Ward 5 and William E. Parker, Ward 6, had been duly elected members of the school committee for three years.

After prayer by Rev. Dr. Smart, the newly elected members of the board of aldermen were then qualified. Mayor Warren administering the oath.

The mayor then delivered an address to the board which will be found in full on another page.

On motion of Alderman Cabot, Alderman Albert P. Carter was unanimously elected President and assumed the chair, Mayor Warren and guests retiring.

Alderman Thomas Weston, Jr., was then unanimously elected Vice President on motion of Alderman Day. City Treasurer Francis Newhall and Clerk of Committees J. C. Brimblecom were also unanimously elected by roll call.

Hearings were ordered for Feb. 4 on petitions of the Telephone Company for attachments on Linden st. and on Dedham st., of Louis A. Vachon to keep gasoline at 14 Pleasant st. and at 199 Commonwealth ave., of John O'Brien et al to remove tree on Jackson st., of the Newton Street Railway Co. to relocate its tracks in Nonantum St., and to double track Washington st. from Auburn st. to Lower Falls.

Petitions of A. H. Koffe for release from contract for removing ashes, etc. and of Geo. Heminway for personal injuries were referred to the Committee on Claims, that of F. H. Cole to run two automobiles for hire to the Committee on Licenses and request of H. L. Tange to use gas in place of gasoline in engine permit was granted. The resignations of Thomas J. Lyons and W. H. Thomas as constables were received.

Routine orders adopting rules and orders, referring all unfinished business to appropriate committees, for printing 500 copies of mayor's address, for select committee on Kenrick Fund, establishing office hours at city hall, authorizing payment of discharged laborers in Highway, Sewer and Water departments, authorizing refund of excess deposits for water connections, authorizing postage to be furnished City Hall officers, authorizing temporary loan of $800,000, authorizing observance of Feb. 22nd, granting $791,359.65 for certain city expenses during 1907 were severally adopted, favorable reports being received on the financial orders from the Finance Committee.

An order authorizing the Mayor to petition the General Court to more equitably fix compensation paid for water from local supplies, was adopted on favorable report from the Committee on Mayor's address.

On recommendation of this committee, the change in water rates advocated by the Mayor was referred to the Committee on Rules. An order for petition to the General Court to amend the city charter, reducing the membership in the board of aldermen to 14, of the school committee to 7 and providing for biennial elections was also referred to the Committee on Rules.

These committees were appointed by President Carter: Chairman, Underwood, Bosson, Hall, Holmes, Burr, Wallace, Day, Bosson, Burr, Holmes, Hall, Webster, Lyons; public franchises and licenses, Palmer, Underwood, Doherty, Bowen, White, Weston, Carter; public works, Cabot, Stone, Clarke, Converse, Jones, Bacon, Condrin; rules, ordinances and legislation, Bowen, Stone, Converse, White, Clarke; mayor's address, Stone, Palmer, Cabot, Holmes Burr; Kenrick fund, Doherty, Converse, White.

And at 5:02 P. M. the board adjourned to Feb. 4th.

Mr. J. L. Snelling

After a lingering illness of six weeks, J. Linzee Snelling, aged 42 years, late United States appraiser of the port of Boston and for many years a well known railroad man, died last Friday night of kidney trouble at his home, 80 Elgin street, Newton Centre.

J. Linzee Snelling was a native of Boston where he was born Jan. 3, 1865. His early education was received in the public schools of that city. At the age of 12 he entered Boston university and was graduated in the class of '87.

His desire to enter railroad life as a profession evinced itself in his early years, and the year previous to his graduation from Harvard he entered the employ of the New York, New Haven & Hartford R. R. as a clerk in the freight cashier's office at South Boston. After remaining there several months he took a similar position with the Boston & Albany R. R. His natural aptitude to the work led to his being rapidly promoted from one position of responsibility to another.

He was soon made clerk in the general offices and later transferred to the office of the general traffic manager. Here he remained until 1892, when he was appointed foreign freight agent of the Vanderbilt lines, with headquarters in the chamber of commerce, Boston. While holding this position he had the entire charge of the ocean freight contracts for the interested roads.

In April, 1894, he was promoted to the agency of the Boston & Albany R.R. at Albany, and held that position for a little more than a year. The need of a new agent at Worcester soon became apparent and Mr. Snelling was ordered to that city. He thoroughly reorganized the method of conducting business in the Worcester office. He resided in Worcester for a time, but in May, 1897, when he received an appointment of division superintendent of the Boston & Albany R. R., having charge of the Boston to Worcester division, he removed to Newton Centre.

Early in 1904 President Roosevelt appointed Mr. Snelling appraiser of the port of Boston, and served until his resignation took effect Sept. 1. Early in September of that year he became actively connected with a large cotton commission firm in Boston.

In 1894 Mr. Snelling married Miss Louise Williams, daughter of Henry Bigelow Williams of Boston. They had two children.

In all the positions which he held during his business career Mr. Snelling was highly regarded as a faithful and efficient employee. In business circles and in private life he had hosts of friends.

Trinity Episcopal church, Newton Centre, was completely filled at the funeral services held Monday afternoon. The Episcopal funeral service was conducted by Rev. Edward T. Sullivan, who paid a warm tribute to Mr. Snelling.

Business associates, who had held Mr. Snelling in high esteem, were present from the New York Central and New Haven railroads, from Worcester, Albany and New York, and more recent associates in the wholesale cotton trade in Boston. The casket was covered with floral offerings, among which were numerous handsome pieces.

The remains were taken to Forest Hills cemetery for burial.

Mr. W. J. Johnson

Mr. William J. Johnson, a resident of Newton for over 45 years died last Saturday at his home on Waverley avenue after a few days illness of pneumonia, and following several weeks of failing health. Mr. Johnson was born in Leyden, Lewis County, New York, October 15, 1825 and was over 81 years of age. He was well known as the inventor of the Johnson Force Pump, now in common use and of many other valuable appliances. He was one of the founders of the National Manufacturing Co. of Worcester, a firm still manufacturing many of his inventions. Mr. Johnson retired from active business about ten years ago, with an enviable reputation for honorable dealing. His life in this community was also marked by his genial personality, and high character.

He is survived by a widow and four sons, Frank C., Charles S., of Newton, Fred W., of Eliot, and Earle H., of Minneapolis, Minn.

Simple funeral services in harmony with his entire life were held at his late residence 27 Waverley avenue, Monday afternoon at two o'clock, and were attended by many friends and business associates. Rev. Wolcott Calkins officiated and the Mendelssohn quartet sang appropriate selections. The pall bearers were his former business friends and present directors of the National Manufacturing Co. The interment was at Newton Cemetery.

Political Notes

At a meeting of the Democratic city committee held this week in Mague hall, West Newton, Alderman William J. Doherty was re-elected chairman and Daniel O'Connell, secretary.

Among Women

At the meeting of the Monday Club of Newton Highlands on Jan. 14, the study of India was continued, the subject of the paper being, "What the World owes India," "the Agriculture of India," "Calcutta," "Darjiling." The club will meet next week with Mrs. May of Fisher avenue.

The next meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club will be held at the Lincoln Park Baptist church instead of the regular place. Mrs. Jessie Luman Gammons, chairman of the Music Committee, will give a musical lecture. This will be illustrated by stereopticon and by the Club Chorus.

The "Gentlemen's Night" of the West Newton Women's Educational Club, which was held at the Old Unitarian Church on Friday evening, January 11, was a great success. The gay decoration of red and green and Chinese lanterns which the kindergarten had had for their Christmas celebration lent a cheerful atmosphere to the room and added much to the attractiveness of the occasion.

After a few words of welcome from the president, Mrs. H. K. Harrison, an interesting program was presented by Mr. Fred H. Kendall, Miss Mary L. Gerish, Mrs. Maude Clark Marden, violinist, Mrs. Charlotte White Burt, cellist, Mrs. Dorothy A. Sprague, accompanist.

After the entertainment which was of high order refreshments were served in the upper dining room. Returning to the hall below the guests were received by the officers of the club and the rest of the evening was occupied in dancing. The social hour and reception were in charge of Mrs. T. M. Elwell and Mrs. Frank Booth assisted by members of the club.

The regular quarterly meeting of the Newton Federation will be held at the New Church parlors, Newtonville, Monday, January 21, at 10:15. Plans for the Federation Bazaar will be presented and other business of importance.

The Mid-Winter Meeting of the Newton Federation will be held at the Central Congregational Church, Newtonville, Tuesday, January 22, at 2:30 and promises to be of unusual interest. Mrs. B. Benjamin Buck will give a paper on "The Wit of Six Nations." This will be accompanied by appropriate music. A reception and tea will follow. A large number of invitations have been sent to federated clubs in the vicinity.

Here they made their home for several years removing later to Newton, where Mrs. Hunt was an active, faithful worker in the Baptist church, and where she made many friends.

Police Paragraphs

Three veteran Newton policemen on Tuesday informally celebrated the 29th anniversary of their appointment to the department. They were Lieut. Robert S. Harrison, Capt. John Ryan and patrolman Noah F. Bosworth. The oldest of these, in point of service, is Lieut. Harrison, who served for three years as a special officer before his appointment to the regular force.

Y. M. C. A.

The entertainment given by Mr. George Bartlett Cutler was a great success. A large number of men attended. King's Trio received much applause and a return engagement for them is assured.

Invitations for the next social and entertainment will be out early in February and will include the ladies.

The women's auxiliary will meet in the parlor on Wednesday Jan. 30th at 3 P. M. Reports of the conference held at New Bedford will be given by the president and delegates.

The Lynn Association is soon to dedicate a new building complete in every particular for the use of the boys and young men of Lynn. The Cambridge Association has a fine building and lately a bequest of $10,000 was given to it.

The Newton Association is fast getting to that position where a new building will be necessary to house the growing membership and the different lines of work. The question is who will have the honor of making the first gift that will make the new building possible.

The preliminary trials for the Association relay team were held Saturday night in the gymnasium. From all indications the team will be stronger this year than ever before, as new men are out. The following men made the best showing: J. Ward, P. Morton, S. Craig, A. MacRae, C. V. Moore, F. Maguire and D. Webster. The team in all probability will run against the Cambridge Y. M. C. A. at the B. A. A. games.

The Intermediate basketball team met its first defeat of the season last Saturday at the Boston Y. M. C. A. losing by the score of 13 to 17. This team has had a remarkable run of victories, having defeated all Y. M. C. A. boys' teams in this vicinity, besides taking on several of the High School's teams. Up to date they have won eight games and lost one with a total of 185 points to their credit, against their opponents 65 points.

The Junior team had the honor of being the first Newton team of any class to win a game at the Boston Y. M. C. A. when they defeated the second intermediate team last Saturday by a score of 22 to 7. They have won 9 and lost 2 games having a total of 250 points to their opponents 89.

The Intermediates and Juniors meet the Allen School first and second teams on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the association gym.

Senior team journeyed to Brockton Saturday and was defeated 17 to 21 in the fastest and cleanest game that has ever been played on the Brockton floor. With the substitute in the line-up the work of the team was very creditable and the boys are planning to get even this week when Brockton comes here on Wednesday night.

Last week the first team defeated Gloucester 32 to 10 and the second team defeated Boston 37 to 14.

On Jan. 30th the strong Reading Y. M. C. A. teams will be our opponents. The Reading team has been defeated only once this year and the greatest game of the season may be looked for.

Charles E. Lauriat Co's annual sale of fine books includes this year some unusual values in sets of the works of standard authors that were bound to order for them in their own styles of half calf and half morocco, but were delivered too late for the holiday trade. Rather than carry them over to another season they have included them in their clearance sale at prices that will quickly dispose of them and give every one a bargain to remember.

Clafin Field

The following report of progress was read this week to the subscribers to the Clafin Homestead fund. It is of such general importance that we are sure our readers will be interested, especially as it shows such an encouraging response from the public.

The Committee for the purchase of the Clafin Homestead in Newtonville submits the following report of progress for convenience the property has been treated in three sections:—

Section 1. 279,881 square feet, about 6 1/2 acres, on the corner of Lowell avenue and Elm road.

Section 2. 380,364 square feet, about 8 3/4 acres, fronting on Walnut street, and lying between it and Section 1, and including the site of the mansion house.

Section 3. 290,411 square feet, about 6 2/3 acres, lying along Hull street and to the south of Sections 1 and 2.

The total area, including private roads which are not included in the foregoing figures, and which will be eliminated by the purchase of the three sections, exceeds 1,000,000 square feet.

Last June the Committee purchased and paid for Section 1 at $20,000, and conveyed it to the city of Newton as a High School Athletic Field and Playground. This section was the best adapted for that purpose, and was of appropriate size and shape. The city accepted the gift, and last fall began the grading work, which will, the Committee hope, be pushed to completion in the spring, so that the field may be ready for use as soon as possible.

Owing to the summer vacations, efforts were suspended until the fall. Then substantial progress was made; and in December the Committee deemed it wise to try to conclude a definite contract for the purchase of at least Section 2, at a price which the Committee, representing the subscribers, could approve. This has been accomplished; and the Committee has now made a firm agreement for the purchase of Section 2 for $32,700, the owners reserving the buildings, but agreeing not to remove them at present. The Committee has also secured an option for the purchase of Section 3 for $15,000. This section, it will be remembered, lies to the west of the houses on Walnut street.

At these prices, and the price paid for Section 1, the cost of the entire tract is about 6 3/4 cents per square foot.

The total of subscriptions to date is $43,091.19, made up as follows:

Newton	$14,180.00
Newtonville	12,075.00
New Newton	6,690.00
Auburndale	2,100.00
N. Highlands and Upper Falls	600.00
Newton Centre and Chest. Hill	7,055.00
Sale of buttons, interest, etc.	391.19
Total	$43,091.19

Deducting the $20,000 paid for Section 1 leaves $23,091.19 available for Section 2.

The Committee now asks for the further subscriptions needed to complete the purchase. It urges that those who have already subscribed shall try to take subscriptions from their friends, and speed the transaction to the successful result it deserves.

The city of Newton has received much favorable notice on the public spirit shown by its citizens in this matter, and every resident of Newton should have a share in it. Subscriptions may be sent to Messrs. Hornblower & Weeks, 53 State Street, Boston, who have kindly been acting as depository, or may be handed to any member of the Committee.

Respectfully submitted,

For Newton—Frank A. Day, William F. Garcelon.

For Newtonville—Charles S. Dennison, J. R. Prescott.

For West Newton—Robert S. Gorham, Charles E. Hatfield.

For Auburndale—E. B. Haskell, Arthur C. Farley.

For Newton Highlands and Upper Falls—Frank J. Hale.

For Newton Centre and Chestnut Hill—C. E. Kelsey, Ernest Winsor.

Article X. After paragraph on Rules insert: "They shall make such rules as may be found necessary to regulate the use of the Free Beds."

Article XIV. Amend by substituting for the second paragraph the following: "They shall endeavor to secure special endowments, the income of which shall be applied to the maintenance of Free Beds, or in lieu of endowments, pledges of money, to be used for that purpose."

4th. To transact any other business which may legally come before the meeting.

Jan. 23rd, 1907. Wm. C. Bray, Clerk.

Lecture Recital

Mrs. Frank A. Arend of Windsor rd., Waban, opened her house on Thursday last week for a benefit lecture-recital of Spanish music by Madam Isidora Martinez.

In spite of the storm there were many friends of the sweet singer and musician eager to listen and the large rooms were well filled.

Madam Martinez illustrated her lecture with masterly touch on the piano, leading the sweet music of her voice to the peculiar liquid Spanish cadence of language and music. She appealed to her audience so that applause was spontaneous throughout the whole lecture.

After the musical the hostess invited those present to meet Madam Martinez and enjoy a social cup of tea; the bright flowers, open fires and delightful chatter were a fitting ending for one of the most delightful afternoons of the winter.

Wm. H. Davis Club's Show

The dates of the annual performance by the William H. Davis club have been decided upon and on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, March 12 and 13, at the Hunnewell clubhouse, will be seen productions of a new musical comedy, "Cupid M. D.," the book and lyrics by Leverett Bentley and the music by Henry T. Wade.

The success which last year marked the club members' efforts in "Yankee-land," prepared by the same authors, is well known and give ample assurance of another creditable entertainment.

Messrs Bentley and Wade have completed in "Cupid M. D.," a musical comedy which those who have been privileged to read the lines and verses and hear the melodies pronounce even more pleasing than "Yankee-land."

The parts have been assigned that the players who made such enviable reputations for themselves in the former, production may have even greater opportunities.

There is an abundance of original features in the music and dramatic parts and the club's friends may be confident of hearing good music well sung and humorous lines cleverly interpreted.

Mr. Wilson Dead

Mr. Edward K. Wilson died suddenly of heart trouble at his home on Lowell avenue last Monday shortly after his return from a walk. He was formerly in the paper business, being a member of the firm of Pulsifer, Jordan and Wilson, but retired some years ago. He was a native of Maine, and was 66 years of age. A widow survives him. Funeral services were held from the house Thursday afternoon at one o'clock, Rev. Jay T. Stocking, pastor of Central church, officiating, and the burial was in Forest Hills cemetery.

Improvement Association

At the annual meeting of the Nonantum Improvement Association held in Nonantum the first of the week the following officers were chosen for the coming year: President, William S. Bowen; vice president, J. S. Cannon; secretary, James A. O'Donnell; treasurer, J. W. Murphy; executive committee, W. J. Doherty, J. W. Blakeley, Dr. E. A. Mayell, Robert Casey and Hugh Murnaghan.

The future efforts of the association will be in the interests of better street lights, better disposal of ashes and waste paper and a foot bridge across the Charles River.

The Newton Masonic Hall Association at the annual meeting last Monday for election of officers for the ensuing year, the following were re-elected:

President and director, George P. Whitmore; vice-president and director, Frank K. Potter; treasurer and director, Edward P. Hatch; clerk and director, Lewis E. Binney; directors, Wallace C. Royden, N. Henry Chadwick, Austin H. Decatur, George F. Williams, Albert L. Harwood, John W. Fisher, James B. Fuller, Charles F. Mason, Edward D. Van Tassel, Charles D. Burrage and Mitchell Wing; auditor, William E. Elder.

The report of the treasurer, E. P. Hatch, showed the affairs of the Association to be in a highly satisfactory condition.

Newton Federation

In spite of the inclement weather the parlors of the Central Congregational church, Newtonville, were filled with members and guests on the occasion of the Mid-Winter Meeting of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs on Tuesday afternoon. The Beacon trio furnished instrumental music during the half-hour while the guests were assembling. After a few words of welcome from the president, Mrs. Bertrand E.
Taylor, Mrs. Edith R. Cooper of Newton Upper Falls, a member of the Pierian Club, rendered a group of songs ac-ceptably. Then followed the paper "by Mrs. B. Benjamin Buck, a member of the Newton Centre Woman's Club, on
"The Wit of Six Nations." Mrs. Buck began with England and kept her audience throughout the afternoon in good humor with her quaint and amusing stories. Scotland, Ireland, France and Germany followed and lastly America.
Between each division appropriate music was rendered. Mrs. Cooper giving
"Drink to me only with thine Eyes,"
"Comin' Thro' the Rye," and "The Old Plaid Shawl," while the trio gave the "Marseillaise" and "The Watch on the Rhine" and at the close the audience joined in singing "America." During the social hour Mrs. Taylor and Mrs.
Buck received the guests and refreshments were served under direction of the Social Committee, Mrs. Anna L.
Bailey, chairman, music by the trio lending charm to the festivities. The decorations were carnations, one being given each guest upon arrival and large vases
of them and candles with red shades adorning the tea tables. The affair was one of the most delightful the Federation has ever given. The committee in charge were Miss Grace M. Burt, Mrs.
C. G. Wetherbee and Mrs. A. A. Thompson.

Equal Suffrage League

The Newton Equal Suffrage League
held a meeting in the interests of peace
at the attractive home of Mrs. George F. Lowell, 525 Walnut street, Newton-ville, Tuesday evening, Jan. 22. A reception was held from 7.30 until 8, in the receiving line, being Mrs. Lowell, the newly-elected President of the League, and hostess of the evening, Dr.
S. L. Eaton, Mrs. Lucia Ames Mead
and Mr. and Mrs. George A. Walton.
During the reception delightful music was furnished by a trio consisting of violin, cello and piano. At the close Mrs. Lowell called the meeting to order and introduced the speaker of the evening, Mrs. Lucia Ames Mead, who gave a comprehensive and convincing address
upon "The End of International Duelling." Mrs. Mead said in part, that her subject was the most important public question before the people today. She did not think that we can get on without use of any force, for some kind will be necessary so long as injustice and cruelty are in the world. The function of the police is to use the minimum of force to get justice done. When they go beyond that, we have such an instance as their encounter with the Tech boys a few years ago. The function of the militia is substantially the same as that of the police and is totally different from that of armies and navies going to war. In the case of war victory is usually on the side of the nation that has the greatest borrowing power. This does not mean justice done. Injustice, she said, is the worst thing in the world. I am not here to talk about universal peace. That cannot be obtained without a change of human nature. International peace on the other hand can be obtained without change of human nature. War is a gi-gantic form of duelling and we should come to have the same contempt for it that we do for ordinary duelling.

A duel was fought to settle a quarrel between two persons, but in the case of international war there is no quarrel between the two armies involved, as for instance in the Russo-Japanese war.

Mrs. Mead looks forward to a time when there will be an international police to secure justice with the minimum amount of force. She distinguished between civil war and that between nations and dealt only with international difficulties in her address.

The time is now ripe to take final steps towards a world organization. Immanuel Kant said we should never have peace until the world is organized and until all nations have representative government. Mrs. Mead went on to point out the great progress there has been made in recent years towards the condition which Kant had said was necessary. Now every nation of Christendom has some form of representative government, besides Japan and Persia, not Christian. She outlined the work of the first Hague Conference and of the Hague Court. There is soon to be another Hague Conference and the delegates sent to it will be instructed by President Roosevelt and Secretary Root.
The American people must show what they want to have done.

Letters should be sent to Secretary
Root saying that it is most desirable that America endorse the principles of the Interparliamentary Union.

Mrs. Harriet A. Eager, corresponding secretary of the League, spoke of the object and aim of the League. Refreshments were served and a brief social time enjoyed.

subject of "Medical Inspection in the Public Schools" by reading the provisions of the new law passed at the last session of the Legislature. Two weak points in the opinion of many are, the fact that the appropriation for this work is left voluntary and that the carrying out of this law is left either to the Board of Health or to the School Committee.
These, however, were introduced as a compromise in order to secure its passage.

Newton appropriates $1200 for the purpose and the work is under the supervision of the Board of Health. There are seven inspectors each having on an average four schools to attend to.

The new law provides that the tests for sight and hearing should be made by the teachers, but a specialist has done
this in the past and continues to do it now. Many instances of children who have appeared backward have been found to be due to defective vision or hearing.

Upon inquiry the inspector in this section stated that there cases of diphtheria have been discovered in the morning and the children sent home immediately before there was a chance for the children to mingle with the others. In his opinion this method has saved epi-demies this year. The inspector in Newtonville gave similar testimony and thought the work of the Nonantum district might be greatly helped if there was a school nurse there.

Mrs. Owen spoke briefly of the methods employed in Boston and Brookline and stated that Boston has been doing this work for about twelve years, being the first city to appoint medical inspectors, though some other cities have since been employing more thorough methods.

Miss Nichols and Miss Lyman of the Women's Auxiliary of the Civil Service Reform League were present and spoke of work of organization. Miss Nichols said that the object of civil service reform is to secure honest, efficient service in government positions. Among the results of this system of appointment by examination, is great economy; an opening is made for women to secure positions; it is an obstacle to corruption; a saving of time to men who formerly were besieged with office seekers, and greater safety to ourselves. Many of the states have good civil service laws, especially Massachusetts, but a vast majority have no such safeguard. Force of public opinion brought in civil service reform laws and it is still necessary to strengthen and educate public opinion. We must do all we can to raise the standard of civil service. Beginning with the children in the schools is one of the most efficient, so this Auxiliary has prepared booklets to be introduced into the High and Grammar Schools to be used in connection with course on civics. These have already met with favor. One of their books is being used by the Newton teachers.

Miss Lyman urged the formation of a branch to their Auxiliary in Newton.

Political Notes

A meeting of the republican city committee was held Wednesday afternoon in the office of Charles E. Hatfield for the annual election of officers. Mr. Hatfield was reelected chairman, Alderman Albert P. Carter, secretary, and Col.
Walter L. Sanborn, treasurer.

Woman's World

Conducted by MISS GRACE M. BURT.

The Women's Educational and Industrial Union, the Boston Equal Suffrage League for Good Government and the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs will hold a joint conference on bills before the Legislature at 264
Boylston street, on Tuesday, Jan. 29, at 3.30. Chairmen of legislative committees of the Federation will meet at 2.30
at the same place.

The Review Club met on January 22,
with Mrs. Bridgman. The business meeting was occupied by the consideration of the club's study next year and the discussion of the plans of the Newton Federation's proposed Bazaar. The papers of the morning, by Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Fuller and Miss Ober, were on Linderoth and Veronere, and Mrs.
Thorndike gave an interesting account of the brilliant old-time Venetian ceremony of the Marriage of the Sea.

At the next meeting of the club on February 5, in the Congregational chapel, Miss Porter will lecture on the "Flemish and Dutch Painters."

The Newtonville Woman's Guild will hold a meeting on Jan. 29. William Mac-Donald, L.L.D. will speak upon "The Life and Times of Machiavelli."

The next meeting of the Social Science Club will be a guest meeting. Mr.
Edward Sawyer will speak upon "General Principles of Sociology."

The Monday Club of Newton Highlands continued its study of the cities of India at its meeting on Monday afternoon. The next meeting will be with Miss Thompson of Lake Wood Road.

At the quarterly meeting of the Executive Board of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs held on Monday morning, Jan. 21, routine business was transacted and some plans for the coming Bazaar presented. Owing to the proximity of the annual meeting to the time of holding the Bazaar it was voted to make that meeting but a half-day's session for election of officers and the presenting of reports, the date to be determined later.

The Newtonville Woman's Guild will hold a meeting on Jan. 29. William MacDonald, L. L. D., will speak upon
"The Life and Times of Machiavelli."

The next meeting of the Social Science Club will be a guest meeting. Mr. Edward Sawyer will speak upon "General Principles of Sociology."

Notable Cats

Mrs. D. B. Wiswell of 398 Walnut street, Newtonville, returned from New York with flying colors after showing her Persian cats at the Madison Square Garden cat show. Seldom has a cat made the sensation her Dolly Dollars, a smoke queen created in New York;
winning for best smoke female, best smoke male or female; best cat in silver division; best female of any color in the show; winning over the famous silver queen Lou Dillon, numerous old Crystal Palace (England) winners and finally beating Puritana, the marvellous white queen, who has always held full sway
Mrs. Wiswell's Dolly Dollars has the much to be desired orange eyes which are considered by breeders of smoke-
to be the most difficult point to breed.
In New York those eyes created much newspaper comment and were referred to as being "pre-eminent to the blue eyes which heretofore have been popularly conceded to windows of the soul." Dolly Dollars left New York with ten ribbons, six gold and silver medals, besides a win on the challenge cup to her credit, a phenomenal winning. Barbara, an orange queen, won first as usual—she has never been beaten.

At the Boston cat show in Mechanics building, last week, Mrs. Wiswell entered five cats, including Dolly Dollars and Barbara, both winning first in their class and numerous ribbons and specials.
She showed Lord Kew Tangerine for the first time and he won for the best kitten in the show, also best in his class.
He has been pronounced by several Crystal Palace Judges to be the finest orange cat in America and superior to the Champion Kew cats of England from whom he is a direct descendant.

The other two entries, Roxbury Boy,
a silver gelding, and Romalickir Mandarin, came in for their share of ribbons.
Mrs. Wiswell has some of the best stock in America and is a breeder of note.

THE PASSION PLAY.

Its Origin, According to the Tradition of Oberammergau.

According to local tradition, the origin of the Oberammergau Passion play was as follows: When in the year 1633 a deadly plague threatened to de-populate the districts of Partenkirchen, Escheloke and Kohlgrub, which are separated from Ammerthal, or the valley of the Ammer, by a rampart of mountains, the Ammerthalers succeeded for a time in protecting themselves against the dread contagion, but one day a native who had been working all summer at Escheloke evaded the quarantine and entered the Ammerthal by a secret path in order to celebrate an annual church festival with his family. Two days afterward he was a corpse, and in less than three weeks
the plague had carried off eighty-four of the Ammerthalers.

Despairing of all human succor, the terrified survivors addressed themselves to God and registered a solemn vow that if he heard their prayer and removed the scourge they would represent, every ten years, "for thankful remembrance and edifying contemplation, and by the help of the Almighty,
the sufferings of Jesus, the Saviour of the world."

Not a single person died of the plague after the vow was made, though many were affected by it. The first representation of the Passion play in fulfillment of the vow of these simple villagers took place at Oberammergau
in the following year, and it has been repeated every ten years without a single omission.

FEMININE INFLUENCE.

Nowhere is it More Felt and Less Recognized Than in France.

There is still in every Frenchman a great deal of the oriental way of looking at woman.

And the French wife knows it, but she goes on helping her "man," be she duchess or midwifette. She will forgive again and again; she will let him squander her dot and will learn how to do with fewer frocks (the delight of every Frenchwoman) in an ever pitiful attempt to patch up the fortune and happiness he has wrecked. If she happens to be a shopman's wife he needs no bookkeeper or manager; she will be there from morning till night,
the slave of the ledger, careful of every centime, while he, too, often will leave the heavier part of the business in her capable hands and turn his attention to a domino party at the nearest cafe. If she be a peasant's wife
no one on the farm will slave harder than she. There is scarcely any labor which she will not undertake.

In every sphere woman is too often the man of the house. Nowhere is feminine influence more active, more felt and less recognized than in France,
and nowhere among the civilized nations is man more dependent on woman, more attached to her and less respectful.—London Mail.

Speed of Sound.

"Judge David Torrence of Derby, Conn.," said a New Haven man, "uttered many an epigram from the bench.
In a case concerning a noise nuisance
a scientist was once testifying before him about the speed of sound.

"Sound," said the man, "travels at the rate of 400 yards a second."

"All sound?" asked Judge Torrence.

"All," replied the scientist.

"The judge smiled.

"I'm sure you're wrong," he said. "I have noticed a great difference between the speed of certain kinds of sound. Thus, slander travels at the rate of quite 1,000 yards a second; fattery, 500 yards, while truth makes only a few feet a second, and slow as its progress is, truth often fails to reach the goal, no matter how short the distance."—Indianapolis Star.

The Persians.

Socially I found the Persian people
a great improvement on the other orientals of the farther east whom I had met. They are of a happy disposition and bright imagination, doubtless produced by the dry, clear air of their high table lands, which relieves from dullness and depression. They enjoy a joke and laugh heartily, and they are able to see that most things have their amusing side. I was struck with much among all classes which showed that their manners and ways had been favorably touched and turned by a softening civilization of ancient date.—
General Gordon's "A Varied Life."

The Woman of Poise.

It is the creed of the up to date woman never to give herself away. A cup of coffee may be spilled over her delicate silk gown; she simply holds the breadths together and goes on with her flow of feminine talk. "Enfant terrible" makes agonizing remarks, a rival gives some cruel stab; all is met with the same absolute immobility of countenance.—London Lady.

The Rehearsal.

Bobby—Sister will be down in a few minutes, Mr. Softly. She's upstairs rehearsing. Mr. Softly (who has come prepared)—What is she rehearsing?
Bobby? Bobby—I don't know, but she's standing in front of the mirror
and blushing and saying, "Oh, Mr.
Softly—er—this is so sudden."

Makes a Difference.

"George told me today he loved me
more than his very life."
"Nonsense. All the young men say that."

"That may be true. But they all don't say it to me."

He removes the greatest ornament of friendship who takes away from it respect.—Cicero.

Brave Deed

According to a despatch from New Haven, Buckingham Miller the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram A. Miller of Duncklee street, Newton Highlands, and a freshman at Yale, was the hero of a skating accident, which ought to win the Carnegie medal.

Mr. Miller and Miss Jennie Tomney were members of a skating party on Lake Whitney, New Haven, Wednesday afternoon, when Miss Tomney in some way broke thru the ice. Mr. Miller heard the cry for help and raced across the lake and leaped into the open water in which the girl was struggling. He soon reached her but the return was most difficult hampered by the weight of the girl, and becoming rapidly chilled with the ice and water, it was with great difficulty. Hampered by the weight of the rival of the others with plank and ropes. Mr. Miller was totally exhausted and is suffering with the effects of the chill.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller, the parents, have not received any definite details of the occurrence.

Newton Wins Championship

For the first time Newton high school hockey team Monday afternoon won the championship of the Preparatory league, defeating Brookline high, 2 to 1, on the Brae Burn rink. The game was started last Thursday, but was called at the conclusion of the first period on account of darkness with the Brookline team in the lead, 1 to 0.

It was agreed to take up the game where it was interrupted on Thursday, and that only one more period would be necessary to decide a winner.

Kendall proved the mainstay for the winning combination, securing both of its goals. Capt. Sprague, Greenidge, Wells and Mellen played a strong game for Newton high, while Capt. Cady, Niles and Young carried off the honors for the visitors.

Police Paragraphs

Mary G. Nixon, 40 years old, living on Virginia road, West Newton, pleaded guilty in the police court Saturday morning to abandoning the colored infant recently found on the doorsteps of a West Newton house.

She was sentenced to the woman's reformatory at Sherborn. The child was taken to Sherborn with its mother.

When Miss Dorothy M. Burton was arraigned Saturday morning for alleged larceny of jewelry and clothing from a house where she had lodged, a charge of hiring a horse and carriage with intent to defraud was unexpectedly brought against her.

Pleading guilty of the larceny charge she was sentenced to Sherborn, appealed and was held in $400 for the superior court. To the charge of hiring the horse and carriage with intent to defraud she pleaded not guilty, was fined $15 and, appealing, was held in $200.

Mrs. Ethel E. Shepherd, a boarder at the house of J. R. Leonard of Pearl street, testified Miss Burton took lodgings at the house Aug. 10, representing herself as a demonstrator for a salt firm. She told the other lodgers that six young women were going to take lodgings for a few weeks in the same house and that their six trunks were expected to arrive in a day or two. Miss Burton that night borrowed her bracelet and a white waist because her own baggage had not come, Mrs. Shepherd testified.

The next morning Miss Burton said she was allowed the use of a horse and carriage in her work. "Mrs. Shepherd said, 'That day she took me on a ride to Waltham and the next day, Sunday, my husband and myself accompanied her to Wonderland.' The rig was hired from the stable of Henry C. Daniels of Washington street.

"Monday morning Miss Burton disappeared and my bracelet, gold watch and chain and two waists were missing," said Mrs. Shepherd. The articles were valued at about $150.

Patrolman Thomas Gleavey of division 5, testified to finding the girl in a lodging house in Boston. He recovered the bracelet from another girl to whom Miss Burton had given it sometime ago. Miss Burton had roomed at 83 West Rutland square, Boston, and at one time had been employed as a seamstress.

Counsel for Miss Burton surprised the court when he said that the watch was in Lewiston, Me. Miss Burton having loaned it to a cousin living in that city. The lawyer said Miss Burton had simply borrowed the jewelry and clothing and had intended to return them as quickly as she could get them together.

The charge of hiring the horse and carriage with intent to defraud was then brought against her.

Animal Burial Association

A petition filed last week in the legislature by Representative Garcelon has caused considerable comment as it calls for the incorporation of the Newton Pet Animal Burial Association.

The petition is headed by Mrs. Henry E. Cobb, and signed by Mrs. S. L. Powders, Mrs. Elizabeth Stuart Phelps Ward, Mrs. Margaret Clifford, Mrs. D. C. Heath, Mrs. Frederick Johnson, Mrs. I. E. Hibbard, Mrs. E. B. Haskell, Mrs. C. S. Dennison, Mrs. A. P. Carter, Mrs. John A. Fenn, Mrs. S. L. Eaton, Mrs. F. R. Stubbs, Mrs. F. M. Lowe, Mrs. H. S. Chase, Mrs. William Lodge, Mrs. S. A. Sylvester and Mrs. J. T. Stocking.

Mrs. Clifford is at the head of the movement and said that the matter has been in mind for some years. Paris has a large cemetery where pets are buried and there is no reason why Newton should not have one.

The petition asks that permission be given to organize a society to be called the Newton Pet Animal Association, and the power be given them to buy and hold property for the purpose of maintaining a cemetery for four-footed pets.

They desire the privilege of building fences, erecting stones and, in fact, making a regular public burial lot.

The paper goes on further and states that should such a cemetery be founded it would tend to influence the younger class to respect and care for the dumb animals. And also that when one becomes attached to a house pet it becomes a member of the family, and that when the animal passes away the body should be allowed to rest in a respectable burial place, the same as a human being.

This is the first attempt ever made in this country to create such a cemetery, although there are many private cemeteries throughout the States where the remains of personal pets are interred.

Bryant--Rand

Mr. Arthur Parsons Bryant of Newtonville was married to Miss Caroline Eliot Rand, daughter of the late Rev. and Mrs. Mary F. Rand of Watertown last Saturday evening. The ceremony took place in the quaint little Church of the Good Shepherd at Watertown and was performed by Rev. John T. McGrath of Cambridge and Rev. Frederic M. Brooks, the rector.

The bride was dressed in white silk trimmed with duchesse lace and pearl ornaments. She wore a tulle veil and carried a prayer book and a bouquet of lilies of the valley. Her sister Miss Amy Carol Rand was the maid of honor and was gown in cream crepe de chine embroidered with gold thread. She wore a wreath of daffodils and carried a bouquet of the same flowers. The bride was escorted to the church and given away by her brother Dr. Edward K. Rand of Harvard University. The best man was Mr. Nathaniel F. Bryant, brother of the groom and the ushers were Mr. Charles M. Abbott, Mr. Loring G. Robbins of Pittsfield, Mr. Ralph Henry of Newton Centre, Mr. Samuel Gloss of Cambridge and Mr. Herbert Wadleigh of Boston.

A family reception was held at the home of the bride after the ceremony, the house being decorated with southern palms and moss, lilies and daffodils. Mr. and Mrs. Bryant will make their future home at 13 Garfield street, Watertown.

Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the First Church, Newton Centre, was held Thursday evening of last week and there was a large attendance at supper. The annual reports showed a satisfactory financial condition and the usual appropriations were made for the coming year. The following officers were elected: Deacons, George M. Butler, Matthew C. Skilton; clerk, Herbert J. Kellaway; treasurer, Burton Payne Gray; assistant treasurer, Francis C. Hoffman; Sunday school superintendent, Louis C. Smith; additional members of standing committee, Wendell P. Marden and William E. Shedd; prudential committee, Alfred E. Alvord and Frederic M. Hemenway, to fill vacancy caused by resignation of Albert A. Tilney, George A. Holmes; music committee, Henry Baily, Charles E. Kelsey and Norman H. George.

The new Office Appliance Practice Room at Burdett College, 18 Boylston St., Boston, Mass., is attracting considerable attention as people recognize its practical worth. It is a great help to a student to have a working knowledge of the latest office appliances, and this is the purpose of President Burdett in fitting up this room. Among the furnishings of the room are the Edison Phonograph, Multigraph, Elliott-Fisher Billing and Adding Machine, Burroughs Adding Machine, Tabulating Machines, and other devices. This progressive spirit is indicative of Burdett College.

THEATRES

Tremont Theatre—On Monday, January 28th, Miss Henrietta Crossman will come to the Tremont Theatre with her new comedy "All of a Sudden Peggy," a London success which at the Duke of York's theatre last year ran the greater part of the season. The popularity of this comedy achieved in London has been extended to this country this year, as wherever Miss Crossman has presented it, there has been enthusiastic favor. "All of a Sudden Peggy" is modern, with scenes laid in London. The author, Ernest Denny, has earned a reputation for bright wit, keen satire and for creating amusing characters. The chief person is Peggy O'Mara, an Irish girl of excellent character who, opposing her mother's cherished project to marry her to Lord Anthony Crakenhorpe, puts into effect a strategy by which her mother marries the man herself. The comedy is clever and entertaining. Its action is brisk and amusing. It is said to be one of the best plays of recent years, while Miss Crossman as Peggy O'Mara has added another triumph to her long list of successes. The usual matinee Wednesday and Saturday will prevail during her short stay at the Tremont.

Keith's Theatre—It was rather a hard task to find a head-liner to succeed Houdini, after his remarkable engagement at Keith's, but the problem has apparently been solved by the engagement of Volta, the "Electric Wizard." Volta made his first appearance in this country in New York, a few weeks ago, and created a veritable sensation. He is seemingly immune to electric currents, his act consisting in acting as a conductor for powerful currents, with which he performs many remarkable stunts. Another leading feature will be Ethel Levey (Mrs. George M. Cohan), who has occupied considerable space in the public prints of late. She has a very dainty new specialty, made up of original songs and songs written especially for her. Williams and Tucker, who are to play their latest sketch, "Skinner's Return"; the Duffin-Reddy Troupe four great athletes in a remarkable blackface casting act; George Wilson, the favorite blackface comedian, of "Waltz Me Again" fame; Juliette Pierpont, an English vocalist, of great reputation; Melville Ellis, with his unique "piano-logue"; Wm. Inman and company in a character skit, and the Garteille Brothers skit-comedians, will be among the head-liners. The Craig's musical acts; the Polots, jugglers; the Wood Brothers, Roman ring performers; Wise and Milton, in a novel specialty, "Old Songs Made New"; and the Kinetograph, will complete the bill.

Prize Drill

"The Clavin guard is one of the few companies in this state in which every man has qualified in marksmanship during the past year," said Col. William H. Oakes in presenting the prizes won in the annual prize drill of Co. G, 5th regt., M. V. M., in the Newton armory last Monday night.

The first prize was the Pulitzer medal which is competed for annually and was won by first Sergt. Arthur G. Muldoon. The second prize was won by Sergt. William W. Love and the third by private Richard J. Davis. The annual drill was witnessed by a gathering of spectators which taxed the capacity of the old armory.

The squads were drilled by Capt. George F. Guilford, First Lieut. George H. Daniels and Second Lieut. George S. Coulter. The judges were Capt. P. J. McGrath of the staff of the 9th infantry, First Lieut. Frederick M. Kendall of the staff of the 6th infantry and First Lieut. George T. Jones of Co. B, 6th infantry.

When presenting the prizes Col Oakes also complimented the men very warmly upon their efficiency during the tour of duty to Ottawa last summer and while in camp. His remarks brought out great applause.

Among the guests of honor were Commander Montgomery of Charles Ward post 62, G. A. R., Capt. J. D. Nichols of Boston, Lieut. Waterman of Col. Oakes' staff, Lieut. Wilson of troop D, Lieut. Glover, Col. James G. White of the governor's staff and Capt. John Ryan.

The decorations were most artistic. Following the drill there was dancing until after midnight. The floor was in charge of Lieut. George S. Coulter as floor marshal, private James A. Sennott as floor director, floor director, and the following aids: First Sergt. Arthur G. Muldoon, Quartermaster-Sergt. Ames B. Johnston, Sergt. Christopher J. Farrell, Sergt. M. Joseph Kelley, Sergt. Joseph J. Greene, Sergt. William W. Love, Corp. David H. Kerr, Corp. Thomas J. Regan, Corp. Frederick W. Keyser, Corp. Edward A. Greenwood, Corp. Albert H. Randall, Corp. James W. Hopkinson, Corp. George W. Young and musician James A. Higbee.

The committee of arrangements consisted of Lieut. George S. Coulter, Sergt. William W. Love, Corp. Edward A. Greenwood, private James A. Sennott and private Howard E. Reynolds.

Electrify The Newton Circuit

The Boston Transcript had the following editorial recently, which is of especial interest to residents of this city:

In that part of the suburban service of the Boston & Albany railroad, popularly known as the Newton Circuit, appears one of the best opportunities for the substitution of electricity for steam power which the whole country affords. Reports are coming from many directions of progress towards the electrification of old steam roads, either in contemplation or actually under way. It is doubtful if a field which is ripe for such a harvest than this one can be discovered. The reasons for this lie in the mechanical possibilities of the improvement quite as much as in its prospects of increased public usefulness.

Coal moves inexpensively by water, but at a considerable cost on land. It would be possible for the Boston & Albany to establish a power plant on the Charles River, not far from the present Faneuil station, to which coal could be brought on the Charles by barges. The water of the stream would also be convenient for condensation and other uses in the manufacture of electricity. Moreover, observers of electrical possibilities assert that a power station there located could virtually perform the service of two ordinary power stations, since its product could be applied not only directly to the line there, and also be wired a short distance across country, to some point in Brookline on the other arm of the circuit. A straight line of railroad of that length would probably need two power stations, but because the circuit is kite-shaped, one plant at Faneuil would readily feed it with electricity at two points nearly equidistant from the extremities, a great piece of good fortune for the railroad company.

Such a service could run electric cars on a five-minute schedule, singly in the dull hours, and in trains of two or three cars in the rush hours. Because electric cars stop and start with so much more ease than a steam train, getting more readily under full headway, it would be possible to open many new stations along the route for the greater convenience of the public. After each express train, from Riverside in either direction, making the present stops, could be dispatched an accommodation train. The possibilities which thus open out are enormous. Newton and Brookline and those wards of Boston which are on the "circuit" would experience a surprising growth, it may safely be predicted, if the New York Central management would put this part of the Boston & Albany on an up-to-date modern basis. Particularly would this be true of the newer parts of Newton, where the area is ample, and its present development is only retarded by inadequate facilities for getting to Boston. A shorter walk to the station would help greatly, even were no reduction made in the train schedule. Much of the business that now goes by the street cars could also be recalled by the railroad.

It may be assumed, so experts say, and experience in other parts of the country supports this view, that the only thing which prevents this transformation today is the disinclination of the present New York Central management to invest the money necessary for this new installation so long as existing locomotives and cars are doing the business in a passable or tolerable manner. How to force the hand of a public service corporation in a situation like this presents a rather delicate problem. If it should prove true that the Albany desires to rehabilitate the Park Square Station as its terminal, and seeks legislative permission to do so, change and transformation would then be in order, and our lawmakers would certainly insist that the electrification of this loop be made one of the elemental conditions of the arrangement.

But the prospects of improvement should not rest wholly upon the likelihood of this change in terminal, which in many respects would be undesirable. The day of a suburban electric service was anticipated in the construction of the South Station by its provision for looping cars in the basement. These possibilities should now receive from the Central management most serious consideration. Our own Railroad Commissioners might well make a study of the problem to see whether a legal mandate requiring the change in the near future would be an injustice to the road or constitute any unwarranted invasion of its vested interests.

Literary Notes

In the February number of Suburban Life Mrs. Elizabeth Stuart Phelps Ward pays the highest compliment to living on the city's borders in the following words: "Topographically speaking, the suburban life is the ideal life. Mentally and spiritually, the same noble adjective holds. To have the rest-cure of the country, and yet be able to receive the mind-cure of the town—this is the true system of treatment for soul and body. In many (not in all) human relations, we get what we give. In the Nature relations we get more than we give. We are forever pensioners on the bounty of beauty, and beggars at the hand of peace. To set the face toward the horizon is to turn the heart to the realities. We are what our homes are, and we should root these like the grass, and in it. Our roofs should look up into the open skies, and draw from them that quietness which is the lost art of our restless age."

Newton Man Makes Record

In the closest and best played basketball game seen in this city this season the Newton Y. M. C. A. team defeated Brockton Y. M. C. A., 17 to 13, Wednesday night in the association gymnasium.

Last week Brockton Y. M. C. A. won from Newton Y. M. C. A. at Brockton, and arrangements will now be made for a game to decide the superiority of the teams. Wednesday night's contest was remarkably free from fouls. At the end of the first half the score stood 9 to 3 in favor of Brockton, but in the second period the local players took a spurt and put up a remarkable contest. Groggin was the star player for Newton, while for Brockton Chase and Stack excelled.

In the second game in which the Y. M. C. A. second team won from the Highland A. A. of Cambridge, 60 to 9, Hanson, Newton's right forward, made a new Y. M. C. A. record of baskets from the floor by throwing 23. The Newton team had everything its own way from the start. For his work Hanson received warm applause. Previously the Y. M. C. A. record for baskets from the floor was 22. For the visitors Bryant and Russell played the best game.

Leonard-Richards

A wedding which interested the society folk of the whole city was that of Miss Ruth Richards, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Richards of Newtonville and Mr. Robert J. Leonard, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Leonard of West Newton. The beautiful Unitarian church at West Newton adorned with laurel, palms and white lilies was filled with the many friends of the young couple Wednesday evening and the nuptial knot was tied at eight o'clock by Rev. Julian C. Jaynes, the pastor of the bride, assisted by Rev. Harry Dewey of Brooklyn, N. Y. The bride was gowned in an empire dress of white silk tulle, trimmed with white satin bands and lace. She wore the conventional veil and carried a shower bouquet of valley lilies. She was escorted to the chancel and given away by her father. Miss Majorie H. Coats of Springfield was the maid of honor and wore pink chiffon, cut empire, with pink lace and ribbons and carried sweet peas. The bridesmaids wore empire gowns of white chiffon and lace with pink and silver girdles and carried pink roses. They were the Misses F. Lydia Dennison of Newtonville, Dorothy Howland of West Newton, Mildred Towne of New London, Ct., Mary Davidson, Catherine Darsie and Carrie L. Scott of Pittsburgh, Pa.

Mr. Edgar W. Leonard of West Newton, brother of the groom was the best man and the ushers were Messrs. Charles R. Leonard and Frederic K. Leatherbee of West Newton, Edwin M. Richards of Newtonville, William T. Glidden of Brookline, George S. Leonard of Boston and C. Glidden Osborne of Cambridge. A reception immediately followed the ceremony at the beautiful home of the bride, 47 Kirkstall road, Newtonville, which was tastefully decorated with asparagus and southern smilax, orchids and other flowers. Mr. and Mrs. Leonard were assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. Richards and Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Leonard.

On their return from a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Leonard will reside at 47 Kirkstall road.

THEATRICAL TEMPESTS.

The Way a Rainstorm is Produced on the Stage.

Probably not more than one person in a hundred stops to consider how a rainstorm is produced on the stage. Few perhaps have ever given the subject any serious thought.

During the coming up of the storm there is seen vast clouds of dust, the wind blows a gale, and suddenly the rain comes down in torrents. It is an effect so natural that one almost imagines the elements are genuinely on the warpath. Yet, though the rain is real water, not a person is actually drenched, because the water comes down at the very front of the stage, while the players are well back and not at all exposed to its moisture.

It might be thought that to produce a storm many intricate bits of machinery would be necessary, yet such is not the case, for the simplest devices produce the effect desired. These are some gas pipes punctured by myriads of holes, through which the water runs from small barrels, each about half full, at either end. The sound of the wind is made by a revolving barrel which touches a heavy piece of canvas in its rounds. The thunder effect is caused by the artistic manner in which a man beats a bass drum, and the gusts of dust are blown across the stage by an electric fan. The flashes of lightning come from an electric battery connected by wires which when placed in contact throw out the dazzling flashes. A metal plate, which had been specially prepared by first being heated to white heat and then scratched by a knife, is placed in a calcium light machine and gives the effect of lightning in the distance.—New York Mail.

POETICAL DEATHS.

Welcoming the Grim Reaper With a Greeting in Verse.

There have been numerous instances of poetical deaths. The Emperor Adriani made a poetical address to his own soul as death was casting the seal of final silence over his lips, and Marguerite of Austria while almost within the grasp of death in a terrible storm at sea calmly sat down and composed her epitaph in verse. The ship weathered the gale, however, and the epitaph was not needed.

Philip Strozz when imprisoned and awaiting death on the gallows resolved to commit suicide. Before he killed himself he carved with the sword upon which a few minutes later he impaled himself the following verse from Virgil on the wall: "Kiss some avenger from my blood."

The Marquis of Montrose when he was condemned to have his limbs nailed to the gates of four cities said that he was sorry that he did not have enough limbs to nail to all the cities in Europe, and this he put into beautiful verse as he was walking to his execution.

Patric, a poet of Chen, finding himself at the door of death, composed a poem, and De Barreux, it is said, wrote while on his deathbed a well known sonnet which was soon afterward translated into English.—New York Tribune.

England's Historic Miser.

John Camden Neild, whose magnificent bequest to Queen Victoria supplied the funds out of which the prince consort built the present Balmora castle, deserves a place among the great misers and was as remarkable a man as any of them. He was educated at Eton and Trinity college, Cambridge, and was a barrister at Lincoln's Inn. At the age of thirty-four his father's death placed him in possession of a fortune of £250,000, and from that moment he became a confirmed miser. Neild lived at 5 Cheyne walk, Chelsea. His big house was so meekly furnished that it did not even boast of a bed. Two old women, who did his chores, and a black cat were his sole companions. When he visited his large estates in the Midlands, which he did frequently, he generally walked unless he could get a lift for nothing, and he was not even above taking a gratuitous seat on a dung cart. Sometimes he was compelled by the weather to take a seat on the stagecoach, and there he would sit outside, shivering and dripping, for he never wore a greatcoat, an object of commiseration to his fellow passengers.

Lincoln's Rebuke.

The saying that there are few honest lawyers did not hold true in the case of Lincoln. A man once called to retain him on a suit.

"State your case," said honest Abe. "The man did, and then Lincoln said: 'I cannot represent you, for you are wrong, and the other party is right.'"

"That is none of your business if I employ you," said the client. "I pardon me," said the man who afterward became president; "my business is never to defend wrong. I never take a case that is manifestly wrong."

"Well, but you can make trouble for the other fellow." "Yes," said Lincoln, "I can set a whole community at loggerheads. I can make trouble for this widow and her fatherless children and by so doing get you $800 that rightfully belongs to her, but I won't do it."

"Not if I pay you well?" "Not for all the money you are worth," was the reply.

A Warrior Too.

The wooden boards that had marked the graves in a certain rural cemetery rotted off and were raked up in the spring cleaning. Consequently on Memorial day when the delegation from the G. A. R. arrived with flags and appropriate floral decorations for their departed comrades the decorating committee found itself somewhat in doubt as to which grave belonged to Captain Blodgett and which to Hannah Ericson. The mistaken delegates heaped their offerings upon Hannah's last resting place and departed. That afternoon Ericson, the widower, drifted, with the rest of his world, to the cemetery. When he saw the flag and the flowers above Hannah the astonished Swede fell to chuckling joyously.

"Well," he exclaimed delightedly, "dese faller bane poety smart too! Ay tank dat vor all right and som gude yoke on Hannah—he vor poety gude fighter herselluf."—Youth's Companion.

Devonshire Terrace.

Dickens was twenty-seven years old when, in 1829, he moved from Doughty street to Devonshire terrace. George du Maurier lived for some years in 1 Devonshire terrace. In this celebrated house Dickens wrote no fewer than ten of his books—"The Old Curiosity Shop," "Barnaby Rudge," "The Christmas Carol," "American Notes," "Martin Chuzzlewit," "The Hunchback of Notre Dame," "David Copperfield," "The Battle of Life," "Domby and Son," "The Cricket on the Hearth" and "David Copperfield." Devonshire terrace was situated at the corner of the Marylebone road and used to be called the smallest terrace in London.

It Varied.

The late Judge Saunders of North Carolina was noted as an angler, but he had a poor memory as to the weight of the fish he had taken. On one occasion a friend, trying to entrap him, said, "Say, Judge, what was the weight of that big catfish you caught the other day?"

The judge turned to his waiter and said, "Bob, what did I say that catfish weighed?" "What time yesterday, boss—in de mornin', at dinner or after supper?"

The Moon.

Astronomers long since came to the conclusion that the moon's surface is very hot during the height of the lunar day, which, as will be remembered, lasts two weeks, and very cold during the lunar night, which is equally long. These extremes of temperature reach their height at the lunar noon and midnight and are greater than any natural temperatures on the earth.

The Gaffer.

Bertie (to Eddie, searching for lost ball)—What are you looking there for? Why, I must have driven it fifty yards further! Diplomatic Caddie—But some times they hit a stone, sir, and bounce back a terrible distance.

Willing to See.

Mrs. Empeck—The philosophers tell us that I lessens often come to us in disguise. Mr. Empeck—with a sudden blow of spirit—Maria, when are you going to unmask?

The Pale.

Little Margie (cuddling)—What is the "pale of civilization?" Tommy? Smah Tommy—Oh, some new brand of face powder, I suppose.

The root of all discontent is self love.—Clarke.
